

HUN TREATMENT OF BRITISH PRISONERS WILL SHOCK WORLD

When Tale Is Told, Says a Neutral Eyewitness.

HAS IMPROVED RECENTLY Because British Soldiers Stood Up for Their Rights Without Fear.

"One day the world will be shocked with some of the most dramatic, horrible and romantic narratives, the life stories of the English soldiers captured in the early days of the war, their gross ill-treatment, their escapes and their attempts at escape." The statement quoted is made by D. Thos. Curtin, a United States citizen, writing in the London Times of October 15. He claims to be the only official neutral with any large amount of eyewitness, first-hand knowledge of the British prisoners in Germany.

Mr. Curtin, as a neutral, was privileged to travel in Germany. Fortunately for him, his mission of investigation into conditions for British prisoners was quite unimpeded.

In the article in which reference has been made, Mr. Curtin continues: "The task of investigation was facilitated by the German policy of showing the hated English captives to as many people as possible. Your 30,000 men have been scattered into at least 600 prison camps. The British prisoners of the German army, it is not easy to find efficient guards for so many establishments. Your men are being constantly moved about. They are conveyed ostentatiously and shown at railway stations en route, where until recently they were allowed to be spat upon by the public, and were given coffee into which the public were allowed to spit. These are but a few of the ailments and abominations heaped upon them. Much of it is quite unprintable."

Can't Bully Them. Even several months ago, Mr. Curtin found that a change for the better was being brought about in the treatment of the prisoners. A "very decent German officer" connected with the military censorship department, told him that one of the reasons for this was the persistence with which the high-spirited Britisher would stick up for his rights. Again, he told him that English prisoners might be balanced by German prisoners of war was taken into consideration. "That incident was long ago," continues the writer, "it is important to relate that since the beginning of the battle of the Somme, it was correctly informed, a marked improvement has taken place in the condition of English prisoners all over Germany—not as regards food supplied by the authorities, because the food shortage naturally affects your prisoners as it does their guardians."

NO SETTLEMENT

G. T. R. Freight Handlers Still on Strike—No Tie-Up. The strike of the freight handlers at the G. T. R. sheds for a increase in wages is still on. Railroad authorities state that satisfactory arrangements are being made for the handling of all freight and that no tie-up is likely to result.

Superintendent W. R. Davidson is still out of the city and it is claimed that there is little likelihood of a settlement until his return at least.

CITY BREVITIES

ONE PERMIT.—A permit was issued this morning to George H. Belton for a one-story frame house on West avenue.

LECTURES TONIGHT.—Tonight Mrs. Mary Harris Armour of Georgia will lecture in the St. Andrew's Hall. She comes under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. The gathering is open to the public.

FIRST RECEPTION.—Mrs. William Kingstone (nee Miss Lulu Shell) will receive for the first time since her marriage on Monday, November 6, at her residence, 322 St. George street.

NOON HOUR CONCERT.—The employees of the McClary Manufacturing Company were entertained Tuesday at noon hour in the dining-room by the Lombard Bros. orchestra. The orchestra gave several selections and two solos were rendered.

NO CLUE TO THIEF.—No clue to the thief who removed $1,600 from a trunk of Peter Sawas's at his residence, 318 Simcoe street, has been obtained yet. The police authorities are experiencing much difficulty owing to the fact that nearly all concerned in the case are foreigners and speak English poorly.

COMING NOVEMBER 17.—Deputy Minister Moleen, Ottawa, will be in London on November 17 to discuss good roads. He will take up the matter of suburban roads first, and later will discuss county roads. Representatives from a number of municipalities have been invited to come to London to talk over these matters.

TO PRESENT STRONG CASE.—The city will be well represented before the Board of Control when he comes to London to discuss the matter of suburban roads first, and later will discuss county roads. Representatives from a number of municipalities have been invited to come to London to talk over these matters.

LARGELY ATTENDED.—An entertainment given last evening in the Biscuit Street Baptist Church, under the auspices of the Young Ladies' Philanthropic Class was the most largely attended affair of the kind in the history of the church. The honor roll was presented to the class by Mr. R. Mills. The program was rendered by the Elgar Ladies' Quartet, assisted by Miss Hodge.

