

98; reinstates Talon, 101-2; honours Talon, 130.

Marie de l'Incarnation, mother superior of the Ursulines, 11; on the Carignan-Salières settlers, 48; on the girls sent from France, 54; and the Frenchification of the Indians, 93-4; on Talon's leaving New France, 96; her concern at Talon's delay in returning to New France, 106-7.

Marquette, Father, in exploring expedition to the Mississippi, 119.

Mazarin, Cardinal, 3.

Mézy, governor of New France, 6, 15, 16, 17; and municipal government in Quebec, 67-8.

Milet, Father, among the Onondagas, 95.

Mohawks, 25, 28; Courcelle's expedition against them fails, 26-7; abandon their villages on the advance of expedition under Tracy and Courcelle, 33-5; their subjection, 35-7.

Montreal, in 1665, 13-15; Courcelle's address to the Indians at, 105.

New England, proposes to join with New France in prohibiting brandy traffic, 82.

New France, state of before 1665, 1-2, 4-5; in 1665, 10; population in 1665, 15; an anomalous situation in, 20-1; census of 1666-67, 23; colonization and settlement of, 48;

revenue of, 44-5; beginning of shipbuilding in, 49-50; immigration into, 54; wives of settlers in, 54-5, 57-8, 59; colonists encouraged to marry early, 55; population in 1668, 60; domestic animals in, 60-61; administration of justice in, 62-4; commercial regulations in, 64-7; agitation in over the brandy traffic, 77-84; first ball in, 86; state of in 1668, 95-6; war with Iroquois threatened, 105; her influence in North America, 120-1; in 1670, 123-4; in 1671, 126.

Oneidas, negotiate peace with Tracy, 25, 28; ready to renew the war, 105.

Onondagas, negotiate peace with Tracy, 25.

Ononthio, origin of name, 115 note.

Outaouais, their relations with the Iroquois, 105, 109-10.

Patoulet, M., Talon's secretary, his letter to Colbert on Talon's non-arrival in New France, 107.

Perrot, Captain François Marie, sails with Talon for New France, 102, 108.

Perrot, Nicolas, interpreter with Saint-Lusson, 115.

Quebec, immigration to, 5-6; size, population, and buildings in 1665, 10; its notable citizens and settlements in 1665, 11-12; great meeting with the Iroquois at, 29;