Fort Vaux at Verdun was evacuated on the night of Nov. 1st and 2nd in accordance with pre-arranged plans, according to the German military leaders, who indicated that they considered the sacrifices involved in its retention out of proportion to its value to the present German strategic scheme. The Associated Press representative was informed on the evening of Nov. 1, from German headquarters impending the evacuation, of the retirement of the German line to a position better adapted to defence and at the same time given the explanation of the withdrawal from Forts Douaumont and Vaux. It was explained that these formed such a material element of the defence of Verdun so long as they remained with unimpaired armament in French hands that they had to be put out of action in order to cripple the fortress. Once this was accomplished the ruins of the forts with the armaments removed possessed no such importance to the Germans and served chiefly as targets for the

FIGHTING RESUMED BY ITALIANS.

LONDON, To-day.

Fine weather has returned to the Italian front, where the battle has been resumed with violent artillery actions, says a wireless press despatch from Rome.

ANOTHER FRENCH GAIN.

PARIS, To-day.

Official: North of the Somme new operations carried out by us this afternoon between the Bouffes and Sully Sallesel enabled us to gain an appreciable amount of ground and 200 prisoners. Since yesterday the total number of prisoners we have taken in this sector amounts to 736 including 20 officers; we have also taken about a dozen machine guns.

A FRUITLESS RESCUE.

AMSTERDAM, To-day.

The German submarine placed a prize crew aboard the Dutch steamer Oldambt, which left the Hook of Holland yesterday. At six o'clock this morning a British destroyer appeared and recaptured the Oldambt, according to Rotterdam. The prize crew fired two bombs with the hope of destroying the prize, but Oldambt remained afloat, according to the Handelsblad until she reached the Hook of Holland, where she capsized and the cargo was lost.

A LIVELY ENCOUNTER.

LONDON, To-day.

An Admiralty official issued to-night tells of the capture from the Germans of the Dutch steamer Oldambt. It says the Dutch ship Oldambt was captured by the enemy on Wednesday night near the Nord Hender lightship and a prize crew put aboard. She was being taken to Zeebrugge when about daylight some of our light scouting craft overtook her. The prize crew attempted to blow the ship up and they with the crew took to the boats. The prize crew consisting of one officer and nine men were overboard and made prisoners. The ship was taken in tow by one of our vessels. Five German destroyers which arrived on the scene, presumably to escort the prize into port, were engaged and put to flight. The Oldambt was then towed for five hours until within 6 miles of the Hook of Holland, where she was taken in charge by the Dutch Government.

BRITISH STEAMER SUNK.

LONDON, To-day.

Lloyds report the British steamer Briery Hill sunk. The Briery Hill, formerly the Nauta, is registered at 1,115 tons.

SUBMARINES FOR DREAD.

NOUGHTS.

SANTIAGO, CHILE, To-day.

The British Government, it is announced, will turn over to Chile five American built submarines as a compensation on account of the delay in the delivery of Dreadnoughts which were contracted for in England by Chile and taken over by the British Government on account of the war. A number of subs, which had been constructed in the States for Britain, were refused delivery by the American Government until after the end of the war. These subs, have been guarded by American naval officers that the possibility of their removal from this country to the possession of a belligerent during the present war might be eliminated.

A GENEROUS OFFER.

LONDON, To-day.

The Carnegie United Kingdom Trust announced from its office at Dumfries an important scheme for the encouragement of British composers of music. The Trust agrees to publish at its own expense six original operas, concertos and symphonies, the author to receive all royalties.

WAR BUDGET.

LONDON, To-day.

