HOME-MADE MEDICINE

Said to Relieve Kidney Trouble and Rheumatism

One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion ;
One ounce Compound Salatone ;
Four ounces Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla ;

Mixed, and taken in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime, is stated by a prominent physician to give most excellent results in kidney or urinary afflictions, and also in rheumatism and sciatica. The mixture opens the clogged pores of the kidneys, thus assisting them in their work of filtering all waste and poisonous matter from the blood, and expels these in the urine. To allow this poisonous matter to remain means that it will settle in the muscular tissues or joints, and cause the untold misery known as rheumatism.

The mixture is composed of harmless vegetable ingredients which can be purchased at any good drug store, and mixed at home.

Anyone suffering from any of these afflictions will no doubt be pleased to learn of so simple and highly recommended remedy.

WAYERTON.

(Received too late for last issue.)

Wayerton, Dec. 2—Not seeing any notes from here for quite a while I thought some person should write a few.

BREAKS HER ENGAGEMENT

WASHINGTON, Thursday —, Miss Helen Squiers, youngest daughter of Herbert G. Squiers, American minister to Panama, has broken her engagement to Joseph W. J. Lee, United States minister to Guatemala, now on sick leave in this country.

Miss Squiers, who is now in Washington, and is about to return to Panama, says that personal reasons led to her decision.

"Stories that Mr. Lee was engaged to some one else, who wished to make trouble, have absolutely nothing to do with this matter," she said to-night. "We all hold Mr. Lee in high respect, but he and myself have come to an understanding without consideration of any outside circumstances."

The statement virtually shows that Miss Squiers doesn't believe Countess Festetics, divorced wife of Count Rudolph Festetics, who said that Mr. Lee was engaged to her, and that she had not and would not release him.

Mr. Lee, Miss Squiers says, is now in New York, recovering from the attack of fever which he contracted nearly a year ago. Formerly of the Rough Riders, now United States minister to Guatemala.

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute," says the doctor. "Health Coffee' is really the closest Coffee Imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real Coffee in it either. Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for Coffee. For sale by THOS. J. DURICK.

New Passenger Coaches for Grand Trunk

The Grand Trunk Railway System have added to their equipment twenty beautiful new passenger coaches of the most modern construction and conveniences. The company are being commended by the travelling public for the exquisite workmanship and the superior accomodations they afford the public.

The cars are exceedingly neat, spacious and in every respect and detail modern and first class. The merest detail has been given most careful consideration by the mechanical department of the Grand Trunk Railway System. The management had in view the accommodations of the patrons of the road and wanted to afford them the best possible.

DESCRIPTION OF CARS.

The cars are 67 feet 6 inches long over end sills, 9 feet 6 inches wide over side sills, affording a total seating capacity of 75 passengers. They are designed so as to afford the greatest possible strength, having steel platform, wide vestibules, bottom and end construction being welded iron throughout, and mounted on Grand Trunk standard six-wheel trucks equipped with steel-tired wheels. They are provided with windows having double sash design and semi elliptic gothic sash set with opalescent glass of neat pattern.

The interior of the car is a model of beauty. It is made of selected mahogany, being a plush design and provided with inlay lines and ornaments. The ceiling is of the empire design, neatly decorated in gold, the interior gothics being semielliptic set with opalescent glass. Dainty pattern silk-face paritasote curtains are used.

The coaches are equipped with patent high-back seats upholstered in the best quality green frieze plush, while the commodious smoking room, which affords room for 14 passengers, is fitted up with leather covered seats. The cars are heated with direct system of steam heat, lighted with gas, equipped with statuary bronze trimmings and white metal lavatories, and water flushing toilets.

MANY MINERS ENTOMBED

Deadly Fire Damp Cause of Their Imprisonment

FAYETTE CITY, Pa., Monday—Between twenty-five and thirty miners possibly more, are entombed in the Naomi mine of the United Coal Company, located three miles west of this city, and there is practically no hope that any of them are alive. The imprisonment is due to an explosion of black damp at 8 o'clock last night, soon after the night force went to work. It is said a miner entered an old working with an open lamp and caused the explosion. Had the disaster occurred on any other night except Sunday, the number of victims would have been twice as large.

Only mail Force At Work.

