JUNE 14, 1918

CHATS WITH YOUNG MEN

TRUE OR FALSE

Criticism may be hard to endure but it is a tonic to nobler endeavor. A young man who was very sensitive to criticism, and complained bitterly of how much opposition he encountered, had an older friend. woman who was an artist in illuminating manuscripts. This friend sent him a beautifully illumined copy of Gladstone's saying, which she called: "A Counsel of Power."

"Censure and Criticism never hurt anybody. If false, they can't injure unless you are wanting in man ly character; and if true, they show man his weak points, and forewarm him against failure and trouble.'

the motto. ere was power in and the recipient took it to heart. stopped complaining and marched ahead. There is power in such words for all young people, most of whom are inclined to take criticism too hard, and resent it foolishly. Criticism is like a searchlight; it may beat fiercely, but it can show only what is there. False criticism soon disproves itself. No honest valuable life can be downed by censure. Censure and objection are negative. They are not foes. They can even be made into friends. The man who learns by his mistakes, the girl who resolves never again to merit criticism by her actions, have not been hurt. They have been greatly and permanently benefitted.

Another valuable thing can be learned from the sting of censure, when one has felt it deeply. That is not to criticise others habitually or harshly. To return good for evil, to do unto others as we would that they should do unto us, is applicable here. The true Christian will not censure others, and will accept criticism in a humble but courageous spirit.

THE TWO PERIODS

Psychologists who have studied the subject tell us that in the psychology of success-success won by a man's own efforts-there are always two periods.

There is the period of struggle. Every man who amounts to anything wins his way at first by will power and sheer endeavor. He has to all his energy to climb the hard places determinedly, to fight and per severe. At first, the battle is exhaust ing, and often seems hopeless. But the thing to do is to hold on. day by day, through this first period.

Then comes the period of habit formation. When the will has i nsisted upon certain acts or thoughts over and over again, a path, so to speak, is cleared in the mind. Daily travel sets in over this path, and a habit is formed. Soon the thing that was so hard becomes easier and easier. The new method of thinking or acting becomes organized and solidified. The will now occupies itself with details, and finishes up the method, so that it ends by being al-most automatic. All high efficiency is the result of these two periods first, hard, conscious struggle second, easy, unconscious habit. Will first-perseverance next-there is the whole secret of success, in four words.

A POINT TO REMEMBER

A well known poet and humorist advocated temperance and regular hours in a witty after-dinner speech in Philadelphia.

He concluded with an abjuration to the business man to proceed directly home from the office, without any stops at this cafe or that.

For." said the humorist. " the man who goes straight home will always go home straight."

A MAN OF INTEGRITY

OUR BOYS AND GIRLS

NOBODY'S FRIEND "You will probably have a little rouble with Bernard at first," said

.

Mr. Russell on entering his son, aged fifteen, in Holy Cross Academy. "In what particular?" asked Brother Lawrence, the president. "Well, you see the boy's mother died when he was but eight, and I being busy with my professiona duties, was rather negligent in train-ing him. The consequence is that he has been permitted to run the streets and associate with a rough class of boys I noticed that he is rather undisciplined, but he will get over that." "I hope so; but make him toe the mark, even if you have to use the rod.

Bernard was a typical boy of the street grafted on a boy of good breed-It is not surprising, then, that ing. he found it hard to get used to the new life. From the very first he did | lap, Bernard was not more than a not take well with the other boys. Among the boys who had taken a special dislike to him were Daly, coach, and Moran, captain, of the first track team. Said Daly to a are group of the students: "That new guy's got too much gall. Did you hear him trying to give me pointers on coaching yesterday?" "Yes, and did you hear him brag what he can do? He's punk," returned Moran. "He's as grouchy as an old clock."

chimed in Bobby Johnston. "He says this place is worse than a prison, and I suppose he knows." Whew! wasn't he sore last night when the boys put him under the pump? They're going to keep it up ence was called on for a speech, to till he gets over his grouch." Then Daly spoke impressively. know something about him.

wouldn't have peached on him, but he's so confounded fresh. I read in the paper that he and a gang of other toughs beat up an old Italian and got away with all his stuff-so I warn you fellows to look out for your pocket books and other valuables. "He'd better not try that here," declared Moran, "or he'll get worse than the pump.' Hence Bernard's life at the Academy was not the most pleasant. The students took delight in tormenting him, and the professors conduct and lack of application. Twice he had been up for expulsion ; but, chiefly through the intervention and his teacher of mathematics, he had been given the alternative of doing a long detention. Time passed but things did not improve. The real cause of his unpopularity was due to Daly and Moran, both of whom resented a his great devotion to the poor and criticism by Russell. Being recog-nized as leaders, they took advantage of their influence to discredit him and to make him the butt of the academy