After months of strife between the adherents of former Premier Venizelos and the staunch adherents of King Constantine over the question of Greece's stand in the war, a revolution of considerable proportions has broken out in the regions southeast of Salonika. Only meagre details are at hand, but these show that 600 insurgents, probably followers of Venizelos, forced 150 Royalist troops to evacuate Katerine near the Gulf of Salonika. They retreated upon Larissa, 46 miles southwest in Thessaly, where they are expected to receive reinforcements. The troops have received orders from the King to prevent all costs the advance of the revolutionists on the fighting fronts. Important successes have been obtained by the French in regaining Fort Vaux north-east of Verdun, by the Italians in a furled line in the Gorizia Carso sectors through which they are trying to reach Trieste, and by the Germans in Volhynia near Witozui, where the Russian position was stormed and 22 officers and 1,308 men made prisoners. The Transylvanian theatre is witnessing a continuation of the advance of the Austro-Hungarian forces to the Rotherthurn Pass, while in the Jull Valley the Roumanians are keeping up their pursuit of the Teutons. There is still no news concerning the operations in Dobruja, except the statement by Russo-Roumanian advance guards reconnoitring that Constantza had been shelled from the sea, but without success. In Macedonia, fighting continues in the bend of the Gerna River region with small successes for the Serbs. On the rest of the front bombardments are in progress, although the Berlin War Office officially announced that the Germans have evacuated Fort Vaux, thus placing this important strategic point once more in the hands of the French. The Paris War Office has as yet made no mention of this fact. To the north of the Somme the French made an additional gain between Les Bouffes and Sully Sallesel and have also taken two hundred German prisoners, making the total of men captured on Wednesday and Thursday in this region 736. East of Gorizia, and on the Carso plateau near Vallone, the Italians after the violent artillery preparation attacked the Austrian line and despite the resistance of the Austrians captured the former sector on the eastern slopes of the Tivoli and San Marco heights. Several hundred hills were taken in advance of two-thirds of a mile made east of Segitli. During the fighting 1,722 Austrians were captured, 6 guns, numerous machine guns and other war material.

MINING GREEK WATERS.

LONDON, To-day.

Telegraphing from Athens, Reuter's correspondent says the Greek Government has sent a force of 100 infantry and artillery to Katerina. The correspondent adds that Admiral Dufour, Commander of the Allied Fleet in the Mediterranean, has sent notice to the Greek Harbor authorities indicating a danger zone for vessels entering or leaving Piraeus Harbor. Certain circles in Athens, the correspondent continues, interpret this notice as meaning that Admiral Dufour has hitherto neglected to inform the Greek authorities of the precautionary measures taken, such as laying of mines, and it is even insinuated that the Greek steamers Argo and Kiki Iassias which were sunk recently struck mines laid by the Entente Allies.

MUST HAVE BEEN DONE BY GERMAN.

ATHENS, To-day. (Delayed.)

The French Admiral has issued a comment, saying that investigation shows that the sinking of the Greek steamer Angelika was due to an external cause, a mine laid by the Entente Allies, which owing to the measures taken by the Entente Allies cannot have been of other origin than German or German's Allies. The communication says that the investigation into the sinking of the Kiki Iassias, although it has not been completed, gives evidence for a similar conclusion.

ITALIANS' GREAT VICTORY.

LONDON, To-day.

The Times comments upon the Italian victory near Goritz: "General Cadorna has struck a shrewd and successful blow. The same master hand that secretly transferred a large army and ninety-three batteries from the Trentino to the Isonzo front in one week, has evidently controlled the subsequent operations. The influence of the new Italian success upon the Austrians will be considerable. For the fourth time since the beginning of August, General Cadorna has hit the foe hard; his prisoners already number a complete Austrian army corps."

HUGE LOSS OF SHIPPING.

NEW YORK, To-day.

One thousand eight hundred and twenty ships with an aggregate gross tonnage of approximately 3,223,534 have been sunk by belligerent nations during the past seven months of war, ending on November 1st, according to figures compiled from cable dispatches and published in the Journal of Commerce. The losses during October were larger than for any one of the preceding five months, according to statistics amounting to 127 vessels of a total of 227,118 tons gross.

ANOTHER WEEK TO WAIT.

WASHINGTON, To-day.

Conclusive evidence as to whether Germany violated her pledges to the States in sinking apparently without warning the British freighter Marina with the loss of six American lives is not expected by the State Department before the latter part of next week. Secretary of State Lansing, before leaving last night for his home in Watertown, N.Y., to stay until after the election, said that information was coming slowly to the Department and he would not be leaving Washington if anything final was expected immediately and that at least a week was expected to elapse before full evidence would be at hand.

MORE OF CONSTANTINES.

WASHINGTON, To-day.

