ter In writing to advertisers please mention the Farmer's Advocate.

We all know how annoying it is to have horses lame and unfit for work, especially when the trouble does not seem sufficient to call a veterinary surgeon. Now, there is an easy and cheap way of treating stock right at home, without running the risk of blemishing the animal, so common when firing and severe blistering is resorted to. Gombault's Caustic Balsam, advertised in this issue, is highly recommended by all who try it.

The annual Western Optario Dairymen's

recommended by all who try it.

The annual Western Ontario Dairymen's Association meeting, to be held in Stratford, January 15, 16 and 17, offers a splendid programme by the best authorities to be had. Farmers and dairymen in all lines of the work, who can, should attend this important gathering, both to learn from and take part in the discussions. The only way to succeed is to keep up with the times, which is only done by coming in contact with the leading investigators and most practical men in the different branches of the industry. THE IMPROVED VICTOR INCURATOR Our readers will be pleased to learn that the Ertel Improved Victor Incubator and Brooder are now being manufactured in Canada. The accompanying-illustration shows the Improved Victor Incubator, as it appears filled with eggs and ready for use. Many incubators have been invented of late years, but only a few of them have proved successful, because of a lack of some of the most essential points of a good incubator are the supply of moisture and ventilation; in both of these the Victor is par excellence. The heat regulator is simple and unfailing, and the turning of eggs can be done without even opening the glass door. The Victor CANADA PATENT, JULY 17TH, 1894.

absolutely self regulating, is built by first class machanics, and of the very best material throughout. It is strong, nearly constructed and very durable. Its manufacturers claim that it is the easiest to operate of all incubators, without any exception. Every one is guaranteed, and from the excellent list of testimonials from users of the Victor, we are sure that our readers, who are desirous of securing an incubator, will do well to correspond with the manufacturers and patentees. Geo. Excel & Oc. London, Ont. Their illustrated catalogue, full of valuable information, can be obtained by sending four cents in stamps. Many of our readers are no doubt better acquainted with Excel & Oc. as the manufacturers of the celebrated Victor Hay Press which bears their name, and which so long ago became one of the standard implements of the American continent.
