

Court or Judge shall be empowered to order such Bankrupt to be imprisoned for such fraud for a term of not less than six months.

16. The Court or a Judge shall exercise control over the Assignees during the collection and distribution of the Bankrupt Estate; and may, on application of any party concerned, require such Assignees to make such statements, exhibit such accounts, and give such explanations, relative to such estate, as may be necessary; and such Court or Judge may require the Assignees to close up the Bankrupt's Estate within a limited period; and shall have power to remove the Assignees if thought necessary, and to appoint others in their stead, due notice being given in the Royal Gazette of such new appointment.

17. No assignment, transfer, or conveyance of any kind of the real or personal property of the Bankrupt, made by him after presenting his petition to the Master, shall be legal or valid.

18. The Assignees shall have power to employ the Bankrupt in winding up the Estate, and may pay him for his services such remuneration as may be thought proper by the Court or a Judge.

19. When the estate of the Bankrupt shall be wound up, the Assignees shall be entitled to receive from such estate, as remuneration for their services, such commission on the monies which actually pass through their hands, not to exceed five per cent, as the Court or Judge may allow.

20. When the estate shall be finally closed, the Assignees shall exhibit to the Court, or Judge, a full statement of all their proceedings connected with the estate, including an account of all monies received and paid by them in connection therewith, which shall be deemed a final account of such estate; and such account, after due notice sent to each of the creditors, of a time and place for hearing objections in regard thereto, before the Court or a Judge, shall,