FAREWELL PARTY.—A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tiers, 255 Chesapeake street, when a number of their old friends gathered to bid them farewell before taking up their new home at Windsor. They were presented with a handsome case of silver. Sam Taylor read the address and Mrs. J. Burns made the presentation. The evening was spent in cards, after which dainty refreshments were served.

HALLOWEEN PARTY.—An enjoyable masquerade party was held at the home of Mrs. Rowe, King street, on Halloween night, when some twenty guests were entertained. The evening was spent in dancing, singing, fortune-telling and ghost stories. The musical program consisted of several songs by Mrs. Ed Wyatt, and a duet by Mrs. Wyatt and Miss Rowe. All did full justice to the dainty refreshments served by the hostess.

DRILLING SPOT CHOSEN.—General Manager E. V. Buchanan visited the Foster property on the Pipe Line road, opposite the Macgregor wells, and located the place where he will sink a test well to determine whether there is water to be found on this farm. Driller Harvey will commence operations as soon as he has completed the test well. A substantial property on St. Mary's street. Another drilling rig is being secured, and it will be put to work.

WILL ASK HELP.—Rev. Thomas Joplin of Toronto, field secretary of the Shantymen's Christian Association, is in London, and will take up with the city churches the matter of assisting in the work. The association workers visit every year thousands of miners, lumbermen and lonely settlers in a district where there are no churches and conduct religious services. The work is entirely undenominational. If funds can be raised it is planned to build a hall and is free to all men going in or coming out of the bush. Last winter 400 services were conducted, reaching 14,000 men. The workers, owing to fierce storms, fires and other dangers, are often in peril of their lives, but they continually visit the lumber camps, mining camps, railway gangs and others, and are doing their best to supply their religious needs with the very limited means at their disposal. Rev. Joplin will visit a number of churches and give addresses, and endeavor to augment the funds for the missions.

Board of Control Recommends Test Case on Whistling

Would Have Council Bring G.
T. R. Night Noises Question to Court.

The board of control recommended to the council this morning, that a test case be made against the G. T. R. to determine whether it is against the law for locomotives to whistle at night. It is claimed that there are no level crossings legally in the city limits, as every crossing has gates, etc.

Controlled Whistle was the opinion that something should be done to determine what status the city has in the matter. The company claims that its engineers are compelled to blow the whistles.

APPEALS AGAINST WILFUL DAMAGE DONE HALLOWEEN

Resident Talks of Senseless and Costly
Mischiefs of Boys Here.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: Cannot something be done to stop the damage to property by youthful vandals, who go about the city in gangs on Halloween night? Tuesday night a party of young ruffians tore up the steps in front of my house, splitting the woodwork. They broke the telephone wire, necessitating a repair of a very difficult nature. At the present, the report reads, there are 1,150 patients in the institution, 218 admitted during the year 1916, and for the same period 115 had been discharged and 76 died.

Visiting Victoria Hospital next, the jury found there 132 patients, and in the contagious ward 13 patients. The management was spoken of in the highest terms, and the high state of efficiency there attained was a matter of great satisfaction, said the jury.

St. Joseph's Hospital was found to be an excellent institution, with 70 patients now being cared for. The presentation of the report of the visit was prefaced with expressions of gratitude to his lordship for his assistance in making it possible for the grand jury to arrive at decisions in bringing in true bills in all criminal cases.

THINK WEEKLY INSPECTION IS UTTERLY UNNECESSARY

Amusement House Managers Resist
Hydro-Electric New Regulation.

Local amusement houses have been notified that their places of entertainment are to be inspected once a week. The first letter received was from the hydro-electric commission, stating that each Monday the local inspector, Lezatt, would go over the show places, and a charge of $1.10 would be made. The inspection is estimated that this would amount to almost enough to pay the salary of the inspector.

