Still stranger was the famous loss of the recipe for the manufacture of diamonds, some fifteen years ago.

Herbert Warner, who alone discovered and held the secret of diamond and held the secret of diamond with the secret of diamond and held the secret of diamond the secret of diamond and held the secret of diamond the secret of rered and held the secret of diamond making, did not live to wreck the diamond industry as people thought he would, and the circumstances of the would, and the circumstances of the loss were mysterious and tragic. Inferior diamonds can still be produced artificially, but only at a cost of about ten times their value. Warner, after years of experimenting, was able to turn out a genuine diamond of large of a small fraction of the complete store's worth.

BRIDGE ACCIDENT

Structure Collapses and Precipitates 100 People Into River 40 Feet Below.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 1. - A section of the bridge which spans the Williamette River here, collapsed yesterday afternoon, precipitating more than one hundred people forty feet into the water. Three people are known to have been drowned, and it is feared that the list of dead will be much larger. Many fell on two small boathouses moored to a pier of the bridge immediately under the spot where it gave way. About 25 person were injured, either by striking on the boathouse, or by falling timbers. Many fell from the roofs of the boat-houses into water, but dozens of small boats and launches in the vicinity quickly picked them up.

The known dead: Minnie Raymond, aged 10; Lottie Cameron, aged 16; unidentified boy, aged 15.
Thousands of people had gathered to watch Clarence Lutz, an armless man, swim the river, which is about three-eighths of a mile wide. As Lutz was climbing out of the water, the crowd rushed to the south edge of "The curative qualities of Peruna the bridge in order to get a good view. as a cure for catarrh have been fully A section of the passenger walk gave way under the heavy weight, and the crowding, struggling mass of established by the use of the same most successfully by many of my people were carried down a distance acquaintances, and I can recommend of forty feet. any one who is afflicted to try it."
