ENGLISH NUN DECORATED.

Many honors have been awarded in connection with the South African war. None has been more worthily deserved than that which was paid at the Mafeking Catholic convent when Col. Vyvyan presented to Mother Teresa the Royal Red Cross as a mark of dis-tinction from the late Queen Victoria. It will be remembered that during the siege noble work for the relief of distress was done by a little band of ladies. The bursting shells did not deter them from their errands of mercy, and amidst great misery and privations they were ministering angels. band Mother Teresa was the Of that Mother Teresa was the head. Queen Victoria determined that three those ladies should receive the Royal Red Cross.

Col. Vyvyan, acting on behalf of his superior, Gen. Maxwell, tendered the cross to Mother Teresa, and in a grace-ful speech congratulated her as a personal friend. Ceremonies of this kind are not rare in the case of nuns. Mother Teresa acted with wonderful courage and patience, but she only did what nuns always do when duty calls them to a post of danger.

The habit of mind which I will call the Cath-olic spirit, has five signs or rules, which will be found in a true Catholic student. They are to ving submission to the Church, devoiton to the saints deference to theologians, fear of cardinal Manning. Judge Doyle of Grand Rapids declares that over indulgence by too fond parents and lack of kindly solicitude by carless parents are the imo grant causes of youthful delinquency.
