Births, Marriages, Deaths What Doctors Think

Here's the first law of health: Keep your feet dry. We all know it. We all know that pneumonia and consumption always start with a cold, and that the shortest cut to a cold is a pair of wet feet. But it's so important a matter that we can't be reminded too often, especially when the reminder carries the weight of authority.

Dr. Wendell C. Phillips, one of the most distinguished physicians in New York, was recently giving a lecture on "Colds, and How to Prevent Them." It was a rainy night, and he began:

"How many persons here wore rubbers tonight? Hands up. "Not half of you. Now, that is what I thought. Every one of you should have rubbers on a night like this. To go without them is to invite colds, bronchial trouble, catarrh, and pneumonia. It is astonishing how people neglect their feet. Rubbers are 50 cents. You can save a lot of money on the investment-perhaps a tendays' doctor bill, to say nothing of medicine. We wish to remind you right here that we carry a most com-plete stock of the very best rubbers, and we always make it a point to fit the shoes properly.

Gilligan, a horse rubber. The men had been enemies for a long time. When they met a quarrel ensued, which soon led to a fight. Gilligan was getting the worst of the encounter, when he drew a pocket-knife and plunged its keen blade in the jockey's jugular vein, causing a wound which proved fatal in a very short time. Gilligan admits he killed Epperson, but claims he acted in self-defense.

Great Britain and France Reach er, has secured several millions from English and French bankers, and will an Agreement

Regarding the Boundary Lines in the Nile Valley.

China Apologizes to Italy - Rhodes Makes an Arrangement With the German Government Re Telegraph

London, March 22.-The convention between Great Britain and France, defining their respective frontiers in the Valley of the Nile, has been signed by the Marquis of Salisbury and the French ambassador, M. Paul Cambon, respectively. The exact frontier from the northern line of the Belgian Congo to latitude 15 is to be determined by a mixed commission, it being agreed that Great Britain shall retain Bahrel-Ghazel, with Darfur; France keeping Itadi (or Wady), west of Darfur; Begermi, south of Lake Chad; Kanem, north of Lake Chad, and, generally speaking, the territory east and north of Lake Chad, lying north of the 15th parallel. The French sphere will extend south of the tropic of Cancer to the western limit of the Libyan desert. The signatories agree to equality of commercial treatment from the Nile to Lake Chad, and between the 5th and 15th parallel of latitude. The latter clause permits France to establish houses on the Nile and its affluents. The signatories undertake to refrain from exercising political or territorial rights outside the frontier fixed by the convention. FRANCE AND CHINA.

The Pekin correspondent of the Times says: France has withdrawn her objections to the extension of the cesmopolitan settlement at Shanghai, on conditions that have been accepted by the foreign consuls, and it now devolves on the British and German ministers to insist upon the immediate granting of the extension. THE DERVISH SLAUGHTER.

The dispatch of Lord Cromer, embodying the reply of Gen. Lord Kitch-ener regarding the alleged mutilation and useless slaughter of dervishes in the battle of Omdurman, has been laid before parliament. The sirdar says that the only wounded dervishes killed by his troops were those who feigned death in order to obtain opportunities for killing. "Whatever was done," he continues, "was done with all possible considerations of humanity." The sirdar justifies the destruction of the tomb of the mahdi and the dispersal of the prophet's remains, on ground that, if the mausoleum had been left intact and unharmed it would become the center of fanatical pilgrimages, causing endless trouble. He himself ordered the demolition. Lord Cromer indorses the statements of Gen. Kitchener. THE INTERNATIONAL COMMIS-

SION. London, March 22 .- In the House of Commons, Sir Charles Dilke (Liberal) asked regarding the report that the Anglo-American-Canadian commission had failed to agree over the Alaskan boundary issue. Mr. Broderick replied that the joint commission had agreed to preserve absolute secrecy as to its proceedings. Inexact accounts had crept out, but it would be extremely undesirable for him to give either contradiction or affirmation. These reports must be accepted with considerable re-

In the reichstag, Herr Richter, German Radical leader, asked the government for information on the subject of | court today and appeared to be as cool the negotiations progressing with Mr. Cecil Rhodes. The minister of foreign affairs said that negotiations for a railroad through German East Africa were still in progress, but an agree-ment had been reached regarding the laying of the telegraph line through the East African protectorate, in which the rights and supremacy of German interests were fully safeguarded. The agreement arrived at includes the erection by the Trans-African Tel-Company of a second through German territory for the exclusive use of the German Government. Emperor William, it is said, will con-

THE POPE'S CONDITION.

Rome, March 22.—The pope's physicians report his general health good, and the seat of the recent operation in excellent condition. He expressed deep grief at the false stories circulated as to his health, especially the reports about a second operation, which had so disturbed Catholics. After their visit the physicians declared that his condition of health, all things considered, could not be better.

