Home Again from the Woods—and Bears

Large numbers of lumber operators are returning from the woods every day. The crow from the Nashwaak and Miramichi have about all returned. They report that in many instances contracts have been overrun: but in no case have any crew failed to get out the amount contracted for. Lumbermen say they see no bears; that such a blessing is reserved to those who get the bear bounty; and others to those who get the bear bounty: and others again step beyond these bounds and say that

A Wretched State of Affairs,

To the Editor of the Star. DEAR SIR,- I have been informed on Gibson trains met a painful accident Saturday last. The train, Conductor McQueen's, was going at its usual speed, and Sinclair in looking out to see if there were any obstructions in front, received a blow on the head from a block of wood, on the top of a pile, close by the road. He fell insensible to the ground, and the train passed on. Arrived at Hainesville Station, the fireman was missed, and the train put back. About two niles down the track they came upon Sinciles down the track they came upon Sinciles, who was standing up, and quite delires. He could not tell what had happened with, but his head was badly swollen and his foot, it is supposed by contact with the pile in falling, was badly lascerated.

Mr. Kennedy F. Burns arrived at Bathurst from England last week. Mr. Burns got a warm reception on his arrival, but while his employe, Mr. John Sivewright lives and moves, Mr. Burns is highly encouraged at the prospects in the lumber and his two was standing up, and out tell what had happened with, but his head was badly swollen and his foot, it is supposed by contact with the pile in falling, was badly lascerated.

We learn there is to be a gift entertainment this evening in the City. Fall the Government who from certain physical resemblances has been called the Tallyrand of the party, has been acting of late a very base part.
