Missionaries Burial Places Located.

A despatch from Winnipeg says:
It is probable that the burial spot of Rev. Futher Jean Pierre Aulneau, who was tortured by Indians and murdered in 1736, near Kenora, will be discoqured by the St. Boniface Historic Society, and respect paid to his remains at this late time. Archbishop Langevin, Rev. Father Cahill, Rev. Father Paquin, S.J., Rev. Father Telsweau and Rev. Father Stamand, have returned to the city after being absent of the past ther Stamand, have returned to the city after being absent of the past week on a tour through the district which is supposed to be where the missionaries and Frenchmen met their death. They were accompanied by Rev. Father Hartman, P.P. of Kenora; Rev. Father Thibandeau, P.P., of St. Charles; Rev. Father Meraule, P.P., of Keewaitin, and Rev. ther Bousquet, principal of the Kenora Indian school. From Kenora they went about fifty-five miles northwest, and for nearly a week examined the ground where the massacre took place, and where it is supposed the bodies were afterwards buried, with the result that they buried, with the result that they have practically found the resting place of some of their first missionaries. The location is about seven miles west of the northwest line from Kenora. There is a mound, and one side is shaded from the cold and one side is snaded from the cold winds, Around here had a store been enclosed by the rude stockade of early times. From various sources it has been learned by the society that the bodies had been buried near a chapel at Fort St. Charles, having a chaper at Fort St. Charles, having been taken there by a party of dis-coverers sent out to ascertain the fate of the missionaries. The party which has just returned feel sure that they have discovered the place within one hundred yards. Nothing more will be done until next year when another party will go out and inspect the location thoroughly and dig for some evidence to show where the bodies were buried.

Judge Prudhomme, of the society, accompanied the expedition and will submit his report to the society at a later meeting. Father Aulreau sailed for Canada

American Students Praised By Pope.

Their Singing Said to be Very Pleasing to the Holy Father.

The Rome correspondent of the New York Sun, under date of Aug. 17, writes as follows:
While the Pope was crossing one of the halls on his way to receive some American pilgrims one day this week he caught sight on Don Lorenzo Perosi, to whom he beckoned and with whom he exchanged a few whom he exchanged a few The director of the Sisting words. The director of the Sisting choir, looking worried and pale, told the Pope that his aged father was very ill. Perosi had just returned from visiting him in the country, where he had been insulted by an anti-clerical rabble in the streets.

"I am grieved, Holy Father," said the famous meester. Holy Faculty, Said the famous meesters. "I feel ashamed that I am an Italian."

The Pope tried to cheer the young composer. Paditing him on the shoulder hes said:

"Don't work too hard for the compensations and the children and the compositions."

ing function; get the students of the American College to sing instead of the choir."

the choir."

This reference was to the celebration of the anniversary of the Pope's coronation in the Sistine Chapel. Msgr. Kennedy, the rector of the American College, remarked that his students were going to sing with the regular choir. Msgr. Don Perosi has been training them for some time in the principles of the Gregorian chant, and the choir is considered the firest in Rome.

chant, and the choir is considered the firest in Rome,

Perosi is a strenuous advocate of congregational singing, or at least of mixed singing. On the day of the Cappella Papale all the Americans the Cappena Fapaia and the Archican students came to Rome from their summer quarters at Castle Gandolfo and occupied special tribunes opposite the choir. Their singing of the credos and other parts of the service was accomplished with great prefections.

Pope congratulated Msgr Kennedy, saving that the singing re Kennedy, saying that the singing reflected the greatest honor not only on the college but on the American Church. The students in the college, who number 150, come from every State in the Union. When they leave Rome their musical training enables them to take charge of a choir and is urquestionably a con-tribution in the work of hastening he Pope's reforms in church music

From Irish exchanges we learn that the severance of Sir Horace Plunkett's official connection with the Department of Agriculture is being made the occasion of an important movement, promoted in response to a widespread desire to pay him a personal tribute. The form which this mark of appreciation of his public services will take in zcordance with the desire of the recipient will be of a public nature, and indeed it will be unique. An influential committee has been formed to recognize in this way the great work which he has dome for Ireland during the past eighteen years. A sum of £1000 has already been contributed by a few members of the general committee who desire to furnish Sir Horace with a proof of the general appreciation of his unselfish and indefatigable devotion the industrial interests of Ireland. The committee were sensible that a purely personal testimonial would be contrary to Sir Horace Plunkett's desires. His views on the subject were elicited through a correspondence between Sir Horace and Mr. Win. O'Reilly, one of the hon secretaries of the presentation committee.

Mr. O'Reilly, with whom are taries of the presentation committee Mr. O'Reilly, with whom are as-sociated Mr. James Talbot Power, sociated Mr. James Tathot Power, Mr. P. J. O'Neill, and Mr. Harold Barbour, as hon. secfetaries, wrote on behalf of the committee informing Sir Horace that a number of his friends and admirers of his work were anxious to make a presenta-tion in token of their gratitude for his work. He expressed the desire of the subscribers that the presenta-tion should be in part personal to Sir Horace, and also to take a form Sir Horace, and also to take a form which they thought would be acceptable to him, namely, the promotion of the work in which Sir Horace had been engaged before accepting office. The idea suggested by Mr. O'Reilly was the founding of some institution "which would provide you with a headquarters and a second methods."

BETWEEN CANADA & UNITED STATES STO

At a conference recently held at Washington between postal representatives of the United States and Canada, the postage on newspapers passing from Canada to the States was not only increased to sixteen times the former rate, but it was decided to make Canadian publishers affix stamps to the papers instead of paying on bulk weight as formerly. This necessitates an increase in the subscription price of THE TRUE WITNESS to subscribers in the United states to $1.50 instead of $1.00 per year, as formerly.

Our friends in the United States will kindly take notice when sending subscriptions and renewals.
