Kansas Crop Late.

Uneasiness in regard to lack of moisture east of the Missouri River continued to discourage speculators who might otherwise have been inclined to sell wheat short. A good deal of notice was taken, too, of assertions from a well-known authority that the Kansas crop was two weeks late, as compared with a year ago.

Corn gathered strength chiefly from wheat. The cutting down of the visible supply figures had had some additional influence toward bringing about an un-

CORNWALL, Ont., April 5.—Word was received by Cornwall friends today of the death this morning at St.
Petersburg, Florida, of W. J. McDonald, 55, a prominent railway contractor, who spent the last two winters in St. Petersburg for the benefit of his health. For many years he was a partner in the firm of Ryan & Mc-Donald, who built part of the G. T. P. north and west of Quebec City and parts of that road in New Brunswick. He also built part of the C. N. R. near Sudbury. He was also connected with the Saguenay Construction
Co., which built the most difficult part of the Quebec and Saguenay Railway. His last partners included M. Doheny and L. Thompson, now of Montreal. The late Mr. McDonald made his home in Moulinette, Ont. His wife and only child were wintering with him in Florida at the time of his death. Arrangements for the

DISSENSION AMONG GERMANIC FORCES

Bavarians and Saxons Sacrificed by Prussian Officers' Orders.

WOUNDED NEGLECTED

No Effort to Pick Up Men Lying Helpless on Ground.

LONDON, April 5 .- "Prussians, Bavarians and Saxons took part in the fighting at Neuve Chapelle, but their mutual co-operation does not seem at all points to have been very hearty," says the eye-witness attached to British headquarters in France in a communication dated April 2nd. "Our prisoners of the two last mentioned nationalities expressed great indignation." the writer goes on to say, "at the manner in which they were flung into action during the counter-attacks from Bois du Biez-Orders were given them, so they have said, to reinforce the firing line, but on advancing from the wood they found no firing line, but discovered instead that they were alone and unsupported: Many surrendered in consequence. On the whole they are under the impression that they were grossly mis-handled by the Prussian Germans Callous. "The treatment of their own wounded by the Germans was callous to a degree. Altho numbers were lying in front of the trenches in many places no effort was made to pick them up. At last our men were compelled by pity, and considerable risk to themelves, to endeavor to reach these wounded, but the Germans continued to shoot and they hit some of our men while engaged on this errand of mercy, altho their intentions were obvious. There is reason to believe that many of the wounded were Ba-varians and Saxons, while the men in he trenches were Prussians.

Peculiar effects of the war upon the life of the Canadian Indians are announced in a report to the Anglican Home Mission Board from the Church of England Mission at Hay River in the diocese of Mackenzie River. The report says that when news of the Furopean war reached there the prices of foodstuffs went up and the price of furs dropped down to such an extent that it caused real alarm to the Inilans. As a result the Indians have spent more time in hunting food and have found it that way and are earning money by being more ready to work at cutting firewood, etc., than when fur catching was more profitable.

The Hay River Mission cultivate a tract of land so successfully that they expect to make the mission selfsupporting. The last crop included 1100 bushels of potatoes.
A steamboat called the Dayspring, for the bishop, is being completed and is to be launched this season.
