

and many a spot reminded us of the rich and quiet scenery of England. The paths of numerous portages were spangled with violets and roses, and many wild flowers, while the currant and the gooseberry, the raspberry and plum, the cherry, and even the vine, were abundant. All this bounty of nature was imbedded, as it were, with life, by the cheerful notes of a variety of birds, and by the restless flutter of butterflies of the brightest hues. One cannot pass through this fair valley without feeling that it is destined to become, sooner or later, the civilized habitation of man, with their bleating flocks and lowing herds, their schools and their churches, their full garners and their social hearths. A little further on he speaks of the mineral wealth of the country. All this England has neglected to let her millions suffer want, and her thousands starve.

We have not space at present to pursue this subject further, or we could quote Mr. Thos. Simpson, who traversed the greater part of the remaining portion of the route in the winter months, and Colonel, then Captain Fremont. The latter tells us of the grass which cures itself standing, as it is said to do in Colorado, and of excellent pasturage 10,000 feet above the level of the sea. The last, or Pacific division of the route, is the finest of all. It boasts a tropical vegetation in a temperate climate. We may return to this subject ere long.

Our present need demands a territory presenting the highest advantages to emigrants, which can be reached within reasonable time, and by easy means of access. Such a territory we lately pronounced Colorado to be, and we see no reason to alter our views. But if within a brief period this country can offer equal advantages on her own territory and with equal, if not greater, facility of approach, and with a mighty imperial and national object and design involved in the boon, it is the duty of every citizen, not depraved and emasculated by cosmopolitan theories of decline, to do all in his power to assist in the realization of an undertaking pregnant with such vast and momentous consequences to the future destiny of Great Britain.

LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

LIVERPOOL, Wednesday, Oct. 29.

THE weather during the first portion of the week was warm and fine, but the latter part has been bitterly cold; ploughing continues to advance rapidly; we hear many complaints of the potatoes not keeping, particularly the late kinds, which are rotting more than usual. The country corn markets are no higher, but now that the reports have advanced these will doubtless follow.

At the London corn market on Monday last there was a small supply of English wheat, which met a ready sale at an advance of 1s per qr., and Foreign was in fair demand at the same advance; flour firm and 6d. per barrel dearer.

At our corn market, on Friday, there was a very decided improvement in the demand for wheat at 1d. to 2d. advance on previous market rates, owing to the accounts from New York of the break in the canal, preventing shipments to some extent. Flour was not dearer. Indian corn without change in value. Oats and peas remain the same.

At our corn market yesterday, there was about the usual attendance of country millers and dealers, who bought freely of wheat and the prices obtained at the end of the day were fully 4d. over the rates of Friday, or 1d. to 6d. advance on the week. Flour 6d. to 1s. dearer, and in better demand. Indian corn fully 6d. per qr. higher, and a large quantity sold. Peas firm. No change in oats.

Deliveries of British wheat for week ending 16th inst.:—62,774 qrs, against 70,703 qrs in 1863, and 79,292 qrs in 1867.

Imports into this port for week ending 18th Oct.:—Wheat, 41,632 qrs; oats, 7,687 qrs; peas, 84 qrs; Indian corn, 29,377 qrs; oatmeal, 8,350 loads; flour, 931 casks, 6,282 bbls.

Exports in the same time were:—Wheat 3,880 qrs; oats 125; peas, 70; Indian corn, 670 qrs; oatmeal, 2 loads; flour, 444 casks, 1,253 bbls.

Provisions.—We have again to report a large demand for butter, even with grass here still growing to an unusual extent. Lard continues dull without change. Bacon and hams unchanged. Cheese much wanted and again dearer.

Askes.—Sales very trifling. Pots and Pearls both at 8s. for 1863 brand.

Copper Ore.—A fair business in rich Regular at 81s. 6d., and Best at 83s.

HALIFAX MARKET REPORT.

HALIFAX, N. S., Oct. 28.

BUSINESS has been very active the past week and the exports have been light. The imports, however, are much above the average. Among the imports in addition to those given under the different headings below, (and the cargoes of hardware, &c., 22 "There" "Medway," and "Highflyer") are 2,333 tons coal from Cape Breton and 100 tons Anthracite; and 479 seal skins. Exports.—33 Malmesbury; 8210 deals, 412 d-d ends, and 8,655 planks; 2 M hops, 15 M lbs, 62,300 feet lumber; 63 M brick, 31 bxs tobacco and 4 chests and 4th-chests tea (Bona) coffee. The flour market continues unsettled. Since our last report, an advance of 30s has taken place in Montreal on Superfine, but prices could not be maintained, and have again declined to the old figures. The demand here is fair, but we have no change to note in prices, though holders might possibly accept a figure slightly below our quotations for large lots. Cornmeal, 15s 6d per barrel and oatmeal quiet and unchanged. Receipts 5,278 bbls flour, 250 bbls cornmeal; 44 bbls oatmeal; and 637 bags wheat. Exports:—300 bbls flour; 165 bbls cornmeal; and 10 bags, and 20 bbls oatmeal.

FISH.—The receipts of the week have been heavy, especially of codfish, but prices are mainly unchanged. There is a fair enquiry for codfish and haddock, and prices are firm. Mackerel are in moderate demand only at former figures. Herring and Alewives quiet and unchanged. Salmon dull and nominal.
