SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE.

The Chilean bark Eritrea, 1000 tons, Capt. Serra, was reported at Callao Oct. 18, for Moodyville.

The barkentine Bittern has been towed into the inner harbor to have a new mainmast put in. She lost her top mainmast.

During the late storm the anchor cables of the old Norwegian bark Dominion parted and she was washed ashore in Esquimalt Harbor. Her owners intended to fit her for a whaling voyage to the Arctic seas.

It is reported that on her way up to Nanaimo in tow of the tug Lorne, the American bark Gen. Fairchild, 1350 tons, went ashore near Plumper's Pass, and was floated again at high tide.

The San Francisco Journal of Commerce says: "The ship J. B. Brown was sixteen days making the passage from Nanaimo, and arrived Monday Dec. 5, with her coal cargo shifted from hard knocks received during the storm. The shift gave her a heavy list to starboard and some of the seams opening under the strain, it took all hands at the pumps to keep the ship from taking in a dangerous amount of water. Pumping has been kept up almost constantly for several days, and the crew were busy all the way through the Gate and up the bay to anchorage in shallow water." The J. B. Brown was ashore on Gabriela Reef on her way down from Nanaimo, in tow of the tug Pioneer, and the ship was said to have had her bottom badly damaged.