The situation had become almost unbearable to Bernard and he was thinking seriously of running away, but an ever-watchful eve was observ ing him. Brother Luke more than any other member of the faculty, had the confidence of the boys. He was the organizer of their teams and the most enthusiastic promoter of all student activities. A strongly marked trait was his sympathy the timid and the persecuted. Noticing that Bernard was very dejected, spoke to him kindly and offered to help him in any possible way. At first Bernard met his advances with indifference ; but he soon recognized the Brother's sincerity and opened ary his heart to him. Brother Luke then pointed out Bernard's worst lic of average intelligence and ordinfaults and gave him a few helpful ary good Catholic education ought to our own responsibilities. suggestions. He also spoke to Roberts, captain of the second It is to be feared that the vast ourselves must defend the lambs of bulk of even devout and well-educated track team, requesting him to give Bernard a chance to make good in Catholics, occupy the time of Mass the sports and to help him along in with all sorts of prayers and especi ally the rosary—all excellent in them-selves—never think for a moment every way. Sympathy was what Bernard needed; it cheered him up. Progress of the prayers said by the priest at was slow, however. It was hard to change from a tough, as he had been idea what Mass is being said, what idea what Mass is being said, what saint commemorated (except in rare called, to a good boy; but Bernard really improved in his conduct and cases), or why the priest's vestments in the sports. His popularity, how-ever, thanks to Daly and Moran, had are white, red or green. Some good people meticulously fill up every moment of Mass time by

not increased.

THE CATHOLIC RECORD

was at his wits' end. There was no one to replace Moran. Roberts sug-gested Russell, but Daly scowled and "What are you giving us ? This is no time for kidding !" "You'd better try him," advised Brother Luke. "He'll surprise you." Seeing no other way out of the difficulty, Daly reluctantly consented altar. to let Bernard run. The Holy Cross crowd meanwhile were anxious to see who would replace Moran, and when they saw Russell come out, there was a general groan of dissatisfaction. "Why that fresh guy can't run as fast as a chicken," one remarked.

The signal was given and the run-ners on each side sped around the track. The third Holy Cross man crossed the line a yard behind the

St. John's man; and Bernard, who was the fourth Holy Cross runner, had to make up that yard against Brown, the fastest man on the St. John's team. At the end of the first foot behind Brown. The excitement of the spectators was intense. fice with a Missal uniting with the Everyone was shouting at the top of his voice. Ten yards more. They even. Bernard makes a spurt and wins by less than a foot. Holy Cross wins the meet. The cheering from the west bleachers was deafening. The students swooped down upon their new hero, hastily threw a robe around him, and raised him to their shoulders, shouting and singing with all their might. Then they executed a snake dance until they were exhausted. That night a bonfire. which had been prepared the day be-fore was lighted, cheers were given which he responded with great pleasure. When Brother Luke's name was called there was a pro-longed cheer. Then Daly and Moran spoke. Both gave credit to Bernard for winning the meet. When at last It is a weapon which outranges Bernard's name was announced, there was such a demonstration that it was several minutes before he could speak. Although a little embarrassed at first, he succeeded in thanking them warmly for their kind ovation. "But," said he, "you owe the victory to Brother Luke, who in my hour of dejection, extended to me a helping hand. If there has been anything that impressed me, it were obliged to punish him for mis- is this; and it shall be one of my objects in life to help the friendless and the persecuted.'

The remainder of Bernard's acadof Brother Luke, who was his prefect emy life was a period of happiness ; and when a few years later he was graduated, he carried with him the love and esteem of the faculty and of the students.

the friendless the name of "Every-body's Friend." The sign on the door of his modest office reads, "Bernard J. Russell, M. D."—Jerome Raymond Whitman.