Later another notice was received that the inspection would be reduced to 60 cents a week. "It is ridiculous and just another evidence of the attempt of the hydro-electric forces to exert influence in every possible quarter," said one amusement man. "There is no need for an inspection each week. Once a month would be the limit. The necessity for such inspection is a reflection upon the inspector himself, as it indicates that his report is not fully trusted."

MUNICIPAL BAKERIES AND COAL YARDS ASKED BY MANY PETITIONERS

Petition Presented to Board of Control
Has Hundreds of Names.

There was a very large petition presented to the board of control this morning from the trades and labor council, and signed by several hundred citizens, asking for the establishment of municipal coal yards and bakeries. The petitioners were sent to the council, along with the recommendation of No. 4 committee, that the question be referred to the council of 1917, with instructions that the Legislature be petitioned to pass laws enabling municipalities to undertake such enterprises, provided it is deemed advisable.

Under the law now no municipality can do so, but the council thinks that this right should be allowed, and the Legislature, which does not meet until 1917, will be petitioned to enact the necessary laws.

COUNCIL WILL DISCUSS PAVING PLANT PLEBISCITE

Question Likely To Be Referred Back for More Information.

The council on Monday evening will discuss the advisability of submitting a plebiscite to the people on the establishment of a paving plant. It will likely be referred back for more information, as the council is far from unanimous on the question. "We don't know where we are at on it," declared Controller John M. Moore today.

CONCERT AT BYRON

Patients at Sanatorium and Friends Entertained With Good Program.

A concert was given last evening in the Byron Sanatorium for the patients and their friends. The hall was crowded to the doors to hear the excellent program. Sam and Dorothy Moore, Juvenile Scottish dancers, were present, and gave several Scottish and Irish dances. A solo by Miss Rona Currie and a piano selection by Miss Anna Dayton were both well received. Miss Ethel Temple gave several readings, and a cornet solo by Master Charles McCartney was heartily applauded. Several good selections were rendered by the Lombard Orchestra. The concert was closed by the singing of the National Anthem.

TO RENEW POLICIES

Controllers Decide to Protect Men Home
With Wives.

The board of control decided to renew about 30 policies on returned soldiers, who have come back from the firing line. These policies are held by the Metropolitan Life, and the controllers thought it better to renew them. The men are still suffering from their wounds, and until they are fully recovered the policies will be carried by the city.

Pte. Frank Campbell, who was injured last April and has been invalided home, was at the No. 3 Stationary Hospital, and was with the unit in London, Alexandria and finally in France, up to the time of his illness.

Pte. Campbell was disappointed today when he learned of a report that had been circulated to the effect that No. 3 Stationary Hospital was to be disbanded. "This can take it from me," he said, "this is only rumor. I am absolutely sure there is nothing in it whatever. Col. Davis and the unit are doing a great deal of work in the front."

Pte. Frank Campbell, previous to his enlistment, was a member of St. James' Church choir, South London.

Nearly All Returned Soldiers in City Attend Comrade's Funeral.

Sgt.-Maj. Cyril Kendall, late of the 32nd Battalion, who died suddenly on his arrival at Halifax with a party of invalided soldiers on Sunday, was buried at Mount Pleasant Cemetery this afternoon with full military honors.

Services were held at the family residence, 854 William street, at 2 o'clock, and were conducted by Rev. A. L. G. Clarke, chaplain of the 118th Battalion. The coffin, which was flag draped, was borne on a gun carriage of the 63rd Battery. The band of the 118th Battalion accompanied it to the cemetery.

Soldier mourners and nearly all the returned men in the city marched behind the gun carriage. An escort of the garrison military police also accompanied the party. The pallbearers were six sergeant-majors.

At the grave three volleys were fired by a firing party composed of a sergeant and nineteen rank and file. The last post was sounded by Bugle Sgt.-Maj. Nanfan, formerly of the 32nd Battalion.

Starting from the family residence, the cortege passed up William to St. James street, down St. James to Waterloo street, along Waterloo street to Queen's avenue, from there to Richmond street and thence to Dundas street, out to the cemetery.
