Our Idea of Trade Building

We believe that people wish to trade where they can do best, and that to get their trade is necessary to do best by them. This is the principle that we have tried to apply, and it has proven effective.

We are sure that our business will keep on growing. It will grow because all those features that have brought trade are still in operation. We want your trade, and we ask for it solely on the basis of our intention and ability to do you good. We ask you to come here whenever you need anything that a druggist ought to sell, and feel sure that if you come once you will continue to come.

Very few knew the many warm friends the late W. E. Hamilton had among the leading citizens of Chatham. The late editor of the Market Guide was always a gentleman and "ever his failings leaned to virtue's side," and it is no wonder that many mourn his sudden departure. N. H. Stevens was among the number, and he was always a warm friend of the dead man of letters. In the fall, Mr. Stevens always saw that the aged editor had warm underclothes and the overcoat Mr. Hamilton was wearing at the time of his death was a present from his friend the President of the Canada Flour Mills Co. His Honor Judge Bell and Sheriff Gemmill were also among the number of those who made life brighter for the late editor of the Market Guide.

A WELL-KNOWN DAIRYMAN RUN INTO BY A TRAIN.

I was run into by a train and had both my legs broken and about the General Hospital for about five months. The fractures healed, but my limbs were so sore and stiff that I could scarcely use them to stand or walk upon. I left the hospital, went home and tried a number of liniments; none did me any good. I was then recommended to try Kelpion; and from the first application of Kelpion the pain and stiffness ceased, and by the free use of it, well rubbed in, I was enabled in a few days to return to my business and suffered comparatively no pain. I will use it when necessary, and would not be without it in my house. I am constantly recommending it to persons on my route for every ailment I hear of, and can truly say that so far I have never heard of "Kelpion" failing to accomplish a relief or cure in any one instance.

LIFE GUARDS.

The Life Guards are two regiments of cavalry forming part of the British household troops. They are gallant soldiers, and every loyal British heart is proud of them. Not only the King's household, but yours, ours, everybody's should have its life guards.

The need of them is especially great when the greatest foes of life, diseases, find allies in the very elements, as colds, influenza, catarrh, the grip and pneumonia do in the stormy month of March. The best way that we know of to guard against these diseases is to strengthen the system, with Hood's Sarsaparilla—the greatest of life guards. It removes the conditions in which these diseases make their most successful attack, gives vigor and tone to all the vital organs and functions, and imparts a genial warmth to the blood. Remember the weaker the system the greater the exposure to disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the system strong.
