Five Picnickers Drown Launch Hits Hidden Pile

Three Children of City Clerk Brown of Winnipeg With Two Others Upset in River—Mother Rescued, But May Die From Shock.
WINNIPEG, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Two thousand more picnickers arrived from Ontario to-day. The seven thousand who have arrived during the past forty-eight hours have disappeared completely, spreading out into the harvest fields at once.
As high as $50 has been paid for the best men. This includes the most capable fishing men, with experience in the harvest field.
No one has ever heard of Messrs. Cox or Nicholls advocating sympathy for public rights, and the citizen who expects the papers they control to do it is holding on by a rope of sand.
The World does not seek to hold Liberals, individually or collectively, responsible for this situation. It is a matter of money and investment, and if rich men in pursuit of their own ends see fit to buy up newspapers, there is no one to stop them.
But it is the duty of every Liberal to protest against such transactions. What a clarifying effect it would have on the whole political situation in this country if a few stalwart Liberals stated in the open that the Cox-Nicholls papers—The Globe and The Star—did not voice their views on public rights or public ownership.

Trolley Fuse Blows Out 3 Toronto People Hurt

Panic on Electric Car Near Lewiston Causes More or Less Serious Injury to Passengers
Three Toronto persons were severely injured and a number of others received lesser cuts and bruises in a panic on one of the cars of the Niagara Gorge Route near Lewiston Saturday night.
Edward Hardy of 602 Eastern-avenue, Toronto, received a bad scalp wound and was unconscious for some time. His wife was badly cut and bruised, and a lady friend had her arm severely injured.
Several cars were running at a fair speed thru the gorge, bound from Niagara Falls to Lewiston. All were crowded, as they carried a large number of passengers who intended to return to Toronto on the boat. At about 7 o'clock in the evening, when about a quarter of a mile from the boat landing a fuse in one of the crowded cars blew out with a loud report, accompanied by great flashes of electricity.
Thinking the car was safe, the passengers rushed madly to get out, the weaker ones being trampled under foot. Others, falling from the car, landed on the rough gravel roadbed. Mr. and Mrs. Hardy and the young woman were removed to the hotel. Another passenger, Mrs. Jacob E. Helwig of Tonawanda attended them.

Political Garden Party

A. E. Kemp, M.P. to Entertain His Friends in Toronto, East.
Invitations are being issued by A. E. Kemp, M.P., to his political friends in East Toronto for a garden party, to be held at Castle Frank on Saturday, August 12.
Mr. Kemp had the affair in contemplation a year ago, but circumstances prevented its realization then.
The event will lose nothing by the delay, and the beautiful grounds in Rosedale will be the scene of unusual gaiety and charm.

Incendiarism Suspected

Brookville, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—The barn of Benjamin Livingstone, a farmer residing near here, was destroyed by fire on Saturday night. The contents, including much valuable machinery, incendiary is suspected. Small insurance.

Accused Marries Again

Brookville, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Two months ago Mrs. Margaret Allen and Wm. O'Connor of Leamington were charged jointly with poisoning the former's husband, Harry Allen. After an inquest and preliminary hearing, the accused were discharged.
The woman has since been stopping with the Edgley family in Leamington. It is reported that she has married Fred Edgley, a son. The neighborhood did not take kindly to the affair, and the marriage festivities were interrupted by an old-time charivari.

Killed by Auto

Montreal, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—An Antoine Toubant, residing at 274 Poupard-street, was run over and killed last night by an automobile run by Germain, a tourist from the States, named Carl and Delbert, both of whom were arrested. The machine was going thirty miles an hour.

Falls Under Train

London, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—With a letter in his pocket from a woman, William Fry, aged 20, was killed in the Grand Trunk train on Saturday evening.
He had been working in Port Huron. While stealing a ride on the blind baggage he fell off the platform, and the train passed over him. There was a companion with him on the platform, and a rumor of foul play is being circulated. The man who was with Fry cannot be located. Fry died in the hospital a few hours later.
An inquest will be held to-morrow.

