My dear Spotton:

Having read what you said in the House of Commons about my friend, J. S. McLean, I am taking the liberty of sending you his Annual Report as President of the Canada Packers. It is so clear and succinct a production that it is a piece of literature as well as a business presentation. I hope you will read it and am sure you will if you start.

J. S. McLean is a man I have known since he was about sixteen. He is not only one of the best business men in this country, but one of the most public-spirited men I know. I have never met a man quite so keenly and so whole-heartedly interested in Canadian agriculture as he is. I am sure you have the wrong slant on this man.

Yours very truly,

Arthur Meighen.
