Shipping Notes.

West India line strm, Orinoco, Capt. Bale, reached port Saturday from Demerara, West Indies, etc., with 1000 tons of hand and passengers.

Fine weather was enjoyed on Thursday night, when it became rather boisterous. Friday the wind blew strong from the north, going into the northwest, increasing to a heavy gale, with high seas. The Orinoco, however, came through the blow without any mishap. Capt. Bale reports, Nov. 22, at 2 p. m., weather hazy, with the wind S. W., he sighted a vessel on the port bow, heading to the westward, apparently a schooner. The Orinoco's course was altered and she ran towards the vessel. At 2.30 p. m. the steamer passed about one cable's length from the derelict, which proved to be a barkentine rigged and waterlogged. All spars were standing, sails furled on yards; peak of mainmast and the rat, all intact. There were no signs of life on her; no name to be seen on stern or bow. She was a vessel of about 400 tons with forward and aft houses painted white. Both bow anchors were on the bow, and the vessel was in a list. Her position was in lat. 40.56, lon. 65.55. Capt. Bale says the vessel is dangerous to navigation. She was apparently Norwegian built, and this leads to the belief that the derelict was the barkentine schooner, Capt. Williams, which sailed from Bridgewater, Nov. 3 and was abandoned Nov. 5, one hundred miles W.S.W. of Cape Sable. The crew were picked up on Nov. 8, by steamer "Farmaid" and landed at Halifax.

The following persons came as passengers: Eva Rebeck, for Toronto. Second cabin-Georgette Thornton, Barbados; Grace Jacobs, Virginia Archibald, Eliza Rolet, Sarah Harris, Catherine Phillips, Givonia Vaught, Sarah Haze, Henry Dyer, all from St. Kitts; Andrew Taylor, W. Dole, Irene Vallis, all from Bermuda.

Sch. W. H. Baxter, Capt. McBride, Philadelphia Oct. 26 for Sydney, has reached Barbados with loss of some sails in the Bay of Sydney.

Schooner Republic, Capt. Wm. Ogilvie, for whose safety some anxiety was felt, reached St. Andrews with mis-hap, and is now discharging there.

The Furness line strm, Annapolis, which arrived at Halifax from Liverpool via St. John's Nfd, Thursday afternoon, was detained three days over her scheduled time at Liverpool owing to her propeller getting out of order and having to be docked to repair it.

The United States government has taken over the work of planting buoys in the harbor of Portland, Me, to mark the channel. The local lines of steamers all have their own line of buoys which they are washing over her regular routes which they sail to guide them on their course.

Sydney Post: The last shipment of coal from the Dominion Coal Co. for 1906 up to the St. Lawrence was made on the 23rd inst. The 10,000 ton steamer Borgestad pulled away from International Pier, heading Montreal with 6,500 tons of coal beneath her hatches.
