

MORE HORRIBLE TALES OF GERMAN ATROCITIES

Toronto, Nov. 11.—D. Mayall, a Toronto financial broker, recently returned from the seat of war, bears personal testimony to the atrocities committed by the Germans in Belgium. He said in an interview tonight:

"At Rosendael I came in contact with the mother of a young woman who had been mistreated by four German soldiers to such an extent that she had to be placed in an asylum. The incident took place in Aerschel, and, according to her mother, the soldiers had compelled the parents to witness the atrocity. The father protested against such treatment of his daughter, and when he stepped forward to defend her he was tied hand and foot and shot."

He declares that he saw two children whose hands had been cut off, and a nine-year-old girl who had lost all the fingers of both hands.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Brown-Duncan.
At the residence of Mrs. Harry P. Bennett, Duke street, yesterday, her sister, Miss Annie E. Duncan, daughter of I. W. Duncan, of Salisbury, was married to Duncan R. Brown, I. C. R. conductor, living in Moncton. The bride wore a travelling suit of midnight blue serge. Mrs. George N. Palmer of Moncton played the wedding march. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will reside in Moncton.

A very interesting wedding took place last night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dean, Seaview House, Lorneville, when their eldest daughter, Hazel, was united in marriage to George Luther Tyner, of Chance Harbor. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. W. Malcolm, of East St. John. The bride was becomingly attired in a traveling suit of grey and wore a white beaver hat. Miss Pearl Dean, sister of the bride, acted as flower girl. After the marriage a dainty luncheon was served, after which the bride and groom motored to their new home at Chance Harbor. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful and costly gifts, including cut glass and silver. The groom's gift to her was a check.

Law School Students.
The annual meeting of the King's College Law School students was held last evening. The classes this year are probably the largest ever assembled at the local school and much interest is being taken in the arrangements for the programme as prepared by the students, in addition to the course of lectures in the curriculum. Dr. Silas Alward, K. C. dean of the school, was chosen honorary president. W. H. Teed, president, R. A. Davidson, vice-president, and E. J. Henneberry, secretary-treasurer, Thos. E. O'Leary was appointed correspondent to the King's College Record and a debating committee was appointed to consist of Messrs. McLaughlin, Dever, Vincent, Smith and Gale.

Charges of Heresy.
The Presbyterian Synod of Manitoba has laid a charge of unorthodox teaching against the Manitoba College (Presbyterian). It is charged that the Virgin birth of Christ, the Atonement and in fact the very Bible are being done away with. The principal, Dr. A. B. Baird, is exonerated.

whose surroundings, mode of life, and food and drink, have combined to make him treacherous, indolent and unreliable?

And food and drink are among the chief causes.

Tea and coffee—the commonest table beverages—contain a drug, caffeine, which affects stomach, liver, heart and other organs.

Some persons are strong enough to stand the attacks of caffeine, in tea and coffee, but to most people it is a poison, and sooner or later is bound to tell.

If you find tea or coffee is hurting you, quit it and try

RECENT DEATHS

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. John Longon were shocked last evening by the death of Mrs. Longon, who passed away at her home, 140 Britain street. She had been seriously ill for about four weeks with typhoid fever but seemed to be gaining as well as could be expected until Sunday last when she became suddenly worse. Since then her family has known of the great danger of the relapse but it was hoped she would recover. Death came in spite of all that could be done.

Mrs. Longon was highly esteemed, and friends here and in St. Stephen have lost a greatly respected companion. She was formerly Miss Jennie Hewitt, of St. Stephen, where two brothers and one sister reside.

Besides her husband she leaves a family of one son and three daughters to mourn. They are William, Edith, Alice and Ruth—all at home. Her brothers are Robert and Herbert Hewitt, and Mrs. Clarence Dean is the sister.

The funeral is to take place on Friday at 2.30 p. m.

Reuben Lunt Peck, formerly of Albert county, died recently in La Conner, Wash., aged fifty-three years. E. E. Peck, police magistrate of Albert is a brother.

Had Good Trip.
James P. Murphy and Walter Harrington of North End have returned home after a very successful hunting trip in the woods some miles distant from Clarendon station. They saw plenty of big game, at one time from a hill-top spying to less than seventeen moose. They brought home two deer and a moose, all of which were of splendid size and having a good spread of antlers.

CANADA IN THE WAR

At a meeting called to arrange for home defence yesterday, Mayor Frink said that he had the names of about sixty persons anxious to drill with the Home Guards. All that was required was their willingness and ability to drill. It being understood that they were above military age, 45 years. A committee consisting of Col. E. T. Sturges, Cde J. R. Armstrong, Capt. E. A. Smith, T. H. Estabrooks and Josiah Fowler, was appointed to act with the mayor in making preliminary arrangements to start the Home Guards in St. John.

A patriotic meeting is to be held next Tuesday night in the Imperial Theatre in the interests of recruiting and the patriotic fund.

Word has been received that Great Britain needs all the wool raised in Australia so that the embargo on exports from that colony will not be raised, unless the goods manufactured from the wool in question be sent to England.

Sir George Foster yesterday cabled to Premier Fisher of Australia, "Bravo, Australia! All our congratulations to you," his reference, of course, being to the capture of the Emden.

Full equipment is now available for the eight battalions of Infantry now mustering for the second contingent.