The mine employs from 275 to 300 regularly, about one fourth of them driving entry at night, but on Sunday night only about half the regular force go to work. The shafts and the concrete sides are broken down so as to completely close the passage back a considerable distance. About 100 feet from the entrance is located the first air shaft, and from this deadly gas is pouring in in great volume. The gas found in the mines in this territory is so poisonous that no human being can live in it for more than a few minutes, and for this reason it is not believed a single one of the entombed men are still alive. One man, an unidentified foreigner managed to climb to the top of the first air shaft, but dropped dead there.

No Sign of Life.

No sign of life has come from the others. Just after the night force entered the shaft there was a flash which lighted up the mine and all around it, there was a roar as stones, coal and slate crashed down into the entries crowded with workmen. Then utter darkness followed the explosion, putting out of business the lighting and air facilities of the mine. The mine immediately filled with gases, and several not hurt by the explosion perished while running to get into the fresh air. The shock of the explosion shook buildings in Fayette City, and could be heard for miles. In the homes of miners the explosion fell like a death signal and emptied every miner's cottage in the vicinity.

Women and Children Sob.

The occupants of these, men women and children gathered around the mine this morning. The women and children cry continually, and stare with horror at the seemingly fruitless work of rescue. The explosion completely wrecked the air system, and that alone means that nothing can live long in the mine. Thousands are flocking to the mine's mouth, where every means known to mine operation is being exerted to reach the men. Aid has been secured from nearby towns. While some hold torches others are pegging away with pick and shovel to reach their fellow workmen. What seems an almost insurmountable mountain of debris is between the struggling workmen and the imprisoned men. Some rescuers are trying to tunnel this, while strenuous efforts to reach the imprisoned men by other means are being made.

DIED IN IGNORANCE.

PHILADELPHIA, Monday—Ignorant of the sensational developments following the killing of Harry Ferree by A. J. Detsch in her house, 1840 North Twenty-second street, and uninformed as to relations between Ferree and Mrs. Josephine Detsch, who as a child was her charge, Mrs. Sarah M. Worthman died of senile debility in her home late Sunday night. She was 87 years old.

Mrs. Worthman was the last of eleven before Detsch, the injured husband, shot Ferree, and apart from the actual shooting, which she heard, knew nothing of the affair. Relatives, fearing that the end was near, saw to it that her tranquility was not disturbed and a newspaper was never in her room.

Mrs. Detsch, as Miss Josephine Gorgas, was partly reared by Mrs. Worthman, who had also cared for Mrs. Detsch's mother before her. After her marriage Mrs. Detsch continued to reside in the same house as Mrs. Worthman.

Mrs. Worthman was the last of eelven brothers and sisters, each of whom lived to be more than 85. She leaves no descendants, but is survived by several nieces and two nephews. She will be buried from her home at 2 o'clock next Monday afternoon, her pastor, the Rev. Dr. John Loughran Scott, of McDowell Presbyterian Church, officiating at the funeral services.

THE BUSY MAN'S MAGAZINE.

The Christmas number of The Busy Man's Magazine contains an unusually large number of articles bearing on Canada and the British Empire. The stories, too, are Canadian in tone, (contributed, of course, by Canadian writers). "A Canadian Wit," is the title of a bright sketch of Samuel Nordheimer, Toronto, who enjoys the distinction of being a brilliant entertainer, as well as a most successful business man. "Banking in Canada," is a short resume, by a veteran banker, of the banking system, during the past fifty years. "The Former Rulers of the Canadian West," a brief history of the Hudson's Bay Company will appeal to all interested in the early developments of Canada. "Training of Canadian Farmers," illustrates the good work that is being carried on by James W. Robertson, principal of the Macdonald College, at Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec. "Creative Power of Advertising" should be studied by every business man. Other articles of deep interest are "Trade Union and Trusts," "What Economi cost as a Business Girl," "Retirement from Business," "The Straightway of Life" "Story of the Clarendon Press," "To Cut the Ocean in Two" and "Life on Board the Dreadnought." A half-dozen photographic illustrations of "Men of the Hour" add much to the appearance of the magazine. This is, without doubt, the strongest number of the Busy Man's that has yet appeared.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W Whitney of Duluth, Minn., are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a baby boy.

Mr. T. H. Whalen has opened a law office over T. S. McCarthy's store in Blackville, where he will be found on the first and third Saturday of each month.
