

July 24, 1933.

Dear Mr. Bell,

I have read your letter of July 3rd with reference to your hopes of establishing in Nassau some sort of educational centre.

The success of such a venture would largely depend upon what you have to offer. One cannot ignore the fact that in recent years many more of our people have formed the habit of taking their vacation in the Bahamas, and I daresay if you are able to offer an attractive programme from an educational point of view, the venture might prove successful.

When your plans are completed, I shall be pleased to let them be known, by giving them as much publicity as we can. One would do everything possible to cement further the ties that bind us to that part of the Empire we call the West Indies.

Ever yours faithfully,

Principal & Vice Chancellor,

Hugh Bell, Esq.,
Director of Publicity,
Development Board,
Nassau, Bahamas, BWI.