Drunk Falls Into Canal

Brookville, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—A drunken man, George Fure, under the influence of liquor, fell into the Rideau, near Foster's lock, and was drowned.

The Electrical Ring and the Liberal Press

It is a discouraging fact that the great Cox-Nicholls-Pellatt-Soper electric ring is in the politics of Ontario to-day. That ring controls The Globe and The Star newspapers in Toronto, and they claim to be the recognized organs of the Liberals of this province.
These papers profess sympathy with the cheap municipal power campaign, but give signs every day of deliberately cutting the throat of that proposition.
No one has ever heard of Messrs. Cox or Nicholls advocating sympathy for public rights, and the citizen who expects the papers they control to do it is holding on by a rope of sand.
The World does not seek to hold Liberals, individually or collectively, responsible for this situation. It is a matter of money and investment, and if rich men in pursuit of their own ends see fit to buy up newspapers, there is no one to stop them.
But it is the duty of every Liberal to protest against such transactions. What a clarifying effect it would have on the whole political situation in this country if a few stalwart Liberals stated in the open that the Cox-Nicholls papers—The Globe and The Star—did not voice their views on public rights or public ownership.

Creates Scene in Church Wants to See Roosevelt

Woman With Grievance Roughly Handled by Secret Service Men at Oyster Bay.
Oyster Bay, Aug. 12.—Miss A. L. Esau, who is summering at Oyster Bay for the purpose of interviewing the president or Mrs. Roosevelt on what she declares is "a matter of life and death," created a scene during the service in Christ's Episcopal Church to-day. Miss Esau, or Miss Esau, as her name is supposed to be, has attended every church service the president has since his arrival here in July. She has climbed Sagamore Hill on several times only to be turned away by the secret service men.
She presented herself early at the church to-day, and took a seat directly behind the pew usually occupied by the Roosevelt family. When Usher James Duffy requested her to relinquish this seat, she refused. Duffy removed her to the rear of the church, and Miss Esau says she tore her gown in so doing. For this act she was applied for a warrant for Duffy, but was refused.
In the rear of the church, Miss Esau refused to sit down. A secret service agent stood beside her, and during the service she made no less than a dozen attempts to get up and turn away. The president was accompanied by his secret service men surrounded Miss Esau, but she shouted, "Mr. President, won't you speak to me a moment?"
The president turned his head as he passed, but did not pause. Miss Esau says her watchman was broken in this scrimmage with the secret service men, and her gown fell to the floor.
The president was accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt and Quentin and Miss Esau. She stated to acquaintances that she has made while here that she was to have been married to the White House at the time Miss Alice Roosevelt became Mrs. Longworth. Miss Esau has stated to acquaintances that she has married a high government official, and that it is this wrong she seeks to redress. When the president's carriage had departed, Miss Esau was allowed to go. It was then she sought the president's residence, and she will stay in Oyster Bay until she accomplishes her purpose.

Pardonable Pride in Britain

FRENCH CANADIANS IMPERIALISTS
Senator L. O. David Replies to Dr. Goldwin Smith and Says Compatriots Would Even Assist in British Wars

Montreal, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Another interview in the person of Hon. L. O. David, replies to Goldwin Smith. "I am convinced," the senator says, "that there is a vote taken that would found that the French-Canadians of the Province of Quebec would overwhelmingly pronounce themselves in favor of the maintenance of the BRITISH CONNECTION. I do not think they would even prefer to live under the protectorate of France, their motherland."
"And I am also convinced that, once the matter was reasonably explained to them, they would not object to the sending of contingents to assist the BRITISH TROOPS IN IMPERIAL WARS."
"First, and foremost, however, as I said before, my compatriots believe in building up Canada. And in accomplishing this undertaking they feel that they are doing a truly imperial work."
"It is absurd to think that the presence of a strong French Canadian nationality in Canada prevents Canadians from thinking imperially. The French-Canadians are imperialists, in that they form part of an empire in which they evince a pardonable pride. They think imperially, because they prefer to live and prosper under the Union Jack. They do their own part in the task of empire-building in their own way."

