

priated by their own representatives, and by a government which is responsible to them for its actions.

The manner in which the money granted by the Province as a consideration for the surrender of the casual and territorial revenue was to be appropriated, was specified in the despatch of Lord Glenelg and was as follows :

|                                   |         |
|-----------------------------------|---------|
| Salary of the Lieutenant-Governor | £3,500  |
| Chief Justice.....                | 950     |
| Three Puisne Judges.....          | 1,950   |
| Attorney-General.....             | 550     |
| Solicitor-General.....            | 200     |
| Private Secretary.....            | 200     |
| Commissioner of Crown Lands...    | 1,750   |
| Establishment of Crown Lands...   | 909     |
| Provincial Secretary.....         | 1,430   |
| Auditor.....                      | 300     |
| Receiver-General.....             | 300     |
| Scotch Minister.....              | 50      |
| Emigrant Agent at St. John.....   | 100     |
| Annuity to late Surveyor-General  | 150     |
| College.....                      | 1,000   |
| Indians.....                      | 54      |
| <hr/>                             |         |
| Total, in sterling money .....    | £13,393 |

It will be observed from the above figures that the salaries were arranged on a sufficiently liberal scale, the Surveyor-General alone receiving as large a sum as the three principal heads of departments in the present government of New Brunswick are now paid. The Lieutenant-Governor received about