THOSE EXPLOSIONS.

Paris, March 22.-According to an official statement regarding the explosion last evening in a laboratory attached to the war department, it occurred in the course of experiments in mixing gases intended to light railway cars. Another account says it was due to experiments made for the purpose of ascertaining the cause of the Toulon and Bourges explosions, and that it shows that the Toulon catastrophe was the result of carelessness. Seven persons were injured, three of them seriously, by last night's explosion.

Proceedings in the Toohey Murder Case Begun.

Trouble Experienced in Securing a Jury-A Large Number of Jurors Challenged and Set Aside.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

The notorious one-legged colorea tramp, Marion Brown, alias Thomas Allen, was placed on trial for his life this morning at the Middlesex spring assizes, before Mr. Justice MacMahon, charged with the murder of P. C. Michael Toohey, on June 24, 1898. At 8 o'clock curious spectators began to isfied Mr. McPhillips. Mr. Walden was arrive at the court house, but the set aside by the crown. doors were kept locked, and the witnesses, lawyers and jurymen were admitted at the back entrance. At 10 o clock fully 400 people surrounded the main entrance, waiting admission, and fense has the privilege of challenging when the doors were opened a few minutes later there was a wild rush for the court room. The building shook with the vibration of the stamping, and the place was filled to overflowing when the judge took his seat, an exceptionally large number of ladies being present. The prisoner's counsel, Messrs. McPhillips and Toothe, and the crown counsel, Mr. W. Lount, Q.C., and James Magee, Q.C., occupied seats at the same table, opposite each other. Brown was arrested on Sept. 24, at North Yakima, Washington, brought here on Oct. 15, 1898.

THE PRISONER IN COURT. At 10 o'clock the prisoner was led into the court room. Brown looks well, and is if anything a little stouter than when placed in jail here. He wore a grayish brown suit, white shirt, turndown collar and black tie. He was visited by Rev. Robert Johnston a short time before his appearance in and collected as ever.

When the judge took his seat at 10:10, Brown was engaged in sizing up the ladies seated in the jury box to the prisoner's left. When the jury list was called, five of the 48 were absent. Prisoner's counsel asked for some reason for this. He wished to have them all present as he anticipated some difficulty in securing a jury. A smile overspread the prisoner's face as he stood looking at the jury while the judge and counsel were CHALLENGING BEGUN. Twelve names were then called. John C. Scott, Strathroy, was challenged for cause by prisoner's counsel. The two next, William Gillespie and James Mc-Leod, were appointed tryers. Scott was then put into the box and sworn. He had read the account of the preliminary trial to some extent, but not all.

Q .- Have you formed any opinion as to whether or not the prisoner is the man? A.-No, sir. The judge and the crown counsel said this was an improper question. "All you can ask," continued the judge, "is whether this juryman has formed any opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the prisoner." This question was put and witness replied that he had not. The tryers found Scott eligible. The judge then told Mr. McPhillips that he could challenge him peremptorily. This he did, and Mr. Scott was asked to retire. Wm. Gillespie was the first juryman James McLeod, West Williams, and John McAuliffe, Parkhill, were also objected to by prisoner's counsel, and they, too, retired. Wellington Hodgins, of Lucan, was challenged for cause. On being sworn he admitted that he had been a personal friend of the murdered policeman. The matter had been talked over in Lucan, and he had, after reading the papers, concluded that the prisoner was the guilty man. He did not think he was capable of an unbiased determination between the prisoner and the crown. John Turnbull, Westminster, was challenged peremptorily by prisoner's counsel for cause. Mr. Turnbull admitted having formed the opinion that Brown was the murderer, and was that prisoner was guilty. Fred Rapley, of Adelaide, was challenged for cause. Under oath he told Mr. McPhillips that he thought he could give the prisoner an impartial trial. A moment afterwards he admitted having formed a conclusive opinion that the prisoner was guilty.

He was retired. F. H. Walden, Elginfield, was challenged. He admitted, under examina-tion by prisoner's counsel, that he never read the daily papers, and had formed no opinion as to the prisoner's guilt. San Francisco, Cal., March 22.-The report from Skaguay, that tons of mail are being lost or destroyed at that place, and that Canadian mail carriers refuse to handle the letters unless they bear Canadian postage, is emphatically denied by Assistant Superintendent Harry Lewis, of the rail-way mail service. He admits that a large amount of mail accumulated at Skaguay during the winter months, and it was impossible to get over the summit in February. Three carriers are already on their way to Tana, on the Yukon, by way of Skaguay, Dawson, Circle City, Forty Mile, and other
