Elsewhere the German trench was virtually destroyed by the preparatory bombardment, the surviving Germans, including Saxons, formally surrendering, through their officers, who met the British as they came over the ruined parapet. Parties of British bombers advanced to the next German line, which is the last on the south side of the Ancre, raided the position and returned to the trench previously captured, which by now had been consolidated. Infantry detach ments, working up the river bank from the western end of Grandcourt, got a footing in the and craters and took the lower end of the main street paralleling the Ancre, of which

London, Nov. 15 - Walter Paciman, president of the Board Trade, today announced that the government intended to bring about the pooling of engineering resources, in order to expedite shipbuilding. Measures would be taken, he said, to prevent growers making an undue profit on potatoes Mr. Runciman also foreshadowed drastic government action to prevent the use of sugar as a luxury. speech admitted that the time had arrived when the government supplies as a war problem, declar ing that the strain the country would have to bear next year would be mainly in connection with the food suppy. He was only able to express the sure and certain hope that however bad it might be the strain was still more severe in Germany and Austria. Dealing with the wheat question Mr. Runciman said the government had taken full advantage of the abundant harvests of Canada and Australia, which have been augamented by an enormous production in the Unitied States, butthat next year the country would have to depend, to a large extent, on Australia Arrangements with Australia, he added, were rather a question of stimulating not production but
