afford us an opportunity of applying a wise maxim
"Never to compare ourselves with others, unless it be to humble ourselves in our own estimation."

The Church in New York certainly sets us an example of offering the opportunity of assembling ourselves in public prayer.

To the Editor of The Church. THE PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION OF BAPTISM. SIR, - A practice prevails in some of the Churches of this Str.—A practice prevails in some of the Churches of this city, not, I am happy to say in all, of the congregation resuming their seats at the public administration of the Sacrament of Baptiam the moment the officiating minister turns to address the Sponsors, after the prayer which follows the exhortation upon the words of the Gospel of St. Mark. During the solemn admission of the babe into the congregation of Christ's flock, pregnant with interest as it is to every heart that can reflect on its import, we see the strange spectacle of the people sitting. During that significant ceremony in which the symbol of our redemption is marked on the Child's unconscious forehead, in token that hereafter it shall not be ashamed to confess the faith own solemn vow, promise and profession, the people sit. When the Minister turns in direct address to them, to exhort them to give the control of the control kive thanks unto Almighty God for these benefits, still they at. Lastly, when on rising from their knees, the rubric expressly directs all to stand up while the appropriate exhorta-tion is addressed to the Sponsors, in consistent disregard of it these they resume their seats. Surely, Sir, there is something very remiss in this, and deeply painful to any one who has felt the full beauty of our Baptismal Service, or realised its eminently congregational character. Can any parent who trusts that through the prayers of the Church, and by God's covenant, his child shall then receive, that thing which by nature he cannot have, acquiesce in the apparent apathy which chains the conhave, acquiesce in the apparent apathy which chains the congregation to their seats while those prayers are offered, and which cannot even be aroused to give an audible assent to them. I believe it I believe it may be laid down as a general rule that congrega-tions are never to be seated while the minister is addressing em, or any portion of them; and that where, as in the earlier part of the baptismal service, the Rubric does not happen to say that they are to stand, it is because the propriety of doing so is too obvious to require a direction. "When we make a profession of our faith," says Hooker, "we stand; when we acknowledge our sins, or seek unto God for favour, we fall down; because the gesture of constancy becometh us best in its the connection between the frame of our minds, and the posture of our bodies, surely there needs nothing more to satposture of our bodies, surely there needs nothing more to satisfy any one who chooses to be convinced that the practice in question is unsuitable and irreverent. However, I began with the intention chiefly of referring the question to a competent authority: and have no call, and possibly no right, to enlarge upon it myself, but commending the subject to your consideration,

I remain, Sir,

A LAYMAN.

AMHERSTBURG PAROCHIAL BRANCH ASSOCIATION. At a Meeting of the Amherstburg Parochial Branch of 1849.

The Rev. Frederick Mack, Rector, in the chair. After the prescribed prayers and preliminary observa-

adopted:—
The Parish of Amherstburg presents many features which entitles it to the sympathy of their fellow Churchmen. It has many untoward circumstances to endure; to mention the most prominent, the constant removal of numbers of the congregation which weakens its numerical strength as well as diminishes its resources. The majority of the permanent residents and landholders are Romanists, and the remaining minority constituting the protestant population are divided into various sects and denominations. Notwithstanding these untoward circumstances, the little band of Churchmen, although as struggling with very limited means, give proof that they are not hearers of the Word only, but doers of the Word, as will be apparent from the circumstance of there being a weekly offertory at Christ Church. The quarterly collections in aid of the funds of the Church Society are regularly made. The Parochial Branch has been some years established, and remitted its quota to the Parent Society, and this year the Church has been newly roofed at a considerable expense, whilst it remits a larger sum than any previous year in aid of the funds of the Parent Society. And thus in proportion—as difficulties and obstacles impede, shall we be enabled by increased energy and zeal to surmount them, and evince that man's extremity is God's opportunity. "Let us not be weary in well-doing, for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not."

The following resolutions were passed:-Moved by Mr. Paxton, seconded by Mr. Noble, and Moved by Mr. Paxton, seconded by Mr. Poble, and

It is sad to think that the peasantry of British Guiana should be pre-eminent in crime; for we must say that one of the newspapers from the other colonies report such horrid offences as the Demerara negroes have been convicted of.

That in the extensive immigration of our people to the once "magnificent Colony," they inflicted upon themselves the examples of some of the worst characters amongst us, we have no doubt, and they are probably reaping some very bitter fruits from their attempt to deprive the proprietors of this Island of their labourers. IS YOUR LIVER DISEASED? You may find relief, if you but try in time. New Jersey, Bordentown, Oct. 25,1845

Dear Sir-I am well aware that persons of every age and sex, and condition in life, in every part of the country, have used and been benefited by DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

My own life has been saved by it. My father's and my mother's family were both consumptive. My father, mother, and a sister, died with that fatal disease. For some years, I have been predisposed to it myself. About one year ago I was quite sick for a number of weeks, confined to my bet when the pain in my side would allow meto lay. My physician pronounced my disease liver complaint; my liver was very much enlarged—I raised blood several times; the pain in my side was so severe that the cars passing in the street by the door affected me. I was cupped, bled, and had various other remedies applied, but all to no purpose; I got no relief. At last my physician said he could not cure me. I expected to die soon, but providentially I heard of, and obtained, a bottle of your Balsam, which relieved me at once. I was encouraged to persevere in using it, mult I took four or five bottles, which saved my life and cured me. My health is now good. For liver complaints I believe it is a most certain cure.

Signed, I am acquainted with Mrs. Betchel—her statement is true. Price one dollar a bottle, or six bottles for five dollars,
