

XIX.

THAT the Secretary shall transcribe into an appropriate Book such matters connected with the interests of the Society as may be deemed expedient.

XX.

THE President, or in his absence one of the Vice-Presidents, may, at the request of any five Members, call Special Meetings of the Society, at such times as may be deemed expedient, giving notice thereof three days by printed hand-bills.

XXI.

THAT the Society may at a Quarterly Meeting, at any future period, alter, amend, or add to these foregoing Rules, in such way as may be deemed best calculated to advance the interests of the Society.

XXII.

ANY Member who shall violate the Rules of this Society, and who shall persist in so doing, after being duly notified to that effect by the President, shall forfeit his seat as a Member.

XXIII.

THESE Rules shall be considered the fundamental Rules of this Society, and shall not be altered, unless by the consent of the Society, at one of its Quarterly Meetings.

XXIV.

NOTICES of the Meetings of the Society shall be given by the Secretary the week previous, in all the public Newspapers of the City.