AN ENGLISH CARTOONIST'S FIRST IMPRESSIONS OF CANADA.

VERY MUCH "IN OUR MIDST."
A stranger sees us as we do not, but, perhaps, as we should.
Canada is host to thousands of strangers, in the sense that they are not natives. Our newcomers for the most part are from Great Britain and Ireland—things in Canada are not like they are at home. The first impressions of Canada got by our kin from across the sea are interesting to us and important to them.
The English newspaperman has seen us, studied us from the railway window and written up for also have his brethren, the artisan and the farm laborer, told us what they think of us. But the point of view of the English cartoonist is new to Canadians, and especially to Torontonians.
It is this new point of view that The Toronto World presents this morning in the first of a series of cartoons drawn exclusively for this paper by Will Frost, formerly of Sheffield, England, but for a time of Toronto. Mr. Frost's work reminds us of Tom Browne, another English cartoonist, who is drawing for The Chicago Tribune, while the inimitable McCutcheon is in Egypt.
Mr. Frost for years was connected with The Liverpool Post, The Sheffield Telegraph, The Sheffield News and other leading publications in Great Britain, and is eminently qualified to say in pen and ink sketches what impresses one on arriving in Canada.
This morning we have our Englishman at the corner of King and Yonge-streets, and his attitude sufficiently exemplifies the fact that he is a lively chap.
The present series of pictorial impressions will run for seven consecutive days, and we say it without hesitation that no more finished caricatures have been the light of publicity in Toronto since cartoons were first printed.
With these few commendatory words we present Will Frost to the readers of The Toronto World.

Premier's Visit to West May Mean Early Appeal

Good Reason to Assume That Next Session Will Be the Last and That Government Will Rely on the West to Return Them to Power.
Ottawa, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Sir Wilfrid Laurier's trip to the western coast, the probability that he will address the Manufacturers' Association convention in Winnipeg, and the news that the Hon. A. B. Aylesworth will be there also, cause political prophets to surmise that everything is being made ready for an appeal to the country within a few months after the autumn session of parliament.
A man in the councils of the party told your representative to-night that the next session of parliament would be the last one for the present. His idea is that the tariff will be revised in the interest of the most popular and with a view to catching the popular fancy. Sir Wilfrid Laurier will put through legislation with the intention of clarifying his political career, and on the wave of unexcelled prosperity appeal to the country.
Said your informant: "At the next session of parliament greater representation will be given to the west. A measure of tariff reform will be meted out to meet the wishes of the western farmers, and everything prepared for going to the country."

Russian Party of Peace Advises Monarchical Rule

St. Petersburg, Aug. 12.—A manifesto signed by Count Heyden, Prince Nicholas L'Vov and Michael Skakovich, and issued on behalf of the "party of pacific regeneration," says:
"The members of the late parliament who have held aloof from the aims of the party of pacific regeneration have decided to unite on the basis of a common program, their main object being the creation of a constitutional monarchical state."
The regeneration of Russia is dependent upon a strong monarchical power, popular representation and freedom on the rights and equality of all before the law. All nationalities must enjoy equal political rights and citizenship of the highest power and must form a strong constitutional government, which without arbitrariness, but unswervingly destroying the old order of things, must carry into effect the liberties proclaimed by the emperor's manifesto of October 30, 1905.
Regarding the agrarian question, the party considers it necessary and will not hesitate to demand compulsory expropriation of any amount of private property necessary to create permanent peasant holdings.
"This parliamentary group styles itself the party of regeneration. It is the enemy of violence and arbitrariness wherever they may emanate. Only thru the law can the people's needs be satisfied."

Assaulted, She May Die Lay Out in Road All Night

Owen Sound, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—A brutal assault, which may result in the death of the young woman victim, was committed last night on the outskirts of this city.
At 9 o'clock this morning Miss Louisa Jones, aged 21, was found lying unconscious on the roadway. She was taken to the hospital, but up to midnight had not regained her senses. Her condition is declared to be critical.
Miss Jones was missing from home all night. Her father, Isaac Jones, is a market gardener. She was in the city on Saturday night and was probably attacked while on her way home. Whether she was carried or lured past her destination is yet to be learned.
There is the mark of a blow upon her head, and her throat shows signs of her having been brutally choked.
She had evidently lain all night on the road, which runs between Derby and the city.
The only clue to the perpetrator is an umbrella which was picked up on the road near where the girl was found. The police expect to be able to gain information from the young woman in the morning, which will enable them to find her assailant.
The city is greatly excited over the occurrence.