Col. Rutherford, of Halifax, while in the city yesterday inspected the remount depot and was pleased with the general arrangements. There are now 1,600 horses in the depot, 400 more having arrived last night.

Pimples For Three Years

Marvellous Zam-Buk Cure

Mr. Willard F. Allen, of 258 Pleasant St., Halifax, N. S., writes: "Up to a year ago my face was a mass of pimples, which, besides being extremely embarrassing, caused me a good deal of pain. I used all kinds of tonics and salves, also remedies prescribed by my physician. These were of very little benefit to me. My face would clear somewhat at times, and I would think that I was on the road to a permanent cure, and then the trouble would return and the pimples and sores be worse than ever. This condition of affairs continued for about three years."

"One day I happened to see an account of a remarkable cure of eczema by Zam-Buk; so I thought I would try Zam-Buk also. I sent for a box and the results were so very pleasing that I procured a larger supply. I persevered with Zam-Buk for three months, and at the end of that period my face was cleared of all unsightly pimples."

"I attribute my recovery solely to the use of Zam-Buk, as I did not use any other remedy during the time I was using it. As my case was of long standing and very obstinate, I consider my cure a wonderful triumph for Zam-Buk and would heartily recommend it to anyone afflicted as I was."

If you are suffering from eczema, ulcers, running sores, or any skin trouble you should apply Zam-Buk.

At all druggists and stores, 50c. box, 8 boxes $1.25, or postpaid from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, on receipt of price. Refuse substitutes. Send this advertisement, name of paper, and 1c. stamp for free trial box.

NEW ZEALAND TO DEVELOP NAVY

Important Announcement by Mr. Massey, the Premier

Wellington, N. Z., Nov. 12.—An important development in New Zealand's naval policy is foreshadowed by Mr. Massey, the prime minister, in a manifesto in which he outlines the platform of the reform party in the dominion.

Every effort would be made, says the manifesto, to develop the dominion's share in the responsibilities and obligations of the British Empire. The party he represented would undertake to preserve the national defense system already in operation throughout the country, and at the same time would promote a naval policy under which the dominion would train its own personnel and gradually develop interests in the Imperial navy that could protect the empire as a whole and at the same time maintain the supremacy of the British flag in the Pacific ocean as well as ensure the safety of the trade routes from hostile raids.

A CLEVER CAPTURE

(From Beck's Weekly, Montreal)
The story of how a hundred and forty Germans were cleverly captured by a group of thirty-five French soldiers is told in the "Matin." The French were a party of cooks left in a village by the regiment to prepare the evening meal.

They were in occupation of a farmyard and suddenly heard the sound of marching. One of them managed to observe the advancing troops without being seen. All but one of the cooks hurriedly took up position in the wood, and their comrade remained in the yard. As the Germans came up he went forward to meet them, shouting to them:

"Lay down your arms!" he said, "and surrender or you will be shot down to a man." The officers halted their men and the French soldier said again: "Surrender or we open fire." Meanwhile the men in the wood blew their whistles, suggesting that they were in force. Believing they were ambushed the enemy agreed to surrender, but the question was how to disarm them. First the French soldier made the officers lay down their arms; then the men had to do the same and advance in file and pile their arms. It was not until all had been thus disarmed by the single soldier that the thirty-four came out of the wood with fixed bayonets. It was then, however, too late to resist, and when the regiment returned they found the hundred and forty Germans securely locked up in one of the barns waiting for an escort to take them to the rear.

A SUSPICIOUS MONUMENT

One in French Village Ready for German Guns

Paris, Nov. 12.—The intransigent calls the attention of the authorities to the remarkable nature of the monument erected in 1910 at the village of Champigny-sur-Marne, 19 miles east of Paris. Acting on information received Champigny readers, intransigent reporters visited the monument. It consists of a granite obelisk with an inscription commemorating the Wurttembergers killed during the battle there in 1871. The obelisk is situated on a platform twenty yards square, on hills commanding the Champigny fort, with a full view of the towers of Notre Dame.

According to their instructions, the reporters tore up the sods covering the platform, which they found to be of the most solid construction, the material resembling cement. At two points of the platform were holes six inches in diameter suitable for affixing supports for mortars with which to bombard Paris. Inquiries elicited the information that a large number of official-looking Germans visited the spot last June, while a retired Uhlan major, who left a little before the mobilization had been living in the neighborhood since 1910.

TOMMY ATKINS UNDER FIRE

All the old stories of the coolness of "Tommy Atkins" on the battlefield are being resuscitated; he has fished in Belgian canals using his bayonet as a rod, with the enemy on the other side of the hill; when almost under fire he has snatched time to shave and has behaved with inconspicuous levity when quite under fire. And the present war is yielding a new supply of stories. A Belgian tells the following in the London Times:

"What impressed me above all were the coolness and dash of the British soldier. His utter indifference to danger, and his general air of 'Don't care,' simply carried me away. At moments of critical danger I have seen him worrying as to when he was to get his cup of tea from his little traveling kitchen. 'I shall never forget the admirable reply given by an English soldier, wounded in the hand, whom I found sitting by the roadside outside Mons wearing an air of contentment. I began to talk to him and asked him if his wound was hurting him. 'It's not that,' he said, with a doleful shake of his head, 'but I'm blessed if I haven't been and lost my pipe in that last charge! I gave him mine and he was instantly comforted.'—The World's Work."
