Political Dementia

Since the defeat of the Coaker team in the Bonavista by-election the Fishermen's Advocate appears to have become altogether unbalanced, and its torrent of abuse of all and sundry who have dared to think for themselves and refused to come to heel at the call of their former chieftain has increased in volume and turbidness week by week.

Whatever allowance may be made for this outburst against political opponents, nothing can justify the outrageous attacks which are being made upon private individuals. In the last issue but one it made use of a wild rumor to concoct a conspiracy in which it attempted to involve members of the Government. The same article contained an unwarranted attack on a Minister of the Gospel. "Is it any wonder," says this enemy of free thought and independent action, "that the Methodist congregation of Bonavista is hourly confronting their pastor with the part he played on October 27th when the Boozie Law was endorsed by the Bonavista District?" What an awakening this prohibition clergyman of Bonavista will receive as the next twelve months pass into time!

It has been said that on former occasions Sir W. F. Coaker has not hesitated to make bitter attacks on clergy who have refused to come to heel at his bidding, but here it would seem that an attempt is made to undermine the esteem and respect in which a pastor is held by his flock. No doubt the parishioners will pay little heed to such utterances, at the same time it is an outrage that a gentleman made the object of attack by a politician whose passion is aroused because of a chastisement administered by the electorate.

It would show better taste if Sir William Coaker kept his grievance to himself. Kicking against the pricks is not likely to arouse public sympathy; these attempts to intimidate reveal only too clearly the real character of the man, and their only effect is to give the people of Bonavista cause to be thankful that they were saved the indignity of having to submit to the domineering of a bully. The issue of the Advocate published on Friday is a continuance in a more vitriolic form of attacks on private citizens and public officials. Some of the lurid remarks are in striking contrast to the scriptural expressions with which the pages are sprinkled, and the use made of the Creator's name in connection with the demands for vengeance does not savour of Christianity nor is it in keeping with one's idea of the ordinary rules of propriety.

Come to the Lecture Room of St. Michael's Church to-morrow (Wednesday) night and enjoy a pleasant evening. Mr. Colley is repeating his lecture on "New York," which will be illustrated by lantern slides. There will also be a musical programme, and at the close "the cup that cheers." All this for only 40c.—nov18.21

TRAIN NOTES.—Sunday's west bound express arrived at Port aux Basques on Tuesday. The express went out at 1 p.m.

Conditions North Best for Years

Mr. W. J. Budgen, of Knowlton's, who returned yesterday's express from a business trip up north in the interests of his firm, reports business better than for the past four years, especially at Fogo, Twillingate and Little Bay Island. At the latter place on Friday and Saturday last the firm of Messrs. Jas. Strong, Ltd. had quite a large number of men and boys employed handling codfish. At one pier S.S. Stourholm was loading codfish in casks; at another pier the tern schooner Humourist was loading codfish in bulk for Malaga; at other piers local schooners were discharging the season's catch making a very lively scene. Besides this they had every available space covered with fish spread to the sun, and a number of men were packing herring. They expect to handle four thousand barrels this season. Mr. Wm. Strong is one of the busiest men in the country as he superintends all outside work, including shipbuilding. At the present time the preliminary work for a schooner of one hundred tons is underway, and she will be finished during the winter. Their premises are well lit by a Delco electric lighting plant. All along the coast is the hum of activity and everywhere with increased prosperity content has returned.

Magistrates Court

Four drunks arrested last night were discharged.
 A 22-year-old labourer taken in for safe-keeping was discharged.
 Three school boys, ages ranging from 13 to 14 years, appeared before the Juvenile Court this morning charged with the following offences: (1) Larceny of a bicycle from the slaughter house of Patrick Casey, on Blackmarsh Road, valued at $30.00, on 14th November inst. (2) Larceny of three buckets of coal, valued at 80 cents, the property of Thos. Pottles, on November 15th. (3) Larceny of 1 pair laced boots, from schooner at Monroe and Co's wharf, valued at $10.00, by some unknown person. The boys who were second offenders having admitted their guilt were then sentenced to the penitentiary to receive three lashes of the birch.

Newfoundland Poultry Association

Secretary W. D. McCarter and Show Manager W. R. Butler are busy this week preparing for the Annual Poultry Show opening next Wednesday in the C. L. B. Armoury. Entries have to be completed by Saturday. The exhibition is under the distinguished patronage of His Excellency the Governor who will officially open the show Wednesday night at eight o'clock. The committee have extended their work in order to encourage the breeding of Newfoundland dogs, and prize ribbons will be given for straight haired dogs and the curly haired types. No other breed of dogs will be shown and many have already promised to enter their animals. The dogs will be shown Wednesday night, Thursday afternoon and Friday night. Another feature of this year's show will be the exhibition of silver and other foxes. Many folk have never seen live foxes and it is hoped to encourage more interest in the breeding of Newfoundland dogs and foxes and space has been allotted free to owners to show their animals this year. The Association has also been granted permission to hold their annual lottery. Prizes this year are three model poultry houses and birds complete, which will be shown in the Armoury. The committee has arranged with Spencer Club to serve tea during the afternoon and night for the convenience of visitors. Judge J. P. Landry of the Canadian Government College will arrive by next Monday's express to make the awards.

