Justice Letellier, in Invalidating Local Option Bylaw Carried in Small Parish in Charlevoix, Bases Judgment on Interesting Prece-

MONTREAL, Feb. 20.—(Special.)— Political and judicial history has just repeated itself in this province, where Mr. Justice Letellier has upset a by-law on the ground of undue influence on the part of the clergy.

Some months ago a fierce contest was waged in the Parish of Bay St. Paul, Countp of Charlevoix, over the granting of an hotel license. Father Tremblay, the parish priest, cham-pioned the bylaw doing away with the license, which license was supported by Judge Simard of that district. The parish priest triumphed, the bylaw carrying by a small majority.

Judge Simard, however, took the matter into the courts and Mr. Justice B. Letellier has just decided that the bylaw is null and void on account of clerical influence, giving the fol-lowing as some of his reasons: "Whereas that the parish priest, on Sunday, from the pulpit in the Church of Bay St. Paul, threatened the parish and theoretical sides. with the punishment of God if they gave the license in question, adding that more earthquakes would take place, and explaining that the people would not even have the pardon ac-
