If there is one thing more than mother which gratifies us, it is the great volume of hearty thanks which come from grateful parents for the cares Hood's Sarsaparilla has effected upon their children. The agony of despair turns to unspeakable joy as mothers and fathers see dreadful sores and eruptions gradually yield to the potent purifying power of this great medicine, and bright boys and girls given perfect health. Read this:

When six months old the breaking out healed on his body, but his head, face and arms were a terrible sight. I passed many eleepless nights holding his little hands to keep him from scratching his face. I cannot tell what he suffered with the sores. One doctor attended him a year without avail. No one thought he would ever get well. He was almost a year old when I commenced to give him Hood's Sarsaparilla. He soon grew so much better that

JOHN BULL'S CASH Finds an Outlet in Mexico-A Big Street

Railway Deal. Oakland, Cal., March 9.-Information has been received in this city that Henry Butters, of Berkely, has closed a deal by which the entire street rail-way system of the City of Mexico has passed into the hands of an English syndicate. It is understood that not less than $3,500,000 has been paid by the London capitalists for the roads, and that much more will be expended in permanent improvements. The systems affected are extensive, and the exclusive franchise, which will be controlled by the Butters syndicate, considered of great value.

A BOER COURTSHIP.

Courting among the Boers is a novel proceeding. A young man, having, of course, asked permission of his father to court the hand and heart of some neighboring damsel-by neighboring. I mean anywhere within 50 miles-proceeds to purchase the most loudly-colored and decorated saddle-cloth for his horse that he can possibly find. He will spend large sums on this article of equine adornment, and one knowing the country can never mistake a young Boer going out courting. Mounted on his most spirited steed he approaches the house of the father of his ladylove. Unlike the youth of more civilized life, he avoids the lady and seeks her father, from whom he reverently asks permission to court his daughter. The old man returns no answer, but consults his vrou, and the youth joins the young folks. No more notice is taken of him during the day, but if his request be agreeable to the parents, when the hour for retiring comes the mother solemnly approaches the young man and maiden with a long tallow candle in her hand. This she places on the table, lights, and bidding the couple an affectionate good night, retires. This is the silent signal to the lover that his suit is successful. The young couple are permitted to sit up together in the kitchen so long as the candle lasts, when the lady retires to the one dormitory of herself and sis-ters, and the youth shares the bed of brothers or male portion of the

Tweive Thousand People Riot in Bilbos-United States Consulate Attacked and Defended Officers Wounded.

Bilbao, Spain, March 9.—There was another anti-American riot here today, and it was of greater importance than the previous disturbances. About 12,000 people took part this afternoon in the popular demonstration. The excitement was started by a group of young men at a street corner, who began cheering every soldier who passed by. Their conduct was soon imitated by other groups of people, until every soldier seen was cheered by the crowds, and some musicians who refused to repeat the "National Anthem" were beaten. The excitement increased, and the riotous groups formed in the main street, cheering for Spain, and denouncing the United States. The authorities did everything possible to maintain order. Almost the entire police force was turned out as soon as the populace assumed a threatening aspect, and the rioters were dispersed again and again. Eventually, however, the mob became so numerous and excited that the police were almost helpless. After the first demonstrations of sympathy with the army, the crowds had armed themselves with sticks and cudgels, and their numbers were so great that the police were swept aside, and an immense crowd gathered on the leading thoroughfares, and marched toward the residence of the United States consul, shouting, "Long live Spain!" and "Down with the Yankees!" On their way to the consul's residence, they hurled stones through the windows of stores, and private residences, overa number of vehicles, pulled several mounted policemen from their horses, and generally behaved in the most threatening manner. Stores supposed to be dealing in American goods naturally received the most attention from the mob, and the windows of the consul's house were badly shattered, although the police defended the build-

The mob then proceeded in the direction of the United States consulate, evidently intending to stone that building as well, but the authorities had taken the precaution to send a strong force of police to guard that building, and another detachment of police was stationed across the street leading to the consulate. Therefore, when the mob neared the United States consulate, it was confronted by the police, with drawn swords. The mob halted and then began pelting the police most vigorously with stones and pieces of brick. The policemen, however, held their ground, and a squad of the offitheir ground, and a squad of the offi-cers charged the rioters. The latter began firing pistols at the police, two of whom were wounded. This caused the police to charge in a body, and using their swords with good effect, the rioters were dispersed, yelling and hooting at the authorities and shout-ing "Down with the Yankees" and ing, "Down with the Yankees," and

'Long live Spain!" The police made a number of arrests and experienced considerable difficulty in escorting their prisoners to the depots. During the whole afternoon there was more or less disorder, and after the mobs had been quieted down and the police had been recalled, it was devided to been both the police proper.

THEY MAY SETTLE.

The Objectionable Waterworks Clauses in the City of London Bill-Commissioners Judd and Cowan Will Oppose Them -Settlement May Be Reached.

