

I N D E X.

W.

- Wheels*, a carriage with four wheels a mark of high distinction among the Chinese, 218.
White month, explained, 228.
Women, none allowed to live at Maimatschin, and why, 231.
Wjévidoff (Andrew), his voyage to the New-discovered Islands, 38.

Y.

- Yakoff (Jacob)*, composed the chart of Krenitzin and Levasheff's voyage, 266.
Yediger (a Tartar chief), pays tribute to the Russians, 179. See Kutchum Chan.
Yenisei, a river of Siberia, 305, & seq.
Yerken, a town of Little Bucharia, 333.
Yermac, being driven from the Caspian Sea, retires to Orel, 181, where he winters, and determines to invade Siberia, 182. To which he is instigated by Strogonoff, 183. Marches towards Siberia, and returns to Orel, 184. Sets out on a second expedition, and arrives at Tchingi, 185. Defeats Kutchum Chan at Tschuvatch, 186. Marches to Sibir, and seats himself on the throne, 187. Cedes his conquest to the Tzar of Muscovy, 189. Who sends him a reinforcement, under the command of prince Bolkoſky, 190. Is surprised by Kutchum Chan, 191. And drowned, 192. Veneration paid to his memory, 193. See Allai, Russians, Siberia, Ivan Vassilievitch II.

Yefimoff (Sava), one of Yermac's followers, an accurate historian of those times, 192.
Yugoff (Emilian), his voyage, 38. Dies on Copper Island, 39.

Z.

- Zuckert*. See Rhubarb.
Zuruchaitu. Description of, 244. Its trade very inconsiderable, 245. See Kiachta.

F I N I S.

THE LIBRARY
 OF THE
 UNIVERSITY OF
 CALIFORNIA
 BERKELEY