MR. HOPE OF BOW FARK.

A Chat With This Well-Known Breeder of Shortherns.

A World reporter found Mr. John Hope of Bow Park, the well-known shorthorn breeder, in the Rossin house last night and embraced the opportunity to have a pleasant chat with that gentleman. Mr. Hope was very enthusiastic over the collection of prize animals that were brought together at the fat cattle exhibition just closed. "But," he continued, "something will have to be done ere next year in the way of providing suitable quarters to induce exhibitors to return." Mr. Hope gave an interesting account of a similar exhibition just closed in Chicago; in which the Canadian breeders in Chicago; in which the Canadian breeders carried off no less than fifteen first prizes. Bow Park carried off seven firsts. He said that the Chicago exhibition was in its fourth year, and the entries this season numbered 300. The exposition buildings, the scene of the national republican convention in 1880, the great Paraell meeting and other representations of the property of the prize were used for the memorable gatherings, were used for the exhibition, which lasted one week. Great rows of stables were erected, and the most scrupulous care was observed in keeping everything clean. The clite of Chicago and the west visited the show. The same there on which the statement of the repulfloors on which the statesmen of the repub-lie had gathered were afterwards tenanted by the blue-blooded stock of the south and west. And they were not injured in the least. Why can't we have the same in this

A Publisher's Pocket Picked. Mr. Patrick Boyle reported to the police Saturday afternoon that his pocket had been picked of $290. The money was in a book in the inside pocket of his overcoat He remembered having been jostled by two men while coming out of the post office and believed it was them who committed the theft. Mr. Boyle described one of them to Detective Reburn, who recognized the decription as answering to that of a stranger had noticed round the streets lately. The detective sallied forth and in less than an hour came across his man on Yonge street and arrested him. The stranger gave his name as Albert J. Williams. He is six feet high, about 32 years of age, and has a sharp appearance. No money was found on him. At the station Mr. Boyle that is a sharp appearance of the station of the statio identified Williams as one of the men who and jostled him at the postoffice.

Death of Dr. Riddel. A well known citizen passed away yes terday in the person of A. A. Riddel, M. D.

He had been ailing for some time and his ath was not unexpected. The doctor's er was rather an eventful one. A native of Scotland, he began life as a printer and in his earlier days was a frequent contributor to the press here and elsewhere. He abandoned the art preervative for medicine, and spent a num er of years in Mexico and South America here he saw military sorvice and becam oficient in the Spanish language. Re and was made a coroner, in which capacit he presided over more inquests than probably any other man in the city. He served in the corporation as councillor and adder lector was an old and esteemed mber of the Toronto Gun club. His age

Yet another channel is opened for the liberality of the benevolent amongst Canadians. It argues some temerity on the part of any group of gentlemen to launch another charitable scheme in a community vertise a great sale of furs at slaughter so dotted with charities as ours. But this so dotted with charities as ours. But this is what the Industrial school association of Toronto has done. And they justify themselves in the appeal which they make to the public, not in Toronto alone, but all over the province or the dominion. The police courts of this and other cities afford instances of lads, homeless or worse than homeless, vagrant, intractable, who for their vagrancy are forced to herd with older criminals in gaol, where their wild or blad tendencies are strengthened. The association proposes to provide a house for such lads, to teach them farm work, the care of horses, a trade, perhaps, Its work is intended to be, we understand, like that of Dr. Bernardo's homes in England, "Preventive Homes," he calls them, which have done a great amount of good by reserved. have done a great amount of good by rescuing boys—and girls too—from degrading surroundings. The scheme is one deserving of support. It has already received the endorsement of the provincial and city authorities and it is to be hoped that, as authorities; and it is to be hoped that, as gentlemen from different parts of Ontario

TESTING ITS MERITS.

So much has been said regarding the wonderful cures made through the aid of the spirometer, the invention of Dr. M. Souvielle of Paris exaide surgeon of the French army, that many eminent physicians have been induced to investigate the instrument and also the scientific standing of the International Throat and Lung Institute. All who have so investigated express themselves satisfied that the physicians, comprising the staff of the institute are thoroughly qualified medical men, that patients receive the latest and most scientific treatment, and that the spirometer is really a valuable addition to medical science. One very prominent physician said: "If there is anything in inhalation it can be got out of the spirometer. I am surprised at the powerful effects produced." Any one suffering from Ashma, Bronehitis, Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness, Consumption in its first stages or Laryngits should consult the physicians of the institute personally and be examined; if not, write for a list of questions and copy of "International News," published monthly.
