"That Contemptible Little Army!"

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.] London, April 3 .- The period of rest from severe fighting which the Canadian division is now enjoying has been taken full advantage of by friends here to send out large consignments of acceptable articles. Each brigade received nine sacks of magazines and three sacks of Canadian newspapers last week, which were most acceptable, as was also a baseball outfit sent every brigade.

Now that the Canadians have all left Sallsbury, it is worth noting that 44 different concerts were given there, besides weekly picture entertainments for fifteen weeks and six hundred daily newspapers were distributed weekly. Similar provision is now being provided for troops at Shorncliffe, leave from camp being granted many men for Easter, but this kind of relaxation is not allowed to the same generous extent as was the case at Salisbury.

Rev. J. H. Boyd, who, as chairman of the mass meeting, forwarded the resolutions to Toronto, and to whom the replies of the Premier and Mr. Hanna were addressed, is expecting more definite answers within a few days. The resolution dealing with the local situation, and asking for departmental action to put into effect the will of the people by di-recting that six licenses be cut off, was sent to Sir Adam Beck as well as to the other two ministers, the opinion being that he, as the representative of the people of the city, should support the move to have their will made effective. ### COUNCIL WILL GO INTO PHONE "EXTRAS" WHEN AGREEMENT COMES UP THIS MONTH

Advertiser Finds That 18 Out of 30 Subscribers Called Pay An Extra Hour of $5 More Than Agreement Calls For - Large Charges Also Made On Extension Phones and "Buzzers," More Annually Than Devices Cost Company.

The city agreement says that the charge for residence service for exclusive phones shall be $20. Yet the company adds a tax of $5 for "long distance equipment." If you had the old style Blake transmitter and insisted upon keeping it you could get your phone for $20, but the company issues no more of this style, and everyone who installs a phone pays not the price agreed between city and company, but $25. And pays it each year, though the cost of the device is less than $5.

The Advertiser called 30 Bell subscribers. Eighteen were paying $25. Two were paying $20 for the old style transmitter. Ten were paying $20 for party line service, which means that two parties are served by the one line. The subscriber does not get an exclusive service with a party This means that the Bell Company charges those 18 subscribers $5 each annually for an instrument that does not cost $5 to manufacture! Why should the council permit the practice to continue? Also if you wish a buzzer attachment on your phone you pay $5 annually for a device that does not cost anything like the annual charge.
