

Mugwump

Mugwump is a weekly column in the editorial section, written by the Managing Editor. It usually serves to vent the frustrations that develop in the course of a weekly layout session. These range from problems with the Registrar, the Business Office, the Government, the Student Union, and just about anything else imaginable. A lot of what is written is political. A lot of what is written is silly. A lot of people will have stopped reading by this point.

As I'm not all that annoyed at anyone, and I want to save some vitriol for later use, this is about all I'm going to say. To fill the remainder of the space, we're running a PSA for Orientation. Rah.