Listening in on Liner's Musical Evening

Last night Mr. Clarence Winsor picked up the Laureatean curtain from New York to Southampton and thoroughly enjoyed the musical programme that was broadcasted from the liner. Most of the items were dance music which continued until after midnight. The Laureatean reported barometer readings 30.00 with wind south and a smooth sea. Messages from Canadian cities were received and it was stated that another concert would be broadcasted to-night. Mr. Winsor is a nephew of the Minister of Marine and Fisheries and has recently returned from New York where he has been taking an electrical course.

HALIFAX, N.S., Nov. 17. News was received here to-day of the death in Tunbridge Wells, Eng., of Brenton Halliburton Collins, son of the late Enos Collins of Liverpool, N.S., who when he died in 1911, was said to be the richest man in British North America. On the death of his father, the late Mr. Collins, who received a large share of the estate, removed to England where he has resided since. Mrs. Laurie, widow of the late Gen. J. W. Laurie, now living at Oakfield, near here, is a sister of the deceased. Enos Collins was the founder of the Halifax Banking Company, and later the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

NEW YORK IN THE GRIP OF AN ARCTIC GALE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17. New York shivered to-day, the coldest November 17 in the city in the records of the Weather Bureau. The sixty mile freezing blast that swept in from the Atlantic to put the thermometers at 18 degrees above zero at 7 o'clock this morning, brought death and destruction with it. Two persons, a man and woman died as a result of the storm. The first of the winter ships pounding furious seas and bucking headwinds fought their way into port several hours late and wearing the year's first coats of ice, and small craft were swept to sea with their half frozen crews ashore. Less havoc was wrought with trees and window panes.

RAILWAYS HANDED BACK.

ESSEN, GERMANY, Nov. 18. The railways in the occupied area were turned back to Germany at midnight by the Franco-Belgian railway administration according to program as arranged in the carrying out of the Dawes plan without a hitch or untoward incident. Most of the German officials returned to their former quarters. The money changers' offices at the stations were closed, as German money will be accepted in payments for tickets. The railway bookstalls likewise have been turned back to the German concessionary tables, which will remain as they have been under the Allied administration until December 1st, after which extensive changes in the passenger and freight schedules will be put into effect.

SPANISH TROOPS WITHDRAWN.

MADRID, Nov. 18. The Spanish forces have evacuated the Moroccan City of Shehuan and in their withdrawal have reached Dar akoba, six miles to the North. The operation is described as the most difficult yet carried out in Morocco and only three of the Spanish troops were killed.

DESTRUCTIVE GASOLINE EXPLOSION.

WARNERS, N.J., Nov. 18. Two lives were lost, more than a dozen persons injured, two houses destroyed, and docks along the Staten Island water front here were laid waste last night when fire, following an explosion in an oil barge caused a loss estimated at $700,000 including 87,000 gallons of gasoline. The blast occurred shortly after six o'clock aboard barge No. 44 of the Lambert transportation Co. of New York, which was taking on a load of barge gasoline from the steamship William Boyce Thompson, owned by the Sinclair Navigation Co., also of New York, a subsidiary of the Sinclair Oil Co.

MARKET LETTER.

It is a habit among business statisticians to measure the progress of trade by indexes of production. Conclusions as to business activity are based upon such statistical exhibits as pig iron production, the state of employment and the percentage of capacity at which mills and factories are running. As a matter of fact, such exhibits present only part of a picture of business conditions. They do measure the rate of production, but they take no account of consumption. And production and consumption do not always keep in step. In fact, they are quite badly out of step at the present time.

Bank clearings and freight car loadings are positive evidence of a high rate of general production. But statistics of production show it to be far below normal. A high rate of consumption and a low rate of production can result in only one thing—eventual shortage of goods. For nearly six months, the production of goods has been very much below normal while consumption has been well above normal. The excess demand has been met from accumulated stocks of goods from the period of activity earlier in the year. It would seem that productive activity would have to pick up with rapidity to avoid a shortage of goods late this year or early in 1925. And shortages of goods make for good business.

When a person needs an article and has the money to pay for it, he buys it. The producer of goods, however, must conduct his operations with due consideration to possible future developments. The high rate of consumption and low rate of production in recent months, makes it seem probable that the election was a very large factor in keeping business quiet. For that reason trade reports will be of more than ordinary interest during the next few weeks. The overwhelming victory of the conservative party in England and of Coolidge in the United States would seem evidence that radicalism is on the wane throughout the world. This fact should go far toward restoring confidence and paving the way for a broad and substantial industrial revival.

IN LOVING MEMORY

of my dear mother, Carrie Vavasour, who died Nov. 14th, 1924. I do not forget her. I loved her too dearly. For her memory to fade from my life is like a dream. Lips need not speak when the heart mourns sincerely. For tears often dwell where they seldom are seen.

Friends may think I have forgot her. When at times they see my smile; But they little know the sorrow Which the smile hides all the while.—Inserted by his daughter Marjorie.
