"Oh, because of poor James and his frieads whom he used to bring here. By the way. Col. Quaritch," she went on, with a sudden softening of the voice, "you have been in Egypt, I know, because I have often seen your name in the papers; did you ever meet my brother there?"

"I knew him slightly." he approach.

"Melted down, I suppose, said the Colonel.

"No. that is the hard part of it. I don't think it was. It was hidden somewhere—I don't know where, or perhaps it was turned into money and the money hidden. But I will tell you the story, if you like, as soon as you have done dinner."

Accordingly as soon as the servant removed cloth, and, after the old fashion, placed the wine upon the naked wood, the Squire began his tale, of which the following is the substance:

began his tale, of which the following is the substance:

"In the time of James I. the De la Moll family was at the height of his prosperity, that is, so far as money goes. For several generations previous the representatives of the family had withdrawn themselves from any active participation in public affairs, and living here at small expense upon their lands, which were at that time very large, had amassed a quantity of wealth that, for the age, might fairly be called enormous. Thus Sir Stephen de la Molle, the grandfather of the Sir James, who lived in the time of James I, left to his who lived in the time of James I, left to his who lived in the time of James I, left to his son, who was also named Stephen, a sum not less than £28,000 in gold. This Stephen was a great miser, and tradition says that he trebled the sum in his life time. Anyhow, he died rich as Cræsus, and abominated alike by his tenants and by the country side, as might be expected, when a gentleman of his name and fame degraded himself, as Sir Stephen undoubtedly did, to the practice of usury.

"With the next heir, Sir James, however, the old spirit of the De la Molles seems to have revived, although it is sufficiently clear that he was by no means a spendthrift, but on the contrary, a careful man, though one on the contrary, a careful man, though one who maintained his attation and refused to soil his fingers with such base dealings as it Ind to Harold, she began to approximate the latest warming when he is going to ask any one to dinner."

'I don't know what sort of a dinner you will get, Col. Quaritch," she said; "it is so provoking of my father; he never gives one the least warning when he is going to ask any one to dinner."

'Not at all," he answered hurriedly. "It is I who ought to apologize, coming down on you like—like—"

CHILDRES SUFFERISO FROM SKIN DISTASES.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13, 1899.

MY DEAR MRS. AYER,—As one of the "Corps of Physicians" employed by the Evening World this summer, I had occasion to use your "Recamier Cream" and "Almond Icotion" for skin diseases, and found them in many instances most efficient, having cured several obstinate cases with your Preparations which had resisted all other treatment. In my opinion your "Cream" used in connection with your Soap and Almond Meal, surpasses anything I have ever used, and leaves nothing to be desired. I am ready to meet or answer personally any questions regarding your Preparations and the cases which I have cured by their use.

J. H. LOMBARD, M.D.,
No. 38 St. Mark's Place, New York City. NEW YORK, Nov. 13, 1889.

What the Recamier Prepartions Are and Why They Are To Be Used.

Recamier Crem, which is first of these world-famous preparations, is made from the recipe used by Julie Recamier. It is not a cosmetic, but an emollient to be applied at night just before retiring, and to be removed in the morning by bathing freely. It will remove tan and sunburn, pimples, red spots or blotches, and make your face and hands as smooth, as white, and as soft as an infant's.

pimpies, red spots or mothers, as white, and as soft as an infant's.

Recamier Balm is a beautifier, pure and simple. It is not a whitewash, and unlike most liquids Recamier Balm is exceedingly beneficial and is absolutely imperceptible except in the delicate freshness and youthfulness which it imparts to the skin.

Recamier Lotion will remove freekles and moth patches, is soothing and efficacious for any irritation of the cuticle, and is the most delightful of washes for removing the dust from the face after traveling, and is also invaluable to gentlemen to be used after shaving.

Recamier Powder is in three shades, white, flesh and cream. It is the finest powder ever manufactured, and is delightful in the nursery, for gentlemen after shaving, and ever manufactured, and is delightful in the nursery, for gentlemen after shaving, and for the toilet generally.

Recamier Soap is a perfectly pure article, guaranteed free from animal fat. This soap contains many of the healing ingredients used in compounding Recamier Cream and Lotion.

The Recamier Totlet Preparations ar positively free from all injurious ingredients, and contain neither Lead, Bismuth nor Arsenic. The following certificate is from the eminent Scientist and Frofessor of Chemistry, Thomas B. Stillman, of the Stevens Institute of Technology:

London to Washington and Return via Grand Trunk, New York Central and Northern Central Railway Lines.

The special excursion to Washington announced by the Northern Central Railway for Tuesday, April 8, presents doubtless the best opportunity ever offered to London's citizens of paying a pleasant visit to the national capital of the United States. The rate of $16 20 from London for the round trip, going and returning direct, or $3 additional to return via New York and the N. Y. C. and H. R. R. R., is very low, and the return limit of ten days makes the trip peculiarly desirable. Pullman sleepers will run through from Suspension Bridge.
