foundation of a house without the frameworks? I will confess that the farmer does play a great part in the industry of the country. Let us pay attention to the merchant, the train hands, the sailor, the soldier, the miner, and other people who follow other trades. What of them? Are they not worthy of note? Are they not working for the world as a whole? They are striving year after year to build up a mighty nation. Now, my friends, Mr. "Farmer" and "Just a Bachelor," do you not think that the aforementioned trades are as worthy as the farmer? I do not think that you have any reason to be proud of your occupation, Mr. "Farmer," but I would not dare to go so far as to call you a fool. Hoping that you, Mr. Editor can spare room for this letter, I remain

Jolly Boy Likes W.H.M.

Rocanville, Sask., Aug. 7, 1910.

Sir.—I have been a subscriber to your interesting journal for ever three years now, although I get it through a news-vendor, and so I thought I would write a letter for you to put in print. I wish to say since I have read your paper, I don't think I have read such an interesting book before, and, what's more, I send it to England every month and they really enjoy it. The correspondence columns are of great interest, in fact, the book should be $1.00, not 75c. subscription, and I think others will agree with me there. I wish it the greatest of success, also the editor of it. I should be very pleased to hear from any young lady who cares to write. They will find I will answer all letters promptly. I am an Englishman, age 24, 5 ft. 7 in., dark complexion, good habits, do not drink nor chew; I smoke a little. I also do not work, because I am a phenomenal baritone vocalist and comedian. I have toured England, America and Canada. I also play the piano, organ and banjo. I dance, and am very fond of writing. Now, girls, if you want any nice and sensible letters, write me. I have lots of time to spare. Don't be shy. I'm not. My address will be with the editor. Wishing his paper and himself the greatest success in the future, I will sign myself as

Globe Trotter Is Coming West.

Trenton, Ont., Aug. 5th, 1910.

Sir.—I find the Western Home Monthly very interesting, instructive and amusing, especially the correspondence columns. I have taken your valuable paper for some time. It does not reach us Ontario folks until nearly the end of the month sometimes, which seems like a long wait for so interesting a paper. I do not think I will take part in the discussions that so often take place. However, if I were thinking about a wife, I would want one to be a companion and not a slave. I am very fond of travelling and have seen several different parts of the continent. I visited the Western Provinces last fall and was delighted with the country. I read a lot of letters of sympathy and pity for these poor, lonely bachelors, as they are sometimes called. Of course, it may be rather lonely at times, but I think if a young fellow has pluck enough to strike out alone and settle down, he doesn't need very much pity. But I certainly do pity those shy little prairie maids. They don't have the chance to get round and see things like the bachelors, and I think it must be more lonely for them. Oh, well, cheer up girls, I am coming west again this fall. Ask the editor for my address and drop me a line, so I can come and see you when the harvest days are over.

Smiling Sunbeam Is a City Girl.

Calgary, Alta., May 9, 1910.

Sir.—Having been an interested reader of the Western Home Monthly for several years, and especially the correspondence columns, I have at last found courage to write a few lines, hoping to gain a few correspondents of the sterner sex. Needless to say, I enjoy your paper very much and look forward to it every month with great pleasure. I am a city girl so do not know much about farming, and I am afraid I could never endure life on a farm. I have travelled quite a bit, but am at present keeping house for my only brother, who is working here. I like it very much, only I do not know many people and it gets rather lonesome at times, so would like to correspond with any of the sterner sex who are not farmers. They must be tall, dark complexioned and rather well-built. I will give a short description of myself. I am 20 years of age,

German descent, fair complexion, 5 ft. 4 in., and weigh about 120 lbs. My address is with the editor if any wish to write. Hoping to see this letter in print, I will close, wishing the editor every success. I will sign myself

Successful This Time.

Moose Jaw, July 14, 1910.

Sir.—One time last summer I tried to get a letter in your interesting columns but failed to see it in print. This time I expect to make a better success. All your correspondents seem to be happy except "The Doctor." I am going to take pity on him as nearly everybody is pulling his hair. Miss Isabel writes a nice letter but rather insulting to the chickens, not mentioning "Hazel Stubbs." I think if someone offered me chicken money for ice-cream and peanuts I wouldn't lack ambition. Would it not be more wise to be on a level with the chickens than to be a star gazer with a millionaire feeling without chicken money? I've been standing on the bank long enough, so will jump right in the same puddle with the rest. I am a farmer, with dark complexion, dark brown hair (somewhat sunburnt around the edges), dark blue eyes, height 5 ft. 7 in., weigh 145 lbs., and 25 years old. Any girl not over 23 years old who wishes fun and pastime can have some of my wandering thoughts by answering this letter, and with the kindness of the editor. I will sign myself

HAD TRIED MANY REMEDIES FOR CONSTIPATION

FOUND NONE TO EQUAL

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills

Constipation is one of the most prevalent troubles the human race is subject to, and is the greatest cause of many of our ailments. Keep the Bowels open and you will very seldom be sick.

Mrs. M. Bell, 467 Harris St., Vancouver, B.C., writes:—"I had tried many remedies for Constipation and never found any so satisfactory as your Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills."

We always keep them in the house and would not be without them.

"I recommended them to a neighbor and she is highly enthusiastic about them, as her's is a very difficult case, and she expected no good results from them. You may imagine her surprise and gratification when she found that they completely cured her."

Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills are 25c per vial, or 5 vials for $1.00, at all dealers, or will be mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.