FRENCH POWER DECLINING ROSSERIN SOUNDS WARNING

Says in Quarter Century Influence of Race Will Have Almost Disappeared.

Montreal, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Le Nationaliste, in a carefully-worked-out article, to-day, declares that in a quarter of a century the French-Canadian race will be as dead politically in the Dominion as Methusalem's grandfather.
Mr. Rosselin's paper says that since 1901 530,000 immigrants have reached this country, 573,000 of whom could not speak a word of French. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the writer alleges, claims that 2,300,000 people will have settled in Canada from 1901 to 1921, which will mean that seventy-eight per cent of the population will be given to the noise of commons, and instead of there being sixty-five French-Canadians out of 114, there will be sixty-five out of 100.
If this continues, says Le Nationaliste, there will be 10,000,000 people in the west in 1921, and while the French representation will remain in the Dominion the English will have six or seven hundred.
"If, in 1921," adds the writer, "Canada having a population of 25,000,000 at least, they decide to cut down the number of members in order to avoid a too numerous parliament, the Quebec representation will be reduced to twenty or thirty out of a house of 400 members. This, therefore, is where our policy of compromise will lead us in a quarter of a century from now."
On the whole the organ of the Quebec Nationalists and its attitude sufficiently exemplifies the fact that he is a lively chap.
The present series of pictorial impressions will run for seven consecutive days, and we say it without hesitation that no more finished caricatures have been the light of publicity in Toronto since cartoons were first printed.
With these few commendatory words we present Will Frost to the readers of The Toronto World.

Powers That Be in Russia Think They Have Wild Hand

New Movement Under Way By Which It Is Hoped to Regain Public Confidence.

London, Aug. 12.—(N. Y. Sun Cable.)—The powers that be in Russia really believe that they have the situation securely in hand, and that the danger of a serious revolutionary movement has passed. This extraordinary optimism seems almost incredible to impartial observers who are watching the country, but there can be no doubt of its existence. It is possible indeed to give some outline of the government's future program, which has been prepared with more intelligence and comprehensiveness than the haphazard policy of lack of policy of the past two years.
It is expected that Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovitch will soon replace Gen. Trepot as governor of St. Petersburg and that his administration will be strong but liberal. An attempt will be made to pacify the masses by granting what is virtually a constitution, including, of course, a new duma. The land question will be dealt with by Mr. Brodsky's compulsory purchase on liberal terms, more liberal, in fact, than the provisions of the late constitution act in Ireland. These important concessions will be promulgated in a royal decree to be issued on Aug. 13. The Sun's informant is uncertain whether the date is the old or new style.
World Restore Confidence.
It is the urgent desire of the present regime to re-establish public confidence abroad in the solidity of the existing government. To this end there is now taking place a concerted return movement among the prominent Russians who have been seeking refuge abroad for several months past. Grand Duke Vladimir and the other

500 SQUARE MILES TIED UP

Old Concession of Timber Lands From Province of Quebec.

Montreal, Aug. 12.—(Special.)—Olivier Asselin, who is spending his holidays at the St. Lawrence, sends an important rumor to the city. About 37 years ago, he says, the late Lieut.-Gov. Robitaille, for the sum of $3000, received a concession from the province to the extent of 500 square miles of prime forest, situated in the County of Bonaventure.
The concession was made to John Kelly, M. P. for Bonaventure, who presented a bill at the next session of the legislature, depriving the province of its timber rights in this vast extent of valuable property. It is stated that these heirs have already received $100,000 for the property, and that they ask $300,000. The taxes paid on this splendid concession amounted to two dollars yearly per square mile up to 1887, and three dollars from that date.
