

HOW DO YOU JUDGE A PIANO?

Musically inclined people naturally judge a piano by its tone—and that's why "Nordheimer" Pianos are found in the homes of so many musicians of note.

If you have an ear for tone-quality the remarkable beauty, sweetness, purity and volume, soothe "Nordheimer" will appeal to you.

We could explain at length the various mechanical contrivances which are incorporated in the "Nordheimer" piano to produce its unrivaled tone, but they would be understood by a mechanic only.

We much prefer you to judge this piano from what your own ear tells you about its tone—then you are sure to be satisfied.

Pleased to have you call at your earliest convenience and examine the "Nordheimer." The One Price System assures you a fair and square deal.

Our Mr. R. V. Carter will visit Chatham frequently in our interest and will be pleased to furnish you with any information you may desire. Correspondence addressed to him in care of the Garner House will receive careful attention.

A Woman's Back

How many aches and pains caused by weakness and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness.

If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening medicine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy of known composition, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of his and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by old Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equaled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take and candy.

Cleaning a Sickroom.
Most of us know how untidy a sickroom becomes and how annoying the dust of the sweeping is to the patient. To remedy this, said a trained and capable nurse, "I put a little ammonia in a pail of warm water and with my mop wrung as dry as possible go all over the carpet first. This takes up all the dust and much of the loose dirt. A broom will take what is too large to adhere to the mop and raise no dust. With my dust cloth well sprinkled I go over the furniture, and the room is fairly clean."

THE SNOW BUNTING.

A Feathered Songster of the Arctic's Treeless Wastes.

One of the most interesting of arctic birds is the snow bunting or polar singing bird. A native of Spitzbergen and Nova Zembla, its short, agreeable notes sound doubly sweet when heard in these treeless wastes. The birds build their nests in the mountain clefts or under large rocks, lining them with feathers and down. In winter their plumage is warm and abundant and especially fits them for the rigor of an arctic winter. During the breeding season and summer they live entirely on insects, particularly gnats, while in winter they subsist on moss, roots and seeds. Some winters less rigorous than others they are in abundance, but at times famine compels them to seek a more favorable climate, and they are then seldom found until they invariably reappear toward spring. These buntings are distinguished by a long claw on their hind toe, a structure which really enables them to run about with ease on the soft snow.

Of the other birds I may mention puffins, divers, loons, doves, gulls, skuas, burgomasters, kittiwakes, terns, swans, geese, hawks, eagles and every variety of ducks known to inhabit the northern shores of America and Europe, including the scoter, long tail, scup duck, merganser, goosander and raven. These delight in reveling and resting among the moss covered banks and shores and among grasses, and shrubs that exist about the polar willow with its horizontal roots and shrubs, for in this country the forests are more in than above the earth—Field and Stream.

SARTORIAL WRINKLES.

Brown Hats Reign Supreme—Brick Red Also Very Modish.

The brown hats for the moment are quite supreme. Only for a moment, though, can they count on their success, for the new shades of blue are so effective that it will not be long before every woman thinks it essential to her happiness to wear a blue hat with jacket of the same color. The gown itself must also be blue, but of a lighter shade. If so desired, it may be made over a lighter blue lining.

In innumerable and various ways fashion is dealing with brick red. It is seen as tiny taffeta lapels on the gowns of serious looking cloth jackets, as elaborate petticoats peeping from under black skirts, as tulle under the brims of hats and wherever embroidery, braiding and color are necessary.

Colored silk skirts with hats to match are again to be in fashion this year. Certainly the style is an effective one and at the same time is practical, for with a smart little coat and hat a gown that in itself lacks some quality that renders it ineffective can be transformed into a most charming costume. Last summer the fashion was attempted, but was so badly carried out that it met with no success. Now it is being revived again, but with quite mannish changes, and bids fair to be most popular.

The picture illustrates a dress of linen lawn for a little girl. It may be made of any washable fabric and will be found to be a most desirable style.

TREND OF LA MODE.

Some Fashionable Shades in Fabrics and Trimmings—Gradation Frecks.

Cedar brown is in several shades from the color of the bit of wood in a pencil to the richer shade of the cedar box. Leather color, according to Vogue, is taking to itself the yellow tone instead of the reddish shade that it might.

The ombre stripe, plaids, dots or figures this season, however, mean that the stripe or plaid is formed of lines that graduate in size instead of the color deepening or paling, the lines also placed closer together or further apart to get the effect of shading by this contrivance. In the dots or figures the rim or outline varies in width in some, and in others the sizes increase, but no difference is being shown in color.

Cotton velvets make charmingly fresh looking gowns both in all white and in the striped patterns of delicate colors. Blue and white, pink and white and green and white are so decorative that they almost trim themselves.

White frocks with touches of delicate coloring in their finish are suitable for graduation gowns.

The essential point is to choose a model that is suitable and to see that the details of the toilet are carefully matched up. Shoes, hosiery, wash, gloves, etc., in perfect accord and of nice quality make an unpretentious gown smart, while the smartest frock is spoiled by ill matched accessories.

The square Dutch neck is popular for girls with well rounded throats, and the others wear it nicely by filling the opening with lace or mull.

Embroidered and spotted muslins are again very much to the fore, and these make up prettily with very little trimming.

The cut shows a very tasteful gown of foulard having a ground of natter blue with rings of white. It is trimmed with black velvet ribbon and cream lace.

A GREAT TRIUMPH

Gained by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

The Doctors of Mount Clemens Institute Prove the Value of These Pills in the Case of Mr. S. Harris, Government Inspector of Elevators at Hamilton, Ont. From the Star, Dundas, Ont.

