R. Cochran received the following to-day from Counselman & Day of Chicago: Wheat closed unchanged in price from yesterday, but easier in tone, and sold ½6 lower immediately after adjournment. Rainy weather in Southwest and a nigher corn market imparted sufficient early strength to wheat to cause 5½6 advance, which brought out long stuff. Think short interest well covered and 48 hours' sunshine would put market back to Monday's prices. Corn was very active, higher and at times excited on purchases by shippers to New England and to fill June sales in New York. Letters to receivers here say that recent rains have madej fields too heavy for farmers to work, and they will probably not haul grain to market until dry enough to cultivate corn. After this week it will be too late to ship corn to New York for June delivery, and we look for a slackened cash demand about the time that receipts will increase. Provisions opened and closed at a shade above yesterday's closing, but sales averaged lower for the day.

Foreign houses sold long stuff very freely until declines brought packers into market, and prices reacted to a rather firm closing.

There was an adjourned meeting this afternoon in E. R. C. Clarkson's office of the creditors of Clayton, Slater & Co., the insolvent wincey and cotton manufacturers of Frantford.
