National Association Concludes the Business of the Convention-Meet in Halifax in 1902.

The sixth annual convention of the National Association of Master Plumbers and Steamfitters was brought to a close and Steamsters was brought to a close yesterday shortly after noon hour in the temple building. The most important question of the meeting just closed was the proposal to establish provincial associations. This was recommended by a committee and unanimously adopted by the convention. Local associations will send convention. Local associations will send convention to the provincial healths and speech.

When it comes to artificial Plates—(it should never come to them if care of the natural teeth would prevent-but that's another story)—when it comes to Artificial Plates - there's just one essential quality to demand. To demand - that's it. That quality is perfect fit—the essential of comfort and efficiency. Our plates fit-whether the material is from rubber up to gold -whether the price is from little up to big. That's the assurance that only experience gives.

W. Smith and Wilkle Lawrason, on the ground that their names were not written out in full on the said nomination papers. The contention of the relator is that, as John Fry, the nominating officer, accepted and held the nomination papers during the nomination hour, from 12 to 1, and did not raise any objection until after that hour had passed, he, therefore, was not within his powers in rejecting them.

Judge Snider will hear the evidence next month.
