

WOMEN AND GIRLS HELD BY ANAEMIA

Unless the Blood is Made Rich and Red Health Cannot be Restored.

Throughout Canada there are thousands of growing girls and women held in the deadly clutches of anaemia. Slowly but surely a deathly pallor settles on their cheeks; their eyes grow dull; their appetite flicks; their steps languid. Daily they are being robbed of all vitality and brightness. Their sufferings grow more acute if neglected, until the signs of early consumption become apparent. If your wife or daughter or sister complains of weakness, pains in the side, headaches or backaches; if her appetite and temper are uncertain and she is often low spirited anaemia has her in its deadly hold. What she needs is new, rich, red blood. Give her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People without loss of time, for they actually make new, red blood. They make girls and women well and happy, impart an appetite and steadily bring back the charm and brightness of perfect, regular health.

Miss Carrie McGrath, 26 Fenwick St., Halifax, N. S., says:—"I believe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills saved my life. Three years ago I suffered from anaemia in a severe form. I was all run down and as pale as a sheet. I could scarcely eat anything, and what I did take did not seem to nourish me. My hands and feet were much swollen and the least exertion would leave me breathless and my heart beating violently. I seemed to have pains and aches all over. I was so weak I could not even sweep a floor. At different times I was under the care of three doctors, but did not get any better. One doctor said I had dropsy and that my blood had all turned to water. My friends thought I was in a decline and that I had but a short time to live. I was completely discouraged myself, when one day a lady friend called to see me, and told me Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured her daughter of anaemia and urged me to try them. I decided to try them, and in the course of a few weeks felt somewhat better. I met the doctor one day and he remarked how much better I was looking. I told him it was not his medicine but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that were helping me, and he told me I had better keep on taking them. I continued to do so until I had taken another half dozen boxes, when my health was perfectly restored. I am more than grateful for what these pills have done for me and strongly recommend them to all weak girls."

Thousands of men and women, now well and strong, praise Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for having cured anaemia, general weakness, indigestion, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervous disorders, paralysis and the ailments of girlhood and womanhood. These Pills do this by making new, red blood, which feeds the starved nerves, drives out disease and strengthens every organ in the body. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WHAT HE WANTED.

"This dog," said the fancier, "is a perfect type of a setter."

"Well, perhaps he is," rejoined the prospective customer, "but what I want is a hunting dog, not a type-setter."

Are your corns harder to remove than those that others have had? Have they not had the same kind? Have they not been cured by using Holloway's Corn Cure? Try a bottle.

"I am afraid cats have a great dread of water," he said. "Oh, I don't know! Our cat seems to drink that milk the milkman brings us!"

"Mr. Brown is such a charming companion!" "Never noticed it. He generally says nothing." "Yes; but he says it so beautifully!"

"Truth," remarked the moralizer, "is stranger than fiction." "Yes," rejoined the demoralizer, "and the majority of men seem to be shy of associating with strangers."

"Johnny, you must comb your hair before you come to school." "I ain't got no comb." "Borrow your father's." "Pa ain't got no comb either." "Doesn't he comb his hair?" "He ain't got no hair."

Wife: "Fanny has given notice." Hubby: "Why?" (With a sigh) "She says you spoke in a brutal manner to her on the telephone yesterday." Hubby: "Yesterday?" "I thought I was speaking to you!"

It Has Many Offices.—Before the German soldier starts on a long march he rubs his feet with tallow, for his first care is to keep his feet in good condition. If he knew that Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil would be of much better service he would throw away his tallow and pack a few bottles of the Oil in his knapsack. There is nothing like it.

GERMAN RED TAPE.

The widow of a German officer presented herself at the office in Berlin for the purpose of receiving the pension due to her. As she had not in the necessary certificate from the mayor of the village in which she lived, to the effect that she was still alive. "This certificate is not correct," said the officer in charge. "What is the matter with it?" "It bears the date of December 21," was the reply. "And your pension was due on December 15." "What kind of a certificate do you wish?" asked the widow. "A certificate stating that you were alive on December 15," said the officer, with great firmness.
