mense. Perhaps the day might come when the Industrial would be a Dominion Exhibition. In no other part of the Dominion could such an exhibition have been built up, he was sure. have been built up, he was sure; and when the little local jealousies had been overcome, we might have a grand

some banter of the President for calling on him so often. He wished to say, however, that the Dominion Government and the Industrial Exhibition had the same end in view in their labors. Both were engaged in educating the people of Canada and in demonstrating the country's resources. In the field of agriculture the Government was making special efforts to educate and demonstrate and develop. It had sent dairy instructors to all parts of the Dominion to with a result that the dairy outline the country increased, and the country increased. special efforts to educate and demonstrate and develop. It had sent dairy instructors to all parts of the Dominion with a result that the dairy output was immensely increased, and then with a view of demonstrating our resources before the world it had put our products on the British market in the best shape. Already we monopolied the cheese trade. Formerly we supplied but 1 per cent. of the butter consumed in Great Britain. Within the last two or three months, through consumed in Great Britain. Within the last two or three months, through the method of conveying it in cold storage across the water, 797,000 lbs. had been shipped to England. In concluding, he wished to say that he understood the Government had given the Board a 999 years' lease of its present grounds. When that lease came to be renewed he hoped the present Government would be in power—(laughter)—or at any rate in deference to the presence of Mr. Tait, a British Canadian Government—(cheers)—and that then over these British Canadian Government — (cheers)—and that then over these beautiful grounds no other flag would wave but that which now waves over Senator Ferguson was also called upon. He said that the two great producing classes were the manufacturers and the agriculturists. All other classes were but traders upon these. They ought to and did go hand in hand with mutual good-will.

Mr. Joseph Tait, as an ex-M.L.A., was called on in default of any actual member of the Legislature. He said

Richard Dennis, the Simcoe-street contractor, was severely injured in a runaway accident last evening. A horse owned by Ald. Hubbard ran away in Yonge-street north of Queen. The animal broke loose from the buggq and dashed down Yonge-street at a terrific rate. When near the Customs House, Mr. Dennis and two boys were driving in a carriage. The runaway dashed into the rig, overturned it, and spilled the occupants into the street. Mr. Dennis sustained a dislocated shoulder and was otherwise severely bruised. He was attended by Dr. King and sent to his home in a carriage. The boys escaped injury.
