Funeral Services

Of New Periclean Victims of S.S. Newfoundland's Tragedy.

The funerals of Peter Seaward, Hezekiah Seaward, Robert Matthews and Charles Warren took place this afternoon and was attended by almost every Brother of the Loyal Orange and United Fishermen of Heart's Content. New Periclean and Winterton who could be present. Both societies met at the Heart's Content Hall, and accompanied by the united society's band proceeded to the Point and received the bodies of the brothers. Peter and Hezekiah Seaward, thence to the houses of Robert Matthews and Charles Warren, and from thence to the stables of the "Dead March" from "Sail" to St. Augustine's Church, where cortege was met by the Rector of the Parish Rev. F. Swan, D.D., and Rev. F. Bishop, Curate. The burial office commenced with the hymn, so appropriate to the occasion "Lead Kindly Light." Rev. J. M. Bishop read the Psalms, and the Rector the Lesson; then followed the hymn, "Jesus, Lover of my Soul," after which the Rector preached a beautiful, hopeful sermon from the beatitude "Blessed are they that mourn for they shall be comforted." In a very clear manner he gave instances of comfort from the Old and New Testament for those who trusted in God and the Christ.

After the address the congregation at the request of the Rector knelt in silent prayer for the Christian consolation of those who had been bereaved both at Periclean and elsewhere. Proceeding to the beautiful cemetery the bodies were laid in their last resting place, those of the brothers Seaward and Charles Warren in one large grave, and that of Robert Matthews in the family plot.

EAGER TO WORK

Health Regained by Right Food. The average healthy man or woman is usually eager to be busy at some useful task or employment. But let dyspepsia or indigestion get hold of one, and all endeavor becomes a burden. A woman writes: "A year ago, after recovering from an operation, my stomach and nerves began to give me much trouble. At times my appetite was voracious, but when indulged, indigestion followed. Other times I had no appetite whatever. The food I took did no nourish me and I grew weaker than ever."

"I lost interest in everything and wanted to be alone. I had always had good nerves but now the merest trifle would upset me and bring on a violent headache. Walking across the room was an effort and prescribed exercise was out of the question."

"I had seen Grape-Nuts advertised, but did not believe what I read, at the time. At last, when it seemed as if I were literally starving, I began to eat Grape-Nuts."

"I had not been able to work for a year, but now after two months on Grape-Nuts I am eager to be at work again. My stomach gives me no trouble now, my nerves are steady as ever, and interest in life and ambition have come back with the return to health."

Name given by Canadian Postman, Co., Windsor, Ont. Read "The Road to Wellville" in pks. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

and Charles Warren in one large grave, and that of Robert Matthews in the family plot.

At the conclusion of the Society's Ritual two verses of the evening hymn "Abide with Me," were sung. With little imagination one could think of these poor fellows struggling and stumbling through the gloom and shadows, through dreadful night and day, waiting home so distant and eternity so near, in the semi-stupor proceeding separation of soul and body praying:

"Hold thou thy cross before my closing eyes,
Shine through the gloom and point to the skies;
Heaven's morning breaks and earth's vain shadows flee,
In life, in death, O Lord abide with me."

Fairplay Writes.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—The engineering community of St. John's have been looking diligently in the daily papers for a little praise to be given the engineering staff of the rescue ship Bellefleur, who at the risk of their own lives drove the ship at her utmost speed to the relief of the sufferers. Every praise has been given the master and deck hands in general, but the engineers and firemen who had the toughest ordeal to come through, were neglected in this due praise. Of course, it was only the man with the marine engineering experience who was aware of the importance and effective part the engineers took in this noble work. I thereby voice the feelings of the engineers of St. John's by saying that the chief engineer, Mr. Lumsden and the engine room staff at the ss. Bellefleur deserve great credit for the way they managed to drive the ship to the scene of the disaster.

A New Singer At the Crescent.

SEE THE THREE-REEL SUBJECT. "The Deacon Bath," a grand story with a powerful plot in three reels, 2,000 feet long, will be the big feature in motion life this week when it will be presented at the Crescent Picture Palace on Monday night. Another big attraction will be the songs that the new vocalist, Mr. Sidney Ernschaw will render. Mr. Ernschaw has just completed a lengthy engagement with the Orpheum Theatre Montreal, and is popularly known as the singer that can certainly sing. Other pictures and songs will be advertised on Monday. During the past week the interior of the Palace has been receiving the attention of the management, and it now presents a very attractive appearance. Since opening four months ago the Crescent has won the popularity of lovers of motion pictures and refined entertainment, and it can be relied upon as the home of safety and comfort.

Big Tabloid Co. for Rossley's.

The Lavene Musical Comedy Company will open their engagement on Easter Monday at the old reliable show shop. There are twelve good all-round performers, with every thing new and up to date. Good singers, dancers and novelty acts. Something new and entirely different. Everyone will be pleased to see Tommy Lavene again, and every one will also be delighted to see Felix Martin in the big hit "When Bunties Pulls the Strings." There are many specialties all new and up to date; fun without vulgarity. Beautiful costumes and dainty girls, clever comedians. A big show that's sure to please; also some of the very best pictures money can buy, never seen here before. Steady, clear flickerless, run through Rossley's great Imperator machine.
