

"Oh! then you think it foolish to pray, Jean?"

"No, it is all right to pray; but there is a time and a place for every thing."

"It seems like a good place right here, and the time could not be more appropriate. Come, Jean, you may say it all over to yourself, and no one will know a word of it but the Lord."