Many farmers have posted notices on their farms prohibiting hunting in their bushes. They claim that squirrels and other game are being killed out of season, and because of this fact, together with depredations that are committed from time to time they have decided to exclude all hunters with the exception of those to whom they may extend invitations. Unless there is a better regard for the game laws and the property generally of farmers, the restrictions that may be imposed will make it difficult for honest, conscientious sportsmen to enjoy a day's outing in the old-fashioned way.
