

No money order exceeding $100 in amount can be granted in any office in Canada; but Postmasters are at liberty to grant two or more orders for $100, or for any lesser sum. They cannot, however, grant two or more orders for sums of or under $30 on the same day to the same applicant in favor of the same payee.

POST OFFICE SAVINGS BANK.

1. The direct security of the Dominion is given by the Statute for all deposits made in the Post Office Savings Banks.

2. Any person may have a deposit account, and may deposit nearly any number of dollars, from $1 up to $300, or more, with the permission of the Postmaster General.

3. Deposits may be made by married women, and deposits so made, or made by women who shall afterwards marry, will be repaid to any such women.

4. As respects children under ten years of age, money may be deposited—

FIRSTLY—By a parent or friend as trustee for the child, in which case the deposits can be withdrawn by the trustee until the child shall attain the age of ten years, after which time repayment will be made only on the joint receipts of both trustee and child.

SECONDLY—In the child's own name—and, if so deposited, repayment will not be made until the child shall attain the age of ten years.

5. A depositor in any of the savings bank post offices may continue his deposits at any other of such offices without notice or change of pass book, and can withdraw money at that savings bank office which is most convenient to him. For instance, if he makes his first deposits at the savings bank at Cobourg, he may make further deposits at, or withdraw his money through, the post office bank at Collingwood or Quebec, Sarnia, Brockville, or any place which may be convenient to him, whether he continue to reside at Cobourg or remove to some other place.

6. Each depositor is supplied with a pass book, which is to be produced to the postmaster every time the depositor pays in or withdraws money, and the sums paid in or withdrawn are entered therein by the postmaster receiving or paying the same.

SUBSCRIBER—What is the best time and soil to raise celery? Ans.—Celery succeeds best on low, moist soil. The seed is sown in a hot bed in March, and the plants transplanted when large enough in rows, three feet apart, that have been dug out about eight or twelve inches deep. The bottom is made rich with well rotted manure, and the plants are set out eight inches apart in the trenches. As the plants grow the soil is thrown into the trenches until they are filled, and after that the plants are earthed up with soil from between the rows for the purpose of blanching the stalks.

JULY.—Farmers are so frequently deceived and humbugged by quacks and flashy pretenders that it seems necessary to drop a word of caution. Patent churns—patent washers—patent springs—patent adjusters, &c., &c., are offered here and there and every where. In some neighborhoods never a week passes but some grand new notion is temptingly offered to the unwary. We do not say that every thing so offered must be bad, but we have seen the remains of so many infallibilities lying round many a farm yard that it ought not to be necessary to give any warning. Specially be careful to what you put your name. You may be pledging yourself to do what may prove ruinous. Those patent rights have been a shocking deception. Keep yourself free from unnecessary and unprofitable entanglements.