USE OF THE MISSAL AT MASS

BISHOP OF SALFORD URGE A MORE WIDE-SPREAD USE OF THE MISSAL AT MASS ON THE PART OF THE LAITY

I wonder how many of my readers are in the habit of using a Missal when they hear holy Mass? asked the Right Reverend Bishop of Salford, England, in his "Message" to the 'Catholic Federationist " for Janu-

I venture to say that every Cathoto be able to use a Missal and to do so. champion our own interests.

vernacular, which the ordinary lay person with a little practice can use. But now you can get a Missal containing both the Latin and the Eng lish side by side; so that one who has quite a moderate kuowledge of Latin can most easily follow what the priest is saying or singing at the The objection will be made that it is difficult to find one's way about a Missal, that it is confusing and distracting. I admit that there is some truth in this, at least for beginners But a little practice will overcome this difficulty. One needs to learn how to use, not only the Missal itself, but also the Calendar for the current year. And this leads me to my prac tical suggestion, viz., that the elder students in our colleges, training col leges, and convent schools might well be taught how to use a Missal and encouraged to use it at every Mass they attend. It would be a precious acquisition for life. And I can as-sure my readers that, once the habit is formed of following the Holy Sacri priest in the very words of the Mass and therefore with the sentiments and prayers of the Church herself the Mass acquires quite a new and special significance, attendance at it becomes far more delightful and consoling; so that a person who has learnt to use the Missal will never give it up, even to gain time for his more favourite devotions. Try, and see for yourselves.

THE GREATEST OF WEAPONS

The printing press is indispensable to every cause which aspires to in-tellectual, social or political power, says Bishop Keating of Northc England in a recent Pastoral letter. every other. For good or for evil, its reach is almost boundless. Even the Church cannot afford to disregard it.

EVIL LITERATURE

It is unnecessary to dwell at any length on the calamity which every responsible body is deploring, name ly, the appalling growth of irreligi ous and immoral literature enemies of God are wonderfully well served. They seem to be able to com mand unlimited circulation, as well as unfailing supply of talent in the production of their publications. They are debtors to the just and the unjust. They find readers, not only amongst the corrupt, but among the young, light minded, the curious, and the hitherto innocent. The reason is obvious. Children will play with fire if they get the chance, and a base craving for the knowledge of evil is a relic of original sin. In Catholic countries the ravages of evil literature are checked by the laws of the Index, that is, by legislation prohibiting the use and circulation of bad books. The difficulty of enforcing such laws where Catholics are a mere fraction of the population throws all the great responsibility on priests, parents and teachers. Occasionally when the scandal has reached intolerable dimensions, the civil law steps in. But State intervention is neces sarily limited to extreme cases

Young people are depraved by plays, songs, pictures, novels, and pseudo-scientific treatises which the public censor is unable to interdict; and young Catholics, in particular, are pursued by the tracts of certain societies in which the misrepresentation of our belief is made a cloak to cover obscene and morbid suggestions. We must therefore, shoulder We must We

THE INCREASED NUTRITI-OUS VALUE OF BREAD MADE IN THE HOME WITH ROYAL YEAST CAKES SHOULD BE SUFFICIENT INCENTIVE TO THE CAREFUL HOUSEWIFE TO GIVE THIS IMPORTANT FOOD ITEM THE ATTENTION TO WHICH IT IS JUSTLY EN-TITLED. HOME BREAD BAKING RE-

DUCES THE HIGH COST OF LIVING BY LESSENING THE AMOUNT OF EXPENSIVE MEATS REQUIRED TO SUP-PLY THE NECESSARY NOUR-ISHMENT TO THE BODY. E. W. GILLETT CO. LTD. TORONTO, ONT. WINNIPEG MONTREAL

come to regard as her right. " It is good for a man when he hath born the yoke from his youth " says the Prophet (Lam. iii, 27). But when no pains have been taken to accustom a child to the sweet yoke of Christ when a child has been suffered, if not encouraged, to acquire precocious knowledge of the vices and vanities of the world, it is not likely that such a child, at a later age, will submit to he restraints of home or listen to the tardy warnings of an alarmed parent.