Special dispatches from Athens printed in this morning's papers give sensational details of the alleged arrest at Larissa of a German officer who was proceeding in a motor car with a German legion mail pouch bound for the Bulgarian line. It is said the pouch contained important messages to military attaches at Sofia and Constantinople and also detailed a plan of the Suez Canal defenses. In addition, the dispatches say, it contained letters from the Greek King and Queen to the German Emperor.

MORE NOTES INEVITABLE.

WASHINGTON, To-day.

Secretary of State Lansing made a statement during the day explaining that the State Department holds that Germany's pledges not to sink merchant ships without proper provision for the safety of persons on board, applied to merchantmen armed for defence as well as unarmed vessels. Germany's last specific word on arming ships, however, was her statement, announcing that they would be treated as war vessels. The fact that the Marina carried 4.7 inch gun is expected to play a conspicuous part in the exchanges that will follow if it is established that she was attacked without warning.

STRANGE SITUATION IN GREECE.

LONDON, To-day.

According to special dispatches from Athens the Venizelos general defence army seized and occupied Katerina a few miles southwest of Salonika after a short fight with the Greek Royalist troops. A despatch to the Daily Mail from Athens says: "An extraordinary situation has been created by the action of the Officers of the Larissa railway, which was controlled by the Entente Allies in all the Royalist Military Officers to send reinforcements to oppose the advance of the Venizelists. That the Entente should permit the lending of arms to military measures against their own Allies, namely, the Venizelist troops, is considered incoherent and naturally surprised the Venizelists. The Venizelist army now numbers 30,000."

Citizens' Committee.

Discusses Income Tax—Factories Should be Exempt From Tax on Stock-in-Trade.

Chairman Mr. A. Soper presided at the meeting of the Citizens' Committee last night, a large number of the Committee being present.

A bill from the Board of Trade for hire of the rooms for 20 meetings at $2.50 a meeting—$50, was received and certified.

Business arising out of the minutes of the last meeting relative to taxes on motor cars was deferred until such time as further information showing the rates charged in various places abroad should be obtained, which would enable the Committee to arrive at a just decision. The Committee were of the opinion that a distinction should be made between the tax on a motor truck, used for commercial purposes, and the motor car for private use. The former was considered a necessity while the latter was a luxury. Sections 209 to 217 inclusive relative to "Gates and Sources of Income" were referred to a sub-committee consisting of Messrs. Soper, Kelly, Lindsay, Chafe and Joyce who will consider a new system of raising the revenue of the city, such as the income tax and other valuable suggestions.

Re section 218, dealing with the tax of twenty-five cents annually on every $100 worth of stock carried by every shop, store, warehouse or factory, it was decided that the word factory be expunged from the section, as it was the opinion of the Committee that by placing so many restrictions on our local industries, it would have a bad effect on labour and might be the means of throwing hundreds of factory hands out of employment during the slack seasons.

Mother! Give Child "Syrup of Figs" if Tongue is Coated

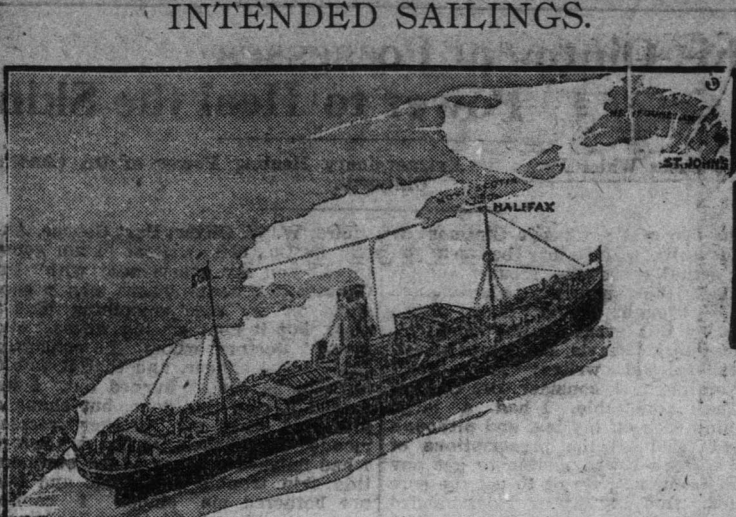

If cross, feverish, sick, bilious, clean little liver and bowels.

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver, and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels and the result is they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhea. Listen Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again. Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.