We were much pleased to see Mr. S. Harris, the well known Government Inspector of elevators, of Hamilton, in Dundas the other day greatly improved in health and appearance since last time we met him. As known to many of the Star readers, Mr. Harris has recovered from a long and severe illness, and is now quite able to attend his usual duties. From this long illness many predicted that Mr. Harris would never recover, and the fact that he is once more able to go around very nearly as spry as he did before he was attacked, is little less than marvellous to them.

In reply to our reporter, Mr. Harris related the early stages of the attack and subsequent sufferings which he experienced, and while he did not court publicity, decided that in the public interest he would relate the circumstances of his wonderful cure. About fourteen months ago Mr. Harris woke up one morning with a stiff neck; try as he would, and after applying all the remedies externally that he could hear of or think of, he was unable to get rid of it. The stiffness moved to the spine and shoulders, then to his hips, until it made almost a cripple of him, and it was with extreme difficulty that he could get out of bed at all. As for walking, it was out of the question with him. The attack became so bad that he was unable to put on either his coat, vest or hat. From time to time he called in various medical men, none of whom were able to give him much relief. It was almost impossible for him to raise his feet from the floor, and all pronounced his a severe case of muscular rheumatism, giving him little encouragement as to his ultimate recovery.

However, one medical gentleman finally recommended the baths, and as a last resort Mr. Harris decided to follow his advice, and went to Mount Clemens, Mich. As is customary with all patients, Mr. Harris had to undergo a thorough examination in order to determine the system can stand this rigorous treatment. After several examinations had been made as to Mr. Harris' condition, the physicians there finally decided that he was suffering from muscular rheumatism at all, but that his ailment was of the nerves, and told him that the baths would do him little or no good, that he required altogether a different treatment. Mr. Harris placed himself in the hands of one of the physicians there, and what seemed quite strange to him, they did nothing for him but administer medicine in the shape of pills. Shortly after he commenced this treatment he began to improve perceptibly, and his appetite greatly improved. He began to walk around slowly at first, but soon was able to get around more than he could for a year previous. He was able to put on his coat and vest, and began to feel like his former self. His improvement was so rapid and perceptible not only to himself, but to others, that he was pined with all sorts of questions as to his wonderful recovery. The medical attendant was questioned as to the nature of the medicine which was being administered. Much to the surprise of Mr. Harris and other patients there, he was told that it was well known Canadian remedy, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and was asked to continue their use for a time on his return home. Mr. Harris is loud in his praise of the wonderful curative qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and consented to make his case public in the hope that he might benefit others similarly afflicted. Mr. Harris has long been a resident of Hamilton, being a well known builder of elevators, as well as Government Inspector of the same, so that his prominence and well known integrity is evidence that he is sincere in the statements he made.

What Women Wear in Iceland.
The usual dress of the women of Iceland, irrespective of wealth or station, consists of a long garment of wadmal, hanging from the shoulders to the heels and fastened with a bright clasp at the neck. Over this two or three blue or white petticoats are worn, while a blue cap, hanging down on one side of the head, completes the costume. On Sunday and festivals the dresses are both peculiar and striking in appearance. There is a bodice, ornamented with gilt buttons and black velvet. Over this is a tight fitting velvet jacket, or "treja," beneath two or three bright petticoats, blue or red worsted stockings and shoes of seal or shark skin. The whole is surmounted by a remarkable head-dress, very beautiful in effect. The "faldur," as it is called, is made of stiffly starched white linen, kept in place by innumerable pins and measuring often so much as two feet in height.

The Power of Piano Music.
A piano ceases to be an instrument and becomes a thing of life under the hands of a master. It breathes every human emotion under his fingers and no other instrument so perfectly lends itself to the many phases of musical expression. Of course the instrument itself must be a good one, such as the New Scale Williams Piano, foremost in Canada to-day.

INTERNATIONAL S. S. LESSON FOR TO-MORROW.

(By Dr. R. A. Torrey.)

Israel's Escape from Egypt.—Ex. 14, 13-27. Read the 13th chapter of Exodus.

Golden Text—"Thus Jehovah saved Israel that day out of the hand of the Egyptians; and Israel saw the Egyptians dead upon the sea shore."

We left the Lord's people, in our last lesson, standing at the passover feast, behind the sprinkled blood, their loins girt, their shoes on their feet and their staff in their hand, while the midnight cry of Egypt rent the air; then came their hurried departure. A vast multitude with their women and children and baggage to hamper them, easy to overtake and re-capture.

When Pharaoh learned their location, having been given over to the hardness and impetuosity of the carnal mind and heart, Satan soon had him repenting of his silly softness in letting such a valuable lot of slaves escape; his chariots and horsemen were summoned and pursuit began. They were soon overtaken, hemmed in by the mountains and the Red Sea; his army closed on their rear, the only apparent way of escape.

Man's extremity is God's opportunity. Israel was in despair; they did not know God well enough to understand that He never leaves poor souls half-saved who have been doing as He directed. They had to learn, as we have to learn, when man can do nothing, God can do anything and everything; and out of the darkness and terror of this dreadful night of flight, guided by the pillar of fire, they stood at sunrise on the banks of deliverance and saw the Red Sea roll over Pharaoh and his doomed hosts.

"Bount the loud timbrel o'er Egypt's dark sea, Jehovah hath triumphed, His people are free."

To every helpless, hopeless one, longing for deliverance from sin and Satan's power, God's word is, "Fear ye not, stand still and see the salvation of Jehovah; see the wonderful salvation in my beloved Son, Jesus Christ." If he only accepted and obeyed. It is only "look and live," then after the "stand still and see," comes God's "go forward" by this new and living and only way of escape and victory for us over the world, the flesh and the devil.