GOOD BOOKS

But merely prohibitive measures, nowever faithfully applied, will not protect our young people from evil literature unless good literature is placed within their reach. The taste or reading is growing more general. The wish "to know" is not, in itself an unlawful or undesirable appetite. If so many young men read nothing but sporting news, and so many young women nothing but novelettes or worse, the reason is that little else is to be found in their homes. The blame for this misfortune does not lie with our authors or publishers. Years ago it might have been pleaded that Catholic literature was scarce and dear. That excuse is gone. Catholic newspapers and magazines are as cheap as any. Catholic books are brought out by non Catholic as well as Catholic publishers at the usual trade prices. For the benefit of our poor, the Catholic Truth Soand similar associations are ciety owing to the generous and gratui tous services of their writers and others concerned in their publications. Thus, for many years past, there has been a continual and copious outflow of cheap, varied, and ex-

CATHOLIC NEWSPAPERS

scribe regularly to a Catholic news Our Holy Father the Pope, paper. Our Holy Father the Pope, and the Bishops at home and abroad have repeatedly urged this duty. Reasons are not far to seek. The religious newspaper is necessary if only to correct the innocent errors of the secular press. Unfamiliarity with our beliefs and practices, and astounding ignorance of our history and policy, account for many crude misstatements, which sometimes cause pain and annoyance, and sometimes no more than a smile. from time to time we become acutely conscious to some malignant influence working to place the Church in an odious light before the public and to provoke a quarrel. The Ferrer in-cident and the artificial agitation regarding the Ne Temere decree are cases in point. Such situations brook no delay. Only journalism, the modern quick-firing weapon, is able to deal with them. The marshalled battalions of wilful and calculated bring means the child of the second second lving must be shelled out of position they have time to entrench themselves, and our rank and file reassured before panic has set in. To be late, at such a crisis, is to be

A further, but by no means second ary, object of religious journalism is to create and foster our sense of solidarity. A Catholic cannot thrive in isolation. You will recall the familiar phrase of St. Paul (1 Cor., authar phase of 50. Fault foor, schism in the body," but will have all the members "mutually careful one for another." "If one member suffer anything, all the members suffer with it; or if one member glory, all the members rejoice with

The vocation of a Catholic jour nalist is to work for this union of hearts. By his faithful and conscientious labors, the working man in the back streets of our cities, family stranded in a country village. the recent convert shy and lonely amid unaccustomed surroundings. are enabled to feel their fellowship with the teeming millions of their brethren, and are gladdened and exalted by the splendid reality of > are made more and more familiar with the personages of the Catholic world ; they are taught more and more clearly the trend of Catholic thought ; they learn how to discern the kinship between certain movements at home, and the anti-religious conspiracies abroad ; reports of sermons and speeches keep them in touch with the intellectual, and parochial news with the practical life about them ; their sympathy is enlisted in charitable enterprises their zeal is kindled for the conversion of the heathen?as well as of our separated brethren ; they touched with compassion for those who are enduring persecution : their enthusiasm is evoked by the count less needs of heroism, small and great, which constitute the perennial reason to value and support Catholic journalism. Ten minutes' conversation is usually enough to discover a man's habits. The regular reader of actually able to undersell the market | the Catholic Press is alert, well-informed, and is deadly earnest about his religion. The man who confines his reading to the manipulated secular Press may be a practising Catho-lic, but will be likely to find himself out of sympathy with public move cellent literature, which has excited ments which express the living inthe envy if not the admiration of terests of the Church; even if his outsiders. Every class of readers attitude is not cold, critical and peevhas been catered for. There are ish towards his ecclesiastical grave books for scholars, and pamph- ers, and his opinions a feeble and lets for the working man; tracts on confused echo of class and racial prereligious questions, tracts on social judice-N. Y. Freeman's Journal.

faith, rooted more deeply in its prin-

Every Catholic family ought to sub ciples, competent to expound their religion to the interested inquirer, and if need be, defend it worthily against adversary. There is always much misrepresentation of Catholic teaching and Catholic purposes; some of it notwithstanding an admirable disposition on the part of many of our leading dailies to be highminded and impartial. It is the office of the Catholic editor to expose the mistakes of an erring press and make the truth stand forth. A Catholic paper makes useful knowledge accessible. For a small price, it gives us an abundance of interesting news, puts us in touch with the endeavors of the Church throughout her worldwide field of labor. Thus it fosters that spirit of fraternal union and cooperation whence comes the power to achieve great things for God and country.

It dries up the carcases and ly prevents the unpleasant attending the use of inferio Common Sense Roach and Bed Bug Exterminator sold under the same guarantee. 25c., 50c., and $1.00, at all dealers. I not at your dealers, write us and we will see that you are supplied. 29 COMMON SENSE MFG. CO. 381 Queen St. W., - Toronto.

