

Presentation at Owen Sound.
Mr. A. D. Campbell, school teacher, of Owen Sound, (formerly teacher in the Georgetown Academy,) has been presented by the pupils of the class preparing for the Teachers' Examination, with a silver fruit basket, valued at $14. Accompanying the presentation, Mr. Campbell read the following address:— On behalf of the pupils of the Teachers' Class which has been under your instruction, allow me to present you with this fruit basket as a slight recognition on our part of the valuable instruction which you have imparted during the time we have been under your charge. We feel that you have had our interest at heart, that you have labored diligently for our success, and spared no pains to contribute to it. If our improvement has been equal to your desire and efforts to effect it, then our success is assured; and we trust that we have shown our full appreciation of your valuable lessons in our best and most earnest efforts to prosper by them. By this token we mean not a reward in the sense of remuneration, but a memento of affection and esteem, which we all feel as pupils towards you as our teacher." At the close, Mr. Campbell made a suitable reply, thanking the pupils for their valuable memento, and wishing them success.

The mail from Moorhead rarely gets into Winnipeg on time, and general dissatisfaction is the consequence. It is said that a letter received in Toronto from one of the Manitoba Mounted Police states that sickness prevails, principally scurvy, from subsistence upon salt provisions, eaten without vegetables. The letter also states that it is expected a battery from Kingston will be sent up as a reinforcement.

On Tuesday last a lady named Mrs. Van Wiermer, of London, and her daughter, were drowned in attempting to drive across the river Thames, in a buggy, the bridge having been carried away. In one part of the river was a deep hole, into which the buggy dropped and was overturned. The cries of the struggling women attracted a number of men, but they could render no assistance, and both ladies were drowned.

FOWLER'S PILES AND HEMORRHOIDS.—This justly celebrated remedy has more evidence of real merit than any other preparation for Piles in existence; the best evidence in its favour is that "never fails to cure," which assertion thousands who have been cured will vouch for and confirm. It also cures scrofula, salt rheum and all diseases of the skin. (See special notice.)

The conductor of the Quebec and Portland express, which left Montreal at ten o'clock on Monday night, is reported to have thrown a man named Frank McCarron, from the train, when within a few feet of Victoria bridge. McCarron rolled down the embankment, which is at this point steep and rugged, and was found by the police, to whom the affair was communicated, insensible, but happily escaped with no more serious injury than very severe bruises.

Marshall Wood has sent in his little bill for constructing the model of the Parliamentary grounds. It is $30,000. He estimates the cost of the work at $300,000. The cost of a marble bust of Sir John A. Macdonald in the Parliament Library is probably covered by this sum, though not mentioned. Unfortunately, it is not the only bust of that statesman which Canada has had to pay for.

TWELFTH JULY IN ORCHARDVILLE.—Our correspondent at Orchardville says that the Battle of the Boyne was commemorated in that place by a grand procession on the 13th inst., in which three lodges, with their bands, were represented. A sumptuous dinner at Irving's hotel followed, after which an oration was delivered by Rev. Mr. Dudley, of Durham. A large crowd was in attendance, and everything passed off peaceably.

Upwards of 18,000 female signatures, among them being those of Florence Nightingale, Harriet Martineau, Mary Carpenter, and Anna Gore Langton, have been attached to a memorial which has been addressed to Mr. Disraeli, praying him to support the Bill for removing the electoral disabilities of women. In his reply the Premier has acknowledged the honor paid him.

On Thursday, a man who was intoxicated tried a race with a Grand Trunk freight train, at Port Colborne, and succeeded in coming in ahead by just enough to save himself and the horses he was driving from being smashed. The wagon was badly damaged; the man was thrown out and narrowly escaped being thrown into the canal.

To Correspondents.
Write upon pages of a single size. Cross all your 'r's, and neatly dot your 'i's; On one side only let your lines be seen—Both sides filled up announce a Voracious Green.
Correct—yes, re-correct—all that you write. And let your ink be black, your paper white. For spongy foolscap of a muddy blue Betrays a mind of the same dismal hue. Punctuate carefully, for on this score Nothing proclaims the practised writer more. Then send it off, and, lest it merit lack, Enclose the postage stamps to send it back; But first pay all the postage on it too. For editors look black on "six cents due," And murmur as they run the offusion o'er. "A shabby fellow and a wretched bore!" Yet ere it goes, take off a copy clean—Writers should own a copying machine; Little they know the time that's spent and care.
In hunting verses vanished—who knows where? Bear this in mind, observe it to the end, And you shall make the editor your friend.