Water Commissioners Judd and Cowan held a conference with Mayor Little at the latter's residence on Saturday afternoon in regard to the waterworks clauses in the city of London bill. The bill, as it now stands, will be opposed by Messrs. Judd and Cowan when it comes before the bills committee of the Legislature. Clause 25 says that the council may issue debentures for $15,000 annually, to be expended on capital account for the extension and improvement of the system. Under clause 26 the commissioners are restricted from spending out of their capital account more than $5,-000, so that if the debentures were refused by the council they would have only the $5,000 at their disposal for the extension of the system. The expenditure on capital account, according to Commissioner Cowan, has never been as low as $10,000 in any year since the establishment of the works.

"If the council," said Mr. Cowan today, "refuse to issue debentures, un-der clause 25, and the commissioners are tied down by clause 26, the efficiency of the system would be endangered, as necessary extensions would have to be denied. We feel that the passage of the bill as at present drawn would mean such an assumption of control by the council as to tion of control by the council as to virtually render the commission useless. We also feel that if it is the council's intention to do this, the proper way to do it is to take a vote of the electors whether or not the coun-cil shall take over the waterworks department and run it by a committee or continue it tnder a commission."

An effort will be made to settle the differences between the commissioners and the council. The commissioners will insist upon the bill being amended to provide that in case of the council refusing to issue debentures when requested the council refusing to issue debentures when requested they (the commissioners) shall have authority to spend their revenue to the extent of $15,000. They consider that in a system as great as London's, fully $15,000 will be required yearly for extensions and improvements.

SNAKES AS THEIR WEAPONS.

Cuban Insurgents Employ Them in Burn ing Cane Fields of the Enemy. (From Buffalo News.)

It has been left to the Cuban insurgents to introduce one of the most novel methods of destruction yet known, that of the employment of snakes to fire the sugar cane fields. It is a generally accepted belief that all things are created for a definite and necessary purpose, but this is the first time the snake has been brought to a practical basis of usefulness.

The recent march of Gen. Gomez's troops through the sugar district was for the avowed purpose of destroying the plantations, and well has the purbeen achieved. Perhaps, however, if it had not been for the ingenuity of his men he might not have done so

Snakes are very plentiful in Cuba, but none more so than the varieties known as the maja and jubo. These the insurgents would catch by the hundred. The men would divide into squads, and form something like skirmish lines, only in closer order. These lines would slowly advance, beating bushes and ground as they progressed. As fast as one of the snakes was discovered a soldier would cleverly capture it and throw it into a sack he carried for the purpose.

When ready for use, the insurgents would dip the snake in crude petroleum grease, cans of which had been secured for the purpose, set them on fire and then released them in the cane fields. To fully appreciate the effect of this it is necessary to consider the fact that at this time of the year dry leaves cover the ground in the cane fields to the depth of several feet, and these leaves are ordinarily as dry as

The blazing snakes, as soon 9.s released, would make their way as rapidly as possible amid the leaves toward the center of the plantation, leaving a trail of fire in their wake. Imagine a hundred of these reptiles thrown almost simultaneously into the fields of great plantations, and the havoc they would cause can better be imagined than described. If the Spanish troops should reach the vicinity of one of these mammoth cane fires, they would be inclined to think a battle was going on, for as the cane burns fiercely there is a roaring and popping that, even to the trained ear, would seem like the rattle of musketry. This phenomenon is caused by the almost instant generation of gas from the cane by heat, which causes the cane to burst.

RED BUCK KILLED. Guthrie, O. T., March 9.-A special courier brought news from Arapahoe, 75 miles away from the railroad, of a fight between sheriffs' officers and the outlaws, Red Buck and George Miller, in which Red Buck was killed and Miller mortally wounded. The outlaws killed W. W. Glover two weeks ago, and were driven into the mountains. They were surprised by the seven officers, and riddled with bullets before they had a chance to get under cover.

EATEN BY A HOG. Genevea, Ala., March 9.-Mrs. Iouen, a farmer's wife in the western part of this county, was burning some yesterday, when a spark ignited her skirts, and burned her so that she died. While she lay suffering agomes, she was forced to witness three large hogs devour her two months' old which she had laid on the ground while she worked. Montgomery, Ala., March 9.—A daughter of John Hahn, a prosperous farmer of the Choctawhatchee Valley, was burned to death yesterday while burning brush. Her brother and sister attempted to save her, but their clothing became ignited, and both were fatally burned.

AGAINST FREE BORROWING. It is a safe rule, even among friends, never to borrow without leave. The man who has so much faith in your good nature as to take it for granted that you would gladly lend him a book or an umbrella, and therefore goes off with it without troubling himself to speak of the matter, may be a very agreeable person in some respects, but is certain to make himself once in a while a nuisance. The Memphis Commercial-Appeal relates an occurrence which shows how this habit of free berrowing may sometimes bring trouble upon the borrower himself. A young man had just bought an overcoat, a handsome, stylish garment. That evening it rained heavily. He was going out, and did not relish the thought of getting his new coat soaked. On a hat-rack in the front hall hung a mackintosh belonging to his brother, and as the young man's eye fell upon it he said: "Just the thing! John won't be going out, and I'll save my new coat as much damage as it would get in three weeks' wearing."

He slipped on the mackintosh, went out, and on his return found his brother in their room.
"Say, old man," said the borrower,

"I used your mackintosh tonight."
"That was all right," said the bro ther, "I got along very well without "You haven't been out this evening, have you?"

"Then what did you wear?" "Your new overcoat."