Common Sense

Exterminator

KILLS RATS

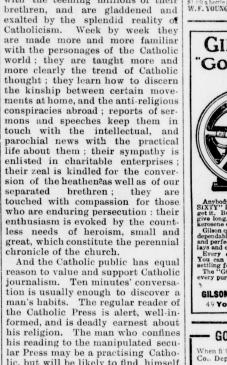

Will reduce Inflamed, Strained, Swollen Tendons, Ligaments, Muscles or Bruises. Stops the lameness and pain from a Splint, Side Bone or Bone Spavin. No blister, no hair gone. Horse can be used. $2 a bottle delivered. Describe Association and the antiseptic linimation of the antiseptic linimatic of the antiseptic of the antiseptic

I. Reduces Strained, 1011 Liga-Enlarged Glands, Veins or Muscles, uts, Sores, Ulcers, Allays pain, Price W.F. YOUNG, P.D.F. 299 Lymans Bldg., Montreal, Can.

Return mail will bring you $1.00 pair of Drafts to try FREE. Read this offer.

cessible editions of the Missal in the Straight ?" said a young man, speaking of one whose strict integrity had been mentioned. 'Why he is so straight that he actually bends the other way! He is so honest that he'd rather rob himself of a dollar in any bargain than even to have question whether he might have been unfair to the other fellow to the extent of a quarter. He isn't what you'd call a liptop business man, maybe-too slow and particular -but he's got a conscience that is known all over town."

It was a conscience that other people trusted unhesitatingly, even those who had a very inferior sort of their own, and respected even though they might sometimes langh at it.

And as for the good business-well all profits are not in dollars and cents, and some ledgers foot up slowly. It may show at last that one who maintained such a reputation in get on the team, but Daly ignored him. Brother Luke, thowever, saw an age of sharp practice and keen competition was doing an exceeding. ly good business, after all.

A FRIEND INDEED

'A friend is a being who will bear A friend is a being who will bear with us in all our faults and failings." Many of us may say, "How I wish I could have such a friend !" Suppose we say instead, "How I wish I could be such a friend !"-Catholic Columbian.

We men and women, as children of God, are not made primarily for bleachers. happiness, but for duty. Do your faithfully, fully, cheerfully, sweetly—not grimly, stoically, dog-gedly, hopefully—and happiness will

It is a noteworthy fact that the ed and fell back to third place. intellect of man seems unable to Roberts ran in the 220-yard dash and until moving beyond that outward place. The score was now 36 to 32 beauty it gazes on the spirit of in St. John's favor. There was great Nature, even as the mind seems uncheering from the St. John's crowd. able to appreciate the beautiful face With Moran out of the relay, it looked of woman until it has learned to ap- like certain victory for them. The of her soul.—Francis Thompson. prospects, surely, did look dark for the purple and white. Coach Daly long strings of admirable indulgenced Holy Cross, like most academies prayers, having no reference what had its athletic contests, among ever to the Mass of the day, and which the most important was the annual track meet with St. John's which they would feel it very wrong to omit ; but they have not a momen Academy. The previous meet had been won by St. John's and the Holy to spare for either the proper or the ordinary of the Mass which is being Cross team were determined to re celebrated before them. This is not cover their lost prestige. They had being able to see the wood for the practiced until they thought them.

trees selves invincible. Bernard tried to Yet such good folks know as well as you or I that the holy Sacrifice of the Mass is not merely a quiet halfthat they were weak in substitutes. hour in which to "get in" one's daily prayers. It is an act which we and, when he heard that Bernard had done track work at home, in ought to follow with the most care duced Roberts to try him out. Ber-nard surprised Roberts and the ful attention and to participate in. The faithful attending Mass are true co-partners in its offering. The Brother, especially in the dashes. At last the great day arrived. An enthusiastic crowd of Holy Cross priest at the Orates fratres proclaims that it is "my sacrifice and yours." supporters, wearing purple and white Now, there is no better way of partiribbons, occupied the west bleachers, cipating in the great sacrifice than and about an equal number of St. by following step by step with the priest, joining with him in the very John's rooters occupied the east words he utters—readings from the Epistles or Gospels : verses from the At the end of the sixth event, the score stood 28 to 22 in favor of Holy Cross. In the 440 yard dash, Moran, Psalms; prayers either connected with the feast of the day, or with the the Holy Cross star who had already "ordinary," that is the unchanging portions of the Mass. Than these, taken part in several events, weaken.

no more beautiful and touching devotions can be found. To use them thus is surely pre-eminently to think and feel and pray with the Church. whose voice they are. And to do so, we must use the Missal.

