here this spring in the above business, but some of his New York creditors, accidentally hearing of his whereabouts, are to use one of the classic elegancies of language employed by our cousins, "giving him a lively racket."

— Messrs. Wey, Baker & Allan, of Toronto, wholesale haters and furriers, are in trouble. At an informal meeting of their creditors which has been held they submitted a statement, shewing a surplus of about $5,000, viz., liabilities about $25,000, and assets about $31,000. They offered about 70 cts. in the dollar on time. This offer was not accepted. Wey is now, it is understood, in New York, interviewing his creditors on the subject. Their bookkeeper absconded recently, taking, it is stated, several thousand dollars with him, and to this principally they attribute their present difficulties.

As far back as a year ago it was rumored he was in difficulties, owing to the very unsatisfactory state of trade in his line. He went home to England last spring, and, upon his return, it was reported he had effected such arrangements as would place him perfectly at ease; business, however, not improving as calculated upon, and his affairs assuming no better shape, he has been obliged to assign. His liabilities are nearly altogether in Europe, there being only three creditors here, we believe.

— The liabilities of Bryan, Ewart & Murray foot up to $122,000, of which $73,200 is indirect to their bankers. There is also said to be a claim of about $45,000 by the Ewart estate. Some of the leading wine houses in this city are creditors to a considerable amount. We notice the insolvent estate of John Blacklock of Hastings ranks as a creditor for about $1500. Some of the parties interested will have reason to re-
