

The Gurney-Oxford is prompt

No matter what comes or goes—meals we must have.

The preparation of meals comes round three times a day.

Every housewife wants to know that she can depend on her stove absolutely; she wants to know that there is no element of chance or likelihood of mishap in her cooking arrangements; that meals will be ready promptly on time.

The Gurney Economizer is an assurance against accident and mishap in cooking. It is a simple device and found only on the Gurney-Oxford. One lever controls everything. The fire can be slowed down for hours and revived in a few minutes. An arrangement of flues makes the Gurney-Oxford Oven always uniformly heated—the Gurney-Oxford Oven is never to blame! It will make a good cook a better cook; it does more than its share towards making every meal a success and a pleasure.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

Something to Think About.—How much would you be worth if you lost all your money?—Life.

Proved.—"Do you believe in luck?" "Yes, sir. How else could I account for the success of my neighbours?"—Detroit Free Press.

Consolation.—Husband—"What! The fifth summer hat! This is outrageous." Wife—"Never mind, dear, fall will soon be here."—Meggendorfer Blaetter.

Described.—A Philadelphia lawyer and connoisseur was describing some of his experiences in search of curios. "I once entered a shop," he said, smiling, "and the salesman pointed out to me a dilapidated chair. 'That there chair, sir,' he said, impressively, 'belonged to Louis Cross-eye, King of France.' 'Louis Cross-eye?' said I. 'Why, there's no such person.' 'Oh, yes, there is, sir,' said the salesman, and he showed me a ticket marked 'Louis XI.'"

Knew How to Do It.—"Lady," said Meandering Mike, "would you lend me a cake of soap?"

"Do you mean to tell me you want soap?" "Yes'm. Me partner's got de hiccups an' I want to scare him."—Wareham Courier.

As Usual.—Judge—"You say the man died a natural death?"

Witness—"Yes, your honour." Judge—"But I thought he was shot?" Witness—"So he was, judge. But he was practising on the trombone at the time."—Yonkers Statesman.

That New Party Emblem.

THE Lioness would do quite well,
The Broncho, too, is spry;
But the Belgian Hare can runlikel,
And it sure do multiply.
—Chicago Tribune.

Well Said.—She—"Do you get a rest every summer, Mr. Jones?"

He—"Oh, yes. You see, I'm only in business; I'm not in society."—Boston Transcript.

A Quick Thinker.—Boss—"Young man, this is the third time, to my knowledge, that you've buried a grandmother."

Boy—"Well, you see, boss, my grandfather was a Mormon."—Brooklyn Life.

Candid.—"So the appendix is useless, then, doctor? We could live without it?"

"Well, the patients, perhaps, but not the surgeons."—Pele Mele.

Hard.—Maud—"Beatrice has lost twenty pounds lately, her new gowns are perfect successes, her sweetheart proposed to her last night, her rich uncle died yesterday and left her a million, and now she has to go to his funeral to-day and try to look sad."—Harper's Bazar.

Keen.—Somebody had mentioned the fact that the father of Woodrow Wilson had been a minister in Virginia.

"And a very keen old gentleman he was, too," remarked the governor. "It was hard to get ahead of him. We used to have a horse in the family—not a very ornamental horse, but good enough. One day the nag was standing in front of the post-office and a parishioner said to father, jokingly: 'Your horse is looking rather frayed around the eyes, doctor. What's the matter with him?' Still I don't know but that he looks as well as you do.' To which my father replied: 'That's because I take care of my horse, while my parishioners take care of me.'"

Timely.—Gibbs—"I admire a man who says the right thing at the right moment."

Dibbs—"So do I, particularly when I'm thirsty."—Boston Transcript.

The Kalamazoo Loose Leaf Binder is easy to operate

The "KALAMAZOO" Binder will do everything that any other binder will do and do them better. It is constructed and operated on an entirely different principle from all other binders.

It is the only binder that does not require to be "padded" to a certain thickness in order to be workable. Sheets are inserted and removed in the "Kalamazoo" binder just as easily as in any other, and the wide, flat holes which fit over the thongs ensure perfect alignment. In addition to this, if they should work out of position while in use, the unique construction of the binder permits of straightening the sheets into perfect order before locking.

The "Kalamazoo" binder is recommended highly by scores of users throughout the country.

Write for Booklet "C1" and examine this before deciding on a Loose Leaf Binder.
