WE BIND

everything, from the smallest pamphlet to the largest sets of Standard and other books—making a specialty of ministers' work, magazines, reports, etc.

MEN

often lose an opportunity of preserving, at a slight cost, the publications for which they subscribe annually—which, if bound every year would form a valuable library for family use.

IN

Sabbath School Libraries there could be a good lesson taught in neatness and order if, twice a year, the damaged books were sent to us to repair.—"A stitch in time saves nine."
