

SIMON FRASER, OF NEW CALEDONIA

that this great river was not the Columbia. More fortunate than some other great explorers, Fraser's name has been preserved from oblivion in that of the tempestuous stream of which he was the true discoverer.