CANADIANS, BEWARE !

From a recent edition of the New York Truth we have quoted in yesterday's World a summary of the doings of the Canadian government with respect to the Northwest land policy and the syndicate contract. The view is of course, an American one, but it is none the less reliable as such, and clearly shows up the glaring weaknesses of that policy which, it argues, directly tends to foster a gigantic monopoly, which will, in a short time, oust every other power in

In the construction of the Union Pacific the American government foolishly handed over the control of the whole business to a ring of scalpers with short purses and long heads, supplied them with the necessary capital (which, by the way, was mainly borrowed; in English markets) and gave them, the entire management for all time to come The result is, that, to day, the United States finds itself completely under the control of an oligarchy headed by Jay Gould and Vanderbilt, the iron king, whose sway, in its own particular direction, is as absolute as that of the most despotic tyrant that ever ruled. What might have been once swept away as easily as a web of gossamer, has been allowed to grow and spread, till it has now securely hedged in the liberties of the American public, who are compelled to look on and allow themselves to be fleeced and gouged according to the latest improved methods.

The Canadian government is fast following almost in the identical tracks of the American policy, with this difference, that they are awarding the necessary money and lands, to a comthat, of which others are entitled to a syndicate will not play the same game as did their brethren on the other side.

Monopoly has the same tactics all the world over; its invariable tendency is to crowd in upon public privileges whether in Egypt, United States or Hindostan, or whether it be land, railway stock or government bonds.

As things are going on now, it may not be long before we see the amalgamated Grand Trunk and Great Western lines with all their ramifications absorbed into the syndicate ring and then, when it would be too late to remedy, the Canadian people would be able to form an idea experimentally of the effect of the monopoly machine when it is set fairly at work among themselves.

THE JEWISH ELEMENT.

There is a rumor affoat true or false that the powers that be are about to land a few shiploads of the "sons of Israel" on Canadian shores to hew out their fortunes people come from, as they are the same in whatever corner of the earth they are found. A more important question would be, what is Canada going to do with such a large body of people, whose peculiar tendencies are well known. No race ever existed that has so jealously preserved its identity, or so persistently kept aloof from its surroundings, and at the same time there is none that ever had such pronounced national characteristics as the Hebrew. No people have ever drawn upon themselves so much hatred and persecution at the hands of the outside world. In whatever land their lot were cast, in any age of the christian era that may be referred, they are found with wonderful invariableness, stamped with in our midst. It matters little where these

But as the management of the collegiate institute did not see their way to teach classics to girls, Miss Balmer went to St. Catharines and in the above table is credited to that school, Bowmanville is the only high school in the the state. It certainly can do no harm to list and the only one not having mere than hearken to the advice of those who know three teachers. The stand taken by it by bitter practical experience, what it is to is therefore all the more creditable. Three be beneath the iron heel of powerful railway of the high schools took scholarships in general proficiency which goes to show that teachers are doing good all-round work.

team to England, and we have nothing to show for it. It may encourage marksmanship in a few, but the great body of the volunteers are not benefited by it. Another reason given for spending the money in pany that is already well supplied with the this way is that it advertises Canada before former commodity, and will thus be all the the English people. The answer to this is sooner able to clear "the roost" and pocket | that the money can spentbe much more efficiently in some other direction. The share. There is no reason to suppose that the shooting record of the Canadians this year is inferior to former ones and has given increased force to the argument against the continuance of the outlay. The visit of the team is made too much a social affair and too little of it as a means for the encouragement of marksmanship. There is too much of the "garden party" altogether about Wimbledon. But we do not agree with our eastern contemporary that the reason Col Growski, our esteemed citizen, taken such an interest in the Canadian team at Wimbledon is that he is hungering after knighthood.

PRICERUS WHAT A NAME! Among the strange things brought round by the whirligig of time is the election of Homer and Shakspeare to the Canadian parliament! Only a province like British Columbia could do such a thing. Homer is from Cariboo, Shakspeare from Victoria city We trust that "the immortal William" and "the blind old man" will sit together in the house. The whole power of the imperial government is brought to bear to collect rents or interest, and an invading army is sent up to the Northwest to do the dirty work of the capitalists. The parallel will be complete if we suppose that the Pacific railway has become a great international highway for British commerce with the east, and that the thorough the disguise the true character of premier to disguise the true character of the war puts forward the hypocrital pre-tence—that the war is merely to protect the railroads.

To the discredit of humanity there are Canadians sufficiently mean-spirited, un-patriotic and enslaved with the imperialistic des to desire to enlist in this pitiful expedition for the crushing of the Egyptians into a hopeless servitude. Shame on such into a hopeless servitude. Shame on such traitors to humanity — such crawling sycophants at the feet of the rich and powerful! If any of them should succeed in gratifying their warlike aspirations it will cause little regret should Arabi "welcome them with bloody hands to hospitable graves." Lowell's indignant scorn of the northern doughfaces who enlisted for the Mexican war is not inapplicable.

THE SABBATH AND THE LAW.

"(To the Editor of The World.) SIR: In order to give the above subject justice a great many traditional institutions always existed against them has not been caused so much by funsticism on the part of their enemies as by their own actual shortcomings.

a command subject to tradition. Otherwise there would be an order in creation to mark its presence. Therefore considering the Sabbath of its self and its possible aims and objects, it was not intended to control nature. But that portion of nature unto which it was given might be beautified by its use at intervals and as prescribed in the bible for mutual improvement. Therefore its observance and how it is to be observed would be purely a matter of conscience to the individual under its tradition and belief. The bible specifies, but man identifies, and defines; hence the possibility of people educating thousands to false ideas and carrying them forward in the governing of the country. We see this the case among law-makers who are always right in their law-makers who are always right in their own estimation, even if instituting that which is wrong. In turning again to my subject; now in regard to the statute law, I believe in statute law for mutual improvement, commerce and order, and when that is accomplished, I believe it has done all the possible good it can do. But in regard the enautment forcing the keeping of the Sabbath as an act of holiness, I cannot see the consistency. Can holiness be forced, and is there any reward for forcing its observances? This I leave its advocates to answer. It appears to me the law was servances? This I leave its suvocates answer. It appears to me the law was For this cold wet snow they m and with the object of protecting all who or she will be coming before I made with the object of protecting all who desire to keep the Sabbath as they understood from the bible, could do so without being molested. But it appears to me its advocates are playing the part of the swine with the pearls. But its to be hoped we will be able to set their spurs at defiance. I am a workingman and I believe in a days rest in every seven. And I believe their are multitudes believe with me. And I believe their are multitudes believe with me. And I believe it is best to have that rest all on the same day if possible, and where its not possible to have it when we can, and that day to be spent in mutual improvement of ourselves and others according as our high.

THE WIMBLEDON FARCE.

Some of our contemporaries are beginning to speak about the Wimbledon farce, meaning thereby the sanding over of a Canadian rifle team to England.