USE OF MISSAL

Nowadays this is quite easy. Of course there have always been ac-

the flock. No deputy is at our service. SUPERVISION

A Catholic parent's first duty is supervision. He is bound to know. not only what company and what hours his children keep, but also what books they read, what places of amusement they frequent, and the character of the entertainments. Good parents and wise parents are faithful iu the discharge of these obligations. But many parents are too careless to be good, and too worldly to be wise. They shirk their duties while the children are young. When the seeds of early corruption are bearing fruit they find their authority gone. A son grows up vicious because he learned to question the religious truths which would have restrained the first riot of his passions. A daughter grows up vain, selfish, prurient, unruly and discontented, because she has been allowed to feed herself upon unwholesome fiction, and misses at home the flattery and indulgence which she has biographies of Catholics eminent in secular life; refutations of anti-Catholic calumnies, exposures of anti-Catholic bigots ; answers to all the usual objections drawn from history and science; prayer-books, books of instruction and devotion, and the Book of books, the inspired Word of God. Even the weary factory-hand has not been forgotten and, in place of the 'penny-dreadful' is offered, for the same modest sum, stories by our most talent writers.

CIRCULATION

ingranl

Why is this wealth of Catholic thought and feeling, this specific against the poison of the infidel and immoral press, "a buried treasure" for the bulk of those for whom it is intended? The answer is unquestionable. For want of adequate cir culation. We are so accustomed to have everything brought to the door that we begrudge the infinitesimal pains requisite to obtain anything that is not "stocked" by the trade. In most places Catholic books and newspapers can be had with no more trouble than is involved in ordering them at a bookstall; yet how often s that modicum of trouble taken? Public libraries will usually sub. scribe for Catholic books for which there is any demand : yet how seldom do we take the trouble to make the necessary requisition! Our Catho-lic novelists alone would exercise a wholesome influence on the largest and most susceptible class of readers if only their work were 'pushed ' as assiduously as inferior and exceeding. mischievous productions. Th Catholic Reading Guild has come into existence for the express purpose of meeting some of these diffiulties, and to secure the circulation and people is essential to success.

THE WORSHIP OF THE MADONNA To the common Protestant mind the dignities ascribed to the Madonna have been always a violent offence they are one of the parts of the Catholic Faith which are opened to rea-sonable dispute, and least comprehensible by the average realistic and materialist temper of the Reformation. But, after the most careful ex amination, neither as adversary nor as friend, of the influences of Catholicism for good and evil, I am persuaded that the worship of the Madonna has been one of the noblest and most vital graces, and has never been otherwise than productive of true holiness of life and purity of character. There has probably not been an innocent cottage home throughout the length and breadth of Europe during the whole period of vital Christianity in which the imaged presence of the Madonna has not given sanctity to the humblest duties and comfort to the sorest trials of the lives of women; and every brightest and loftiest achievement of the arts and strength of manhood has been the fulfilment of the assured prophecy of the poor Israelite maiden : "He that is mighty hath magnified me, and holy is His name."—Ruskin.

THE MISSION OF THE CATHOLIC PAPER

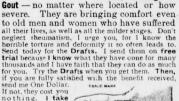

It is the mission of the Catholic paper, says Archbishop Christie, to offset the dangerous literature of the day by supplying Catholics with wholesome reading. We wish our growing children who will be the of Catholic literature so far as that mothers and fathers of the country a end can be reached by organization. few years hence to find their pleasure But the active co-operation of priests and instruction in literary occupation which will enforce those lessons Every priest, especially, should be in of faith and duty which their Church touch with the Guild and eager to utilize all the help it is able to afford. wish them to be strengthened in their

To everyone suffering with I Make This Unlimited Offer

F.

I'll send you Dollar pair of Magic Foot Drafts the same day I get your coupon-fresh from the laboratory, ready to begin their work the minute you put them on. They are reon. They are re-lieving every stage and condition of FRED'K DYER, Cor. Sec. Science, Lumbago or really do just what I claim for them? Address Magic Foot Draft Co., Dept. Px24, Jackson, Mich. Send no money-just the coupon. Write today-now.

.

A Good Used Piano is often better than a cheap new one.... We have all makes in those slig used instruments taken in part payment Player Planës. Send for list and bargain pi to-day atking make and style preforred. The Bell Piano and Music Wareroom