THE COTTON INDUSTRIES.

AURANGEMENTS FOR THE CURTAILMENT OF OVER-PRODUCTION.

It is stated that at a recent meeting of the cotton manufacturers each mill agreed to run only a certain portion of its machinery, and that a fixed scale of prices and a certain standard of quality were also agreed upon. With regard to other mills, the gray cotton mills have arranged not to produce any other class of goods, on condition that they do not make any gray goods. The output will be lessened by upwards of 30 per cent., while the prices will be advanced upwards of 15 per The stipulation as to the standard quality is very necessary, especially in view of the increased size that is now being added by certain makers : but as the agreement contains a chause referring to this, the different mills will be obliged to put in the same quantity of genuine cotton, and so customers will be protected from fraud. The seven mills affected by this arrangement will have about 50,000 spindles and 1,000 looms running under this plan, and are thus capable -on a rough estimate—of producing 15,000,000 yards of gray calico in the year. The other mills also have an informal agreement with each other, by which one does not interfere with the special makes of the rest, but each takes a certain class of goods and makes them only. There was a rumor in business circles that a certain mill had decided to break this rule by manufacturing print cloths; these are intended to be sent over to the old country where they will be printed and then sent back, the makers claiming that duty will only be levied on the extra value of the goods when they are printed, while the fabric itself will be admitted free. A deputation has been appointed to interview the finance minister to see if this latter scheme can be carried out, but our Ottawa correspondent indicates that they are not over likely to. meet with success.

AN UNFAITHFUL PARTNER.

HOW AN INDIANA FARMER BADE FAREWRILL TO HIS WIFE.

Indianapolis, Ind., February 4 .-- A somewhat new thing in the elopenant line is reported from Darlington, Montgomery county-Wednesday last a fellow from Virginia, known as Maj. Tondinson, left with the wife of Harvey Shauver, a prosperous young farmer living five miles north of that place. Mr. Shauver and wife were thought to be living happily, with 1 hree heautiful little children. Mr. Shau er's suspicions were aroused by one of the little fellows telling him that the major, who was a farm hand, "kissed ma and me, kissed the major," Mr. Shau took him to that the took for who extends Shauver took his v rife to task for such action. She did not deny it, and also stated that she would kiss him j ast when she pleased. Mr. Shauver chasticed her for her conduct, and paid the major off, telling him that he would give him untal Wednesday to leave. This seemed to rai at the ire of Mrs. Shauver, and she quickly gave her husband to understand that she we ald go with the discharged man. Mr. Shauv or knelt in prayer and prayed long and ferve why that such thoughts should not be entert sened by his wife, but his prayers would not soften or change hor heart. Mr. Shanve r gave her all her belongings and the baby . Seautiful boy 3 years old; he helped her it is the sleigh, tucked the wraps closely arou od her and, with tears almost streaming from a his eyes, kissed her and the child goodby a telling her he hoped and prayed she would be satisfied with her ill-judged undertaking. The couple stated that they were going to Oregon.

A DEFAULTER REPENTS.

RETURN OF A MERCHANT'S BANK CLERK. Belleville, February 4.—The return to-day of Mr. Hamilton, local manager of the Merchants' Bank, with Robert Yarwood, the defaulting cashier of that institution, who absconded in October last, after having robbed the bank of a large sum of money, created a sensation. From Mr. Hamilton it was learned that, having been advised of Yarwood's presence in Baltimore, he left here on Friday last and reached the Monumental Friday last and reached the Monumental City on Monday morning. He had no difficulty in tracing Yarwood's place of residence, which was at an hotel. Here he was confronted, and after a long conversation agreed to return to Canada. The prisoner, who is badly broken down in health, stated on the way that he took only about $300 with him, the rest of the $3,000 which he stole having been wen from him at cards, before leaving here by men of some prominence. here, bym en of some prominence, whose names he promised to disclose. He had but six dollars in his pocket when arrested. The prisoner was placed in the cells at once on his arrival, and will be brought up for pre-liminary examination to morrow. This afternoon he made a confession which is to the effect that it was Scott, a companion of his, who first put the notion into his head of using the funds of the bank and that it was for Scott's benefit that the funds were first abstracted. The first false step taken the descent was rapid. He says that the sum taken by himself was less than $3,000, one-sixth of which was used in making up a loss in his cash; that when he went to New York some time since he took about $500 with him, but that he was successful in gambling in Saratoga, and brought back nearly as much as he took away. Yet he owns to have been extravagant when in New York, and says that it costs a lot of money to "paint New York red." He thinks that Sout took about $3,000 with him, besides having made heavy losses at cards before leaving. Many of Scott's losses at night were paid by cheque, and he has seen as much as $200 of Scott's chequez come in for payment in the morning.

These cheques would always be paid and the vouchers destroyed. After leaving here he spent two days in Chicago registering in his own name at the Grand Union, and in New Orleans he spent ten days, registering in his own name as in Chicago. He spent about two months in Central America, the only thing for all parties concerned that he should have been arrested. All the Massachusetts towns and cities are work he did being in the mines for a short time. His return to Baltimore, he says, was on business, and he thinks that it was a bad